CALCUTTA, the 24th July 1888.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 20TH OF JULY 1888.

AT the close of the previous week a small cyclonic storm which had formed in the northern half of the Bay, and which had existed off the South Orissa coast for two or three days, was passing inland, and was advancing in a west-north-westerly direction towards the eastern districts of the Central Provinces and into the south of Chutia Nagpur. The centre of the small storm had crossed the coast on the afternoon of the 13th, and by the morning of the 14th the centre was apparently well to the west of Cuttack During the following 24 hours the depression advanced rapidly into Bundelkund, and was much more feeble, and on this day the cyclonic circulation of winds had become decidedly irregular. With the advance of the storm inland a strong monsoon current set in over the coasts of Bengal and Orissa, and good general rain was received, the rainfall being decidedly heavy in many instances.

On the 15th a steady south-easterly and easterly monsoon current was reported over the whole province, but on the 16th the westerly winds blowing across Central India decidedly increased in force, and westerly and south-westerly winds partly drove back the south-easterly current previously obtaining, causing a considerable amount of interaction in the west of the province, and in addition a slight circulation of winds was set up over Central Behar, which gave rise to general heavy rainfall in all the western districts On the 17th conditions were unchanged, but on the 18th they became distinctly disturbed over the west of the province, and a feeble low-pressure area was developed which stretched from the north-west angle of the Bay through West Bengal into Chutia Nagpur and Behar. To the west of this area northerly winds obtained, and to the east southerly and south-easterly winds, showing a distinct tendency to cyclonic circulation. These conditions still further developed during this day, and on the morning of the 19th a distinct barometric depression had formed over part of South-West Bengal and the head of the Bay, the centre of the depression being close to the Sunderbuns and to the south-east of Saugor Island. The small storm was accompanied by a very distinct cyclonic circulation of winds, but the wind force was not large at the coast stations though probably over the greater part of the northern half of the Bay equally weather and strong winds obtained. During the afternoon of the 18th the small storm advanced over the land in a north-westerly direction, the centre passing close to Saugor Island between 2 and 4 P.M., and on the morning of the 19th the centre was near Midnapore and slightly to the west of it. With the inland advance of the storm, winds strengthened largely at the head of the Bay, and a particularly strong monsoon current commenced to blow at the coast stations, bringing up decidedly heavy rain to the south-western and western districts.

The general meteorological conditions over the province during the week have therefore been favourable for general rainfall, particularly in the western and south-western districts, though not to the same extent in the eastern and south-eastern districts; and, generally speaking, the following districts have received heavy general rain, viz., Chutia Nagpur, Orissa, Behar, and North Bengal, while rainfall, though general, has not been very heavy in East and parts of South-West Bengal.

Pressure.—The changes of pressure during the week have not been of much importance except in those cases where they have been brought about by the two barometric depressions alluded to previously Pressure has generally been below the normal for the period, the defects being largest in the south-western districts, where Calcutta and Burdwan show a defect of 0·046 inch, and False Point one of 0·043 inch. On the other hand, the defects in the south-east and north of the province only amount to a few thousandths of an inch. Generally over the whole province of Bengal pressure has been below the normal by 0·022 inch. In Assam the mean pressure has been in excess of the normal by 0·007 inch.

Temperature.—Owing to the general and heavy rainfall over the greater part of the province the mean temperature has generally been below the normal. In East and South-West Bengal, where the falls have not been so heavy as in other districts, temperature has been in excess of the normal by about 1°, but in North Bengal, North and South Behar and Chutia Nagpur, temperature has been in defect by amounts varying up to 1°, and in Orissa temperature has been exactly normal. Over the whole province, therefore, the general temperature has almost equalled the normal. In Assam temperature has been in defect by 0·6°.

Rainfall.—The heaviest falls have occurred in Chutia Nagpur, the stations in which have averaged 5·15 inches during the week. In Orissa an average fall of 4·10 inches is reported, while in North Bengal and North and South Behar the falls have averaged between three and four inches, and in South-West and East Bengal the falls have averaged between one and two inches. In the last two districts the falls have been in defect by more than fifty per cent. of the normal, but in all other districts very considerable excess falls are registered.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the week ending Friday, the 20th of July 1888 :—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to recensure them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans could not be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorised form of age classification.

THE Governor-General in Council directs the publication of the following order issued by Her Majesty the Queen in Council, respecting the measurement of the tonnage of vessels of the Kingdom of the Netherlands.

AT THE COURT AT WINDSOR.

The 3rd day of May 1888.

PRESENT:

The Queen's Most Excellent Majesty in Council.

WHEREAS by the Merchant Shipping Act Amendment Act, 1862, it is enacted that whenever it is made to appear to Her Majesty that the Rules concerning the measurement of tonnage of merchant ships for the time being in force under the principal Act have been adopted by the Government of any foreign country, and are in force in that country, it shall be lawful for Her Majesty by Order in Council to direct that the ships of such foreign country shall be deemed to be of the tonnage denoted in their Certificates of Registry or other national papers, and thereupon it shall no longer be necessary for such ships to be re-measured in any port or place in Her Majesty's Dominions, but such ships shall be deemed to be of the tonnage denoted in their Certificates of Registry or other papers in the same manner, to the same extent, and for the same purposes, in, to, and for which tonnage denoted in the Certificates of Registry of British ships is to be deemed the tonnage of such ships:

And whereas by the Merchant Shipping Act, 1876, it is enacted that "where Her Majesty has power under the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, or any Act passed or hereafter to be passed amending the same, to make an Order in Council, it shall be lawful for Her Majesty from time to time to make such Order in Council, and by Order in Council to revoke, alter, or add to any order so made:"

And whereas it was made to appear to Her Majesty that the Rules concerning the measurement of tonnage of merchant ships in force under the Merchant Shipping Act, 1854, had been adopted by the Government of His Majesty the King of the Netherlands, with the exception of a difference in the mode in certain steamers of estimating the allowance for engine-room, and such rules were in force in that country, and came into operation on the 1st day of January 1876:

And whereas by Order in Council, dated 26th day of October 1875, Her Majesty was pleased to direct as follows :—

1. As regards sailing-ships, that merchant sailing-ships of the said Kingdom of the Netherlands, the measurement whereof should, after the said 1st day of January 1876, have been ascertained and denoted in the registers and other national papers of such sailing-ships, testified by the date thereof, should be deemed to be of the tonnage denoted in such registers and other national papers in the same manner, and to the same extent, and for the same purpose, in, to, and for which the tonnage denoted in the Certificate of Registry of British sailing-ships is deemed to be the tonnage of such ships :
2. As regards steam-ships, that merchant ships belonging to the said Kingdom of the Netherlands, which are propelled by steam or any other power requiring engine-room, the measurement whereof should, after the said 1st day of January 1876, have been ascertained and denoted in the registers and other national papers of such steam-ships, testified by the dates thereof, should be deemed to be of the tonnage denoted on such registers or other national papers in the same manner, and to the same extent, and for the same purpose, in, to, and for which the tonnage denoted in the Certificate of Registry of British ships is deemed to be the tonnage of such ships. Provided, nevertheless, that should the owner or master of any such Dutch steam-ship desire the deduction for engine-room in his ship to be estimated under the rules for engine-room measurement and deduction applicable to British ships instead of under the Dutch rule, the engine-room should be measured and the deduction calculated according to the British rules :

And whereas it has been made to appear to Her Majesty that a new Royal Ordinance, which came into operation on the 6th day of January 1888, stipulates that the owners of Dutch steam-ships may have the net tonnage of their vessels calculated according to British as well as according to Dutch rules, and shall have issued to them a separate certificate to be used in Foreign countries showing the net tonnage calculated according to British rules :

And whereas it has been made to appear desirable to Her Majesty that the provisions of the said recited Order in Council of the 26th day of October 1875 should be revoked, and a new Order in Council made and substituted in lieu thereof :

Now, THEREFORE, Her Majesty, in virtue of the powers vested in Her by the said recited Acts, and by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, is pleased to direct that the said recited Order of the 26th day of October 1875, shall be and the same is hereby revoked, and in lieu thereof, and in substitution therefor, Her Majesty is hereby pleased, by and with the advice of Her Privy Council, to direct as follows :—

2. As regards steam-ships, that merchant ships belonging to the said Kingdom of the Netherlands, which are propelled by steam or any other power requiring engine-room, the measurement whereof shall, after the said 1st day of January 1876, have been ascertained and denoted in the registers and other national papers of such steam-ships, testified by the dates thereof, shall be deemed to be of the tonnage denoted on such registers or other national papers in the same manner, and to the same extent, and for the same purpose, in, to, and for which the tonnage denoted in the Certificate of Registry of British ships is deemed to be the tonnage of such ships. Provided, nevertheless, that if the owner or master of any such Dutch steam-ship desires the deduction for engine-room in his ship to be estimated under the rules for engine-room measurement and deduction applicable to British ships instead of under the Dutch rule, the engine-room shall be measured and the deduction calculated according to the British rules, and that in the event of any such steam-ship possessing a certificate of tonnage or other national paper issued as aforesaid on or after the 6th day of January 1888, denoting the net registered tonnage of such ship under the British rules, the ship shall be deemed to be of the tonnage so denoted thereon.

THE attention of the High Court has been drawn to the inconvenience which has been caused by members of the Subordinate Railway staff at a station being summoned to give evidence in a Civil Court without sufficient time to the Traffic Manager to provide substitutes during their absence. I am accordingly directed to state for your guidance, and for the guidance of the Civil Courts subordinate to you, that in all cases in which any one or more of the subordinate Railway staff at a station are summoned to give evidence before a Civil Court, ample notice should be given beforehand to the Traffic Manager to enable him to make arrangements for conducting the work of the men summoned during their absence, and such persons, when summoned as witnesses, should be examined and discharged with the least possible delay.

The 30th July 1888.

THE subjoined accounts and reports of the Road Cess Committees of the districts of Chittagong, Noakholly, Tipperah, and Chittagong Hill Tracts for the half-year ending 31st March 1887, together with the remarks thereon of the Commissioner of the Chittagong Division, are published for general information.

W. B. BESTIC,

Under-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, P. W. Dept.

No. 159, dated Chittagong, the 19th May 1887.

From—A. MANSON, Esq., Chairman of the District Board, Chittagong,
To—The Commissioner of the Chittagong Division.

I HAVE the honour to submit the report on the working of the District Road Fund Committee for the six months ending with 31st March 1887. The Local Self-Government Act having been introduced into this district from 1st April 1887, the Road Cess Committee have ceased to exist from that date.

I as Collector was ex-officio Chairman during the time, and Mr. Douglas, an ex-officio member, was the Vice-Chairman. The Committee consisted of 21 members, and some of them took interest in the work.

There was a Branch Committee at Cox's Bazar, who were entrusted with the management of village roads of that part of the district.

Planting trees.—No new plants have been planted during the period; the old plants have been maintained.

The following will show the nature of the work done on each road during the year:—

No. 1, Robertgunge road, II class.—Surface repairs and jungle cutting have been executed, and an iron bridge has been substituted for the old wooden bridge No. 3. The road is fit for carts.

No. 2, Mahajan's Hát road.—It is a II class road. It has received surface repairs in the 1st, 2nd, and 3rd miles. The 4th and 5th miles are being repaired. The bridge No. 1 is in fair order. The inspection bungalow at Zorargunge is also being repaired.

No. 3, Captain Leake's road.—A III class road, 7 miles in length. It commences from 2nd mile of the Mahajan's Hât road and ends at Sopur's Ghât on the Feni river, where it meets a road in Chagalnaya thana. It is doubtful whether Mr. Leake was a Captain: he was a well-known officer in the Company's days. Surface repairs have nearly been completed. An iron bridle-path bridge has been put over gap No. 2. Mat bridges over other gaps have also been put up.

No. 4, Sundeep Ferry Ghât road—It is a III class road, 3 miles in length. It commences from north of Kumira station in the 16th mile of the Dacca Trunk road, and ends at Sundeep Ferry Ghât. It has recently been brought on the list. Surface repairs are being done. Two iron bridges will be put up on arrival of iron from England.

No. 5, Moishkhali Strand road.—A II class road, 4½ miles in length from municipal boundary near Mr. Deterum's godown to the end of Halishohor road. The work, which has been entrusted to Abdul Maloom, a member of the late Road Cess Committee, will be soon taken in hand. It is, however, in fair order.

No. 6, Moishkhali Towing Path.—It is a II class road and 4 miles in length. Surface repairs have been executed to this road, and the bridges are in fair order.

No. 16, Ramghur road, III section.—It is a II class road and 24 miles in length. It commences from Dhroong nullah near Futtickcherry police-station and terminates at Feni river at Ramghur. Slight surface repair has been done to this road. Mat bridges have been put over gaps north of Kajee's Hât. The crest of the road in most places is below highest flood level, and the road becomes impassable during high flood of Halda. The two inspection bungalows—one at Kajee's Hât and the other at Naran's Hât—have received petty repairs. The slopes at crossings of nullahs have been maintained. Jungle clearing has been done in the 34th to 37th miles. Two dilapidated timber bridges will be replaced by Westwood and Bailey's trough plates on arrival from England.

About five miles of road have been constructed in places between Banigram and Pinsury. Surface repairs to the above portion of the road have been commenced, and jungle clearing has been done between Banigram and Jaldi outpost.

No. 43, Arrakan road, III Section.—From Matamohori at Sekalghat in Chokoria to Salidhong in Arrakan. It is a III class road and 37 miles in length, the last few miles are in the Hill Tracts and not in this district. The road has been opened up to Garjonia. Surface of the road from Matamohori on the 53rd mile to the 76th mile has been repaired at a cost of Rs. 8 per mile, and jungle clearing, 60 feet in width, has been executed. From Matamohori to Dulahazara all the gaps have been bridged with bamboo mats, 10 feet wide, making the road fit for carts, with the exception of Fashiakhalli and Dulahazara Surrah and two other small shallow gaps, the approaches of which have been eased to enable the carts to pass freely. One hundred and fifty running feet of foot bridges of logs of trees have been put over three gaps. Four feet wide mat bridges have been put over four gaps with soft bed. Two inspection bungalows on this road, one at Garjonia and the other at Edgar, have also been thoroughly repaired. This road is used chiefly by the coolies going to Arrakan. It passes through thick jungles infested with wild beasts.

No. 44. Ramoo Branch road, I Section.—From Dulahazara on the 60th mile of the Arrakan road to Ramoo. It is a III class road and 12 miles in length. It has been repaired with about four lakhs of cubic feet of earthwork in places, 2½ lakhs of cubic feet of earthwork in hills, and one lakh in Dhaha (marshy places). Jungles of the road have been cleared, and bamboo mat bridges have been put over almost all the gaps. The road has been fully opened out in this year and made fit for riding, and carts have been over it in the cold season. Slopes of big streams which have no bridges over them have been eased at easy gradient. About half a mile of new road has been made this year through a marshy plot of ground, which will be turfed during rains. The two inspection bungalows at Dulahazara and at Edgong have been repaired. Three feet wide trough plate bridges were put over some of the gaps last year. If Rs. 10,000 be spent in bridging this road, there will be a great saving in its maintenance, and the road will be opened for cart traffic all the year round. It is the principal thoroughfare for Cox's Bazar sub-division, and the Branch Committee have laid out a very useful new line from Idgaon on this road to Cox's Bazar itself.

No. 45, Ramoo Branch road, II section.—It is a III class road, 26 miles in length from Ramoo to Ukhyaghat. There is no regular road in this line, but only a track for dâk runners and foot traffic. Jungles of the line have been cleared. Sankoes have been placed over streams and nullahs, and their slopes have been dressed. One inspection bungalow at Rumkahat has received necessary repairs. A straight and better road can be made from the 86th mile at Daria Diggy to Ukhia outpost. One timber bridge, 120 feet long and 4 feet wide, is being constructed on the 80th mile. This road requires special attention. There is no good road for people to travel, and the foot track becomes very difficult for travelling during the rains. If a cart road is made, it will benefit the people much, as the people of Palong will be able to bring their things for sale to Ramoo during the rains, as boats do not go to Rumkahat during the rains owing to danger of the sea.

No. 46, Meetasurah road.—It runs from 77th mile of the Ramoo Branch road at Meetasurrah to a tidal creek a mile off to the west. It is a II class road, and about 1¼ miles in length. This road has been repaired with 3 inches of earthwork on its surface, and its jungle has been cleard.

No. 47, Cox's Bazar road.—From Cox's Bazar to Ramoo, 9 miles in length. It is a II class road. First mile of the road is within the Cox's Bazar Municipality, and the remaining 8 miles are under the Committee. It has been repaired with about 5 lakhs cubic feet of earthwork, which will be turfed during the rains where necessary. The two inspection bungalows, one at Cox's Bazar and the other at Ramoo, have also been repaired.

No. 48, Garjonia Dâk line.—From Ramoo to Garjonia. It is a III class road and 8 miles in length The sankoes on this line of road have been replaced by 4 feet wide mat bridges. Slopes of the gaps have also been cased and jungle cleared. A foot-bridge of log of trees 60 feet long has been put over Ukhiaghora. The surface of the road wants repairs. There are three ferry ghâts on the crossings of Bagkhali hât. Small dugouts have been kept in the two, but none in the third.

No 49, Teeknaf road.—It is a III class road running from Nhilla to Teeknaf, a distance of 12 miles. There is no regular road, but it is a mere track. Foot-bridges over all the hill streams and tidal creeks, about 50 in number, have been put up and maintained, and jungle from the line have been cleared. The two inspection bungalows, one at Nhilla and the other at Teeknaf, have received petty repairs. A four-feet wide road should at least be made. A tank is being excavated at the Teeknaf sub-tehsil cutcherry from khas mehal funds.

District Engineer's office bungalow and out-houses are being repaired.

Road Cess Office building.—The work of the building was recommenced in the beginning of February last. The superstructure of the whole building has nearly been completed up to the spring level. Iron and woodwork have been collected at site. The work is at a standstill for want of bricks which the contractor is preparing.

Purangor road.—It is a village road. It commences from the junction of the 22nd mile, Arrakan road near Dohazari, and ends at the forest toll-station at Sunghoo, passing through several villages and hills. The road has been nearly finished, and bamboo foot-bridges put over gaps and hill streams.

One work-shed has been kept in the head-quarters for fitting up iron bridges, the materials of which are procured from Europe. After the bridges are fitted up here by local labour under supervision of two fitters, who have received their training in the Calcutta Government Workshop they are despatched and fixed in their respective sites.

Roads and canals are very expensive to be maintained in this district; the former are so on account of the numerous hill streams that are crossed by them, and the latter are nearly all doubly tidal, necessitating silt clearance at least once in every three years.

The wooden bridges that exist on the district roads are being replaced with iron. In course of time there will be less expenditure in maintenance of bridges, as the wooden structures will disappear.

It will be a great improvement if some of the ugly bends of navigable canals are straightened. The Halda, for example, winds its course in such a manner that a straight cut of, say, 50 feet in places, will do away with two miles of circuitous navigation. The bends retard the flow of flood water and cause mischief to standing crops and homesteads by overflowing the country.

The canals in the district are more used for the transport of merchandise than the roads, as the cost of carriage by water is cheaper than that by road.

KAILAS CHANDRA DAS,
Vice-Chairman.

No. 163DB—VI—3, dated Noakholly, the 27th June 1887.

From—ANUNDORAM BOROOAH, Esq., Chairman, District Board, Noakholly,
To—The Commissioner of the Chittagong Division.

I HAVE the honour to submit herewith the accounts of the District Road Cess Committee of Noakholly for the half-year ending 31st March 1887, together with the following report.

2. There were during the half-year six ordinary meetings of the District Committee: the average attendance was 6·83, total number of members being 15.

3. There were five meetings of the Branch Committee at Fenny: the average attendance was 5·6, the total number of members being 9.

4. Original works.—A sum of Rs 3,387-9-10 was spent in original works, which consisted chiefly of constructing bridges on the existing roads and paying compensation of land acquired for the Parashuram, Chagalnyah and other roads. The abutments of two bridges on Sundeep road, three on Hatyah road, one on Panchgassia road, one on Begumgunge road, and one on Ramgunge road, have been completed.

5. Repairs.—Most of the unmetalled roads under the charge of the District Road Cess Committee were repaired during the half-year at a cost of Rs. 8,509-7-3. The damages done to the roads by the heavy rainfall of last year have been repaired. There were also petty repairs to the roads within the municipality. The existing roads and bridges under the Committee have been maintained generally in a good condition.

6. Inspection Bungalows.—The three inspection bungalows, the construction of which was sanctioned in 1885, were completed.

7. Village roads.—A sum of Rs. 360 was spent in the Sudder sub-division for the construction of village roads, on the recommendation of a sub-committee appointed to allott sums for the village roads. In the Fenny sub-division a sum of Rs. 1,079-12 was spent on the construction of village roads.

8. Planting trees.—The roadside trees were generally thriving. More work will be done this year.

9. Establishment.—There was a change in the Vice-Chairmanship during the half-year, Baboo Bhairub Chandra Das having been appointed Vice-Chairman in place of Baboo Ram Lal Sen, whose term of appointment has expired.

This amount was paid for publication of a notice in the Calcutta Gazette which is the charge under head Stationery and Printing, but was shewn in the monthly return under head Public Works Establishment.

SATIS CHUNDER BOSE,
For Vice-Chairman.

No. 63 D.B, dated Comillah, the 27th May 1887.

From—J. C. PRICE, Esq., Chairman, District Board, Tipperah,
To—The Commissioner of the Chittagong Division.

I HAVE the honour to submit a brief report on the work of the District Road Committee of this district for the half-year beginning with 1st October 1886 and ending with 31st March 1887, as required by the circular of the Bengal Government in the Municipal Department No. 6 of the 29th March 1887.

2. The budget estimates sanctioned for the year 1886-87 contemplated an expenditure of Rs. 1,25,584, of which Rs. 29,126-11-11 were spent during the half-year under report. The detailed expenditure under different headings is shewn below :—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Refund	23	0	6
Original Works	4,770	0	9
Repairs	7,331	8	0
Cost of Establishment and contingencies of the Cess Office	2,976	0	8
Ditto of Committee Office	876	6	11
Ditto for Office of Accounts and Control ...	681	5	0
Stationery and Printing	79	2	0
Public Works Establishment	5,956	13	7
Tools and Plant	102	9	6
Toll and Ferry	315	12	9
The cost of maintaining village roads and khals by the four Branch Committees	4,656	5	3
Total ...	27,799	0	11
Advance ...	1,327	11	0
Grand Total ...	29,126	11	11

3. All the district and village roads are kept in good order. The excessive rainfall and unusual floods of the last year have caused great damage to some of our district roads. Especially the Brahmunbariah, Agortollah, and Chandpur roads have suffered much ; in several places these roads were about a foot under water. Supplementary estimates amounting to Rs. 5,000 for raising these three roads were submitted by the District Engineer, but the Committee resolved "that the repairs as estimated originally should be executed on the Brahmunbariah, Agortollah, and Chandpur roads before additional works on them be undertaken."

4. Three-fourths of the repair works provided in the estimate, such as surface repairs, jungle-cutting, bridge repairs, &c, were completed in February and March last; but as the engineering staff was at that time in the interior engaged in measuring works, no bills could be submitted for payment before 31st March last.

5. Bridging Mudafergunge to Hajigunge road.—The contractor, Baboo Revati Mohan Das, has collected materials for this big work ; but owing to the want of proper supervision on the part of the contractor, progress is very slow. Of 25 bridges he could not raise the foundation of more than three bridges during the two months of January and February.

6. Planting trees.—The planting of trees is going on as usual ; but on account of excessive heat, the transplantation of young plants has now been stopped, and postponed to a more suitable season.

7. The steam communication between Daudkandi and Goalundo, Narsingunge, and Dacca is improving. The Committee has now to pay only Rs. 51 towards the cost of a boat with equipment daily plying with passengers between Daudkandi and Shatnal station.

No. 34R, dated Rangamatti, the 14th November 1887.

From—L. R. FORBES, Esq., Offg. Deputy Commissioner, Chittagong Hill Tracts,
To—The Commissioner of the Chittagong Division.

WITH reference to your letter No. 179T—R,C, dated the 15th October 1887, I have the honour to submit herewith in duplicate the half-yearly accounts of the Road Fund Department of this district, for the half-year from 1st October 1886 to 31st March 1887, and to state that the work of maintaining all the roads, by jungle clearing to a width of 8 feet and throwing up temporary bridges, was disposed of by contract; and as far as I have been given to understand, the work was executed satisfactorily.

2. The survey of the Ruma and Rangamatti road was resumed by the Supervisor in charge of the work in the middle of December 1886. He commenced from Polityc, and finished nearly 10 miles within the half-year under report.

The earth-work of the first section, i.e., from Ruma to Polityc, was also taken in hand, and completed up to 6 miles with the exception of short distances at places where kodalies failed on account of the soil being very hard.

3. All the imported coolies that could be conveniently spared from the transport of provision were employed for the execution of earth-work only on the Demagri and Burkal road. The clearance of jungle having been carried out by the Lushai coolies who received advances from Government during the previous year on account of scarcity. Owing to the unfitness of the imported coolies for jungle cutting and boat work, they were employed solely on earth-cutting, and did this special form of work satisfactorily. Three miles of the road from Demagri towards the Tegga were completed during the half-year.

4. The station roads were maintained partly by imported coolies and partly by daily labour.

A. W. CORSBIE,

Deputy Collector in charge.

No. 1080GM—VII-I, dated Chittagong, the 21st November 1887.

From—D. R. LYALL, Esq., Comissioner of the Chittagong Division,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Public Works Department.

I HAVE the honour to submit the report on the working of the District Road Funds in the districts of this Division for the six months ending with 31st March 1887, as required by Government circular No. 6 of 29th March 1887. The district reports and accounts are submitted in original, together with a general abstract of the accounts for the whole Division.

2. An abstract of the particulars regarding the meetings of the District Road and Branch Committees in the regulation districts of this Division during the period under report is also annexed.

3. The reports and accounts of the districts were received in this office on the dates noted below:—

Chittagong	21st May	1887.
Noakholly	30th June	„
Tipperah	30th May	„
Chittagong Hill Tracts	16th November	„

4. The total receipts of all the districts in the Division during the period under report including balances on 1st October 1886 and the sums under the heads, advances and deposits, amounted to Rs. 2,72,843-4-1 :—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Chittagong	83,574	8	5
Noakholly	72,169	1	4
Tipperah	1,00,311	1	9
Chittagong Hill Tracts	16,788	8	7
Total ...	2,72,843	4	1

The net disbursement of the year under report, including advances and deposits, amounted to Rs. 1,50,576-4-11, viz. :—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Chittagong	88,275	0	8
Noakholly	28,383	2	4
Tipperah	29,126	11	11
Chittagong Hill Tracts	4,791	6	0
Total ...	1,50,576	4	11

The available balances on 31st March 1887 are as follows:—

	Rs.	A.	P.
Chittagong	—4,700	8	3
Noakholly	43,785	15	0
Tipperah	71,184	5	10
Chittagong Hill Tracts	11,997	2	7

5. The number of meetings held at Noakholly and Chittagong was sufficient, but two meetings in six months is a very small number for Tipperah.

The Chairman has been asked to explain why more were not held.

Among the head-quarters, the attendance was best in Noakholly. The Local Boards except that at Fenny, do not seem to have taken much interest in the matter, the number of members who attended no meeting being in all other cases large. In the case of the Tipperah Local Boards, there was little scope for regular attendance, only one meeting having been held at each place.

6. The account of the Chittagong Fund shows that there was not actually a debit balance in the Treasury, and I understand that large payments were made to credit of the fund immediately after the close of the quarter. The balance is, however, less than a fair working one ought to be.

7. The works call for little remark. In Chittagong repairs absorb nearly the whole funds. The office building also made some progress, and it is now nearly finished.

8. The Inspector of Local Works has since seen and pronounced on the work on the bridging of the Mudafergunge-Hajigunge road. He considers it bad, but does not entirely reject it.

The boon of rapid communication with Calcutta has been obtained at a cheap rate in this district, and the benefit of more rapid postal transit is shared by the other districts of the Division.

Divisional annual accounts of Income and Expenditure on account of the District Road Fund of the Chittagong Division for the cess half-year ending 31st March 1887.

The mean pressure, temperature, &c, are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h. 10h. 16h. and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the traces of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last ten years.

The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The rain are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional station for the period in question during the past stations in the district sending returns divided by the number of stations. CALCUTTA, the 31*st July* 1888.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 27TH OF JULY 1888.

At the close of the previous week a feeble barometric depression which had formed close to Saugor Island had passed inland, and on the morning of the 20th the centre of the small storm was near Midnapore. During the 20th the north-westerly advance of the depression continued, and on the 21st it was near Benares. It then travelled slowly westward, and on the 22nd was near Allahabad, and it had also considerably reduced in size and intensity, and on the morning of the 23rd it had almost filled up, though there were still signs of its existence between Allahabad and Jhansi. With the inland advance of the small storm a very strong monsoon current set in over the province, and during the 24 hours from 8 A.M. of the 20th to the 21st, wind velocity at Saugor Island averaged no less than 38 miles an hour, which almost amounts to a gale of wind, and for several days strong winds continued to blow in the north-west angle of the Bay. Conditions then continued of almost normal monsoon character up till the close of the week, and the only change noticeable was the gradual strengthening of the westerly element in the wind directions until the 25th, when westerly winds were reported in all districts except North Bengal and over parts of East Bengal. In these districts, however, winds were still easterly, and this gave rise to a considerable amount of interaction between the two opposing wind systems, with the usual result that very heavy rain was reported over the greater part of the province; and on this day the following heavy falls were received:—Muraria (Beerbhoom district), Chooadanga, Azimgunge, Harrishpore (Noakholly district), and Bhagulpore between four and five inches, and Kishnaghur, Cox's Bazar, Fenny, and Durbhunga between five and six inches. On the 26th the westerly winds were again partially driven back, and on the 27th the easterly current again strengthened, and westerly winds were confined to the south-west and west of the province. These conditions therefore continued favourable for rainfall, and for the greater part of the week rainfall has been general, and in many instances very heavy, over all districts except, Orissa. Thus the rainfall in South-West Bengal, East Bengal, and in North and South Behar has been rather largely in excess of the normal, and in Chutia Nagpur and North Bengal the falls have been in slight excess; while in Orissa, on the other hand, the rainfall has been rather largely in defect of the normal.

Pressure.—The variations of pressure during the week have not been of much importance. The mean pressure for the whole province has been 0·024 inch in defect of the normal, and the largest defects have been registered at such stations as Calcutta, Berhampore, Purneah, Durbhunga, and Gya; while, on the other hand, in Orissa pressure has been in slight excess of the normal, all four stations in this district showing distinct excess pressures. In Assam a defect of 0·018 inch is registered.

Temperature.—Owing to the general, and in many cases heavy, rainfall which has prevailed over the greater part of the province during the week, temperature has been below the normal in all districts. In North Behar a defect of 2° has been registered, while in East and North Bengal and South Behar the defects have varied between 1° and 2°; in South-West Bengal and Chutia Nagpur temperature has been nearly one degree below the normal; and in Orissa it has been normal. In Assam a defect of 0·2° only has been registered.

Rainfall.—In East Bengal an average fall of no less than 7·05 inches has been received during the week, or more than an inch a day. This fall is about twice as large as the normal for the period. In Behar an average fall of about 5 inches has been recorded, which is again about double the usual amount. In South-West Bengal, North Bengal, and Chutia Nagpur the falls have averaged between three and four inches. In each of these districts the falls have been above the average, the excess being equal to about 30 to 40 per cent. of the normal. The only district which has received a defective fall for the week has been Orissa, and here the stations have averaged 1·90 inches against a normal fall of 2·94 inches; or, in other words, there has been a defect of about one-third of the usual quantity.

In Assam the following amounts of rain have been recorded during the week:—At Sibsagar 6·63 inches, at Silchar 4·12 inches, and at Dhubri 0·87 inch.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the week ending Friday, the 27th of July 1888 :—

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 22.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor-General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 25th July, 1888:

No. 6 of 1888.

A Bill to make an addition to the Indian Telegraph Act, 1885.

WHEREAS it is expedient to make an addition to the Indian Telegraph Act, 1885; It is hereby enacted as follows:— III of 1885.

Addition of section to Act XIII of 1885.

1. The following section shall be added to that Act, namely:—

Application of Act to presidency-towns and Rangoon.

"34. (1) This Act, in its application to the presidency-towns, shall be read as if for the words 'District Magistrate' in section 16, sub-section (1), and section 17, sub-sections (2) and (3), for the words 'Magistrate of the first or second class' in section 18, sub-section (1), and for the word 'Magistrate' in section 18, sub-section (2), there had been enacted the words 'Commissioner of Police', and for the words 'District Judge' in section 16, sub-sections (3), (4) and (5), the words 'Chief Judge of the Court of Small Causes'.

(2) Section 16, in its application to the town of Rangoon, shall be read as if for the words 'District Judge', wherever they occur in that section, there had been enacted the words 'Judge of the Court of Small Causes'.

(3) The fee in respect of an application to the Chief Judge of a Presidency Court of Small Causes under sub-section (3) of section 16 shall be the same as would be payable under the Court-fees Act, 1870, in respect of such an application to a District Judge beyond the limits of a presidency-town, and fees for summonses and other processes in proceedings before the Chief Judge under sub-section (3) or sub-section (4) of that section shall be payable according to the scale set forth in the fourth schedule to the Presidency Small Cause Courts Act, 1882." VII of 1870. XV of 1882.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is to add to the Indian Telegraph Act, 1885, a section which is required in order to remedy an oversight. In the absence of such a section certain portions of the Act which were intended to be operative in presidency-towns and Rangoon are inoperative there.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor-General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 25th July, 1888:

NO. 7 OF 1888.

A Bill to regulate the payment of duty in respect of Salt where there has been an alteration of the rate of duty payable in respect thereof.

WHEREAS it is expedient to regulate the payment of duty in respect of salt where the duty payable in respect thereof has been either enhanced or reduced; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Title and extent.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Salt-duty Act, 1888; and

(2) It shall extend to the whole of British India.

Definition.

2. In this Act "manufacture", used with reference to salt, has the meaning assigned thereto by the Indian Salt Act, 1882.

Provisions applicable on alteration of rate of duty.

3. Where the rate of duty payable in respect of salt is enhanced or reduced, the provisions of the following clauses shall apply:—

(1) the rate of duty payable in respect of salt manufactured otherwise than by or on behalf of the Government in any part of British India, or in respect of salt so manufactured beyond British India and imported by land into any part of British India, shall be the rate in force in that part under section 7 of the Indian Salt Act, 1882, on the day on which the duty in respect of the salt is paid to the Government;

(2) the rate of duty payable in respect of salt manufactured by or on behalf of the Government in any part of British India, or in respect of salt so manufactured beyond British India and imported by land into any part of British India, shall be,—

(a) when the duty payable in respect of the salt has been paid to the Government before the time appointed for the enhancement or reduction of the rate of duty to take effect, then the rate in force in that part as aforesaid on the day on which the duty was so paid to a person having authority to receive it on behalf of the Government on that day, and

(b) in any other case, the rate in force in that part as aforesaid on the day on which the duty in respect of the salt is paid to the Government:

provided, with respect to article (a) of this clause, that, where the rate of duty is reduced, a person who has paid duty in respect of salt on any of the three days immediately preceding the time appointed for the reduction to take effect shall, in respect of so much of the salt as has not before that time been delivered at the place of manufacture either to him or a person authorised to hold the salt on his behalf or to a railway administration or other carrier for carriage to his order, be entitled to a refund of the difference between the duty which he has paid and the reduced duty;

(3) the rate of duty payable in respect of salt imported into any part of British India by sea shall be the rate in force in that part as aforesaid on the day on which entry thereof is made for home-consumption or, in the case of salt of which entry has been made for warehousing, the rate so in force in that part on the day on which the salt is cleared for home-consumption.

Exclusion of operation of other enactments.

4. The provisos to section 37 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878, shall not apply to salt, and this Act shall take effect notwithstanding anything in that Act or in any other enactment for the time being in force. VIII of 1878

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

BY the operation of the proviso to section 37 of the Sea Customs Act, 1878, an enhancement of the salt-duty does not come into effect with respect to sea-borne salt for two or three months after it is proclaimed. As the effect upon prices is immediate, the result is that the consumer has to pay as much as if the salt bore the enhanced rate of duty, but the increase which he pays goes not to the Treasury but to the individuals who happen to be the owners of the salt which is at sea on its way to India. The first object of the present Bill is to claim for the Treasury this enhancement of the price which the fiscal action of the Government in enhancing the duty enables the holder to realize from the consumer.

Opportunity has been taken to define the operation of enhancements and reductions of duty with respect to salt manufactured in India. It is the object of the Government to give all possible facilities to the trade for the payment of duty and the purchase of salt. It is necessary to define, with reference to the procedure adopted for this purpose, the exact incidence of an enhancement or reduction of duty, so as to avoid claims and contentions which have arisen on past occasions of the alteration of the rate of duty.

The 25th July, 1888.

S. HARVEY JAMES,
Secretary to the Government of India.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced into the Council of the Governor-General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 25th July, 1888:

NO. 8 OF 1888.

A Bill to repeal certain enactments relating to Contagious Diseases.

WHEREAS it is expedient to repeal certain enactments relating to contagious diseases; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. The enactments specified in the schedule are repealed to the extent mentioned in the third column thereof.

Repeal.

THE SCHEDULE.

ENACTMENTS REPEALED.

Number and year.	Subject or title.	Extent of repeal.
Acts of the Governor General in Council.
XIV of 1868.	Indian Contagious Diseases Act, 1868.	So much as has not been repealed.
XXVI of 1868.	Municipal Lock-hospitals.	The whole.
Act of the Governor of Fort St. George in Council.
IV of 1884	Madras District Municipalities Act, 1884.	The words "the application of the Indian Contagious Diseases Act" in section 113.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

IN 1882 the Government of India, after enquiry into the working of the Indian Contagious Diseases Act, 1868, proposed to repeal it. The Secretary of State, however, considered that further experience was desirable before repealing the Act, but he left to the Government of India discretion to suspend its operation. The Act was accordingly withdrawn from operation in Calcutta. Further consideration of the question satisfied the Government of India that it ought also to be withdrawn in the towns of Madras and Bombay and two other towns in British India in which it had been maintained. Orders to this effect were issued on 19th May last. As there is no probability of the Act in its present form being revived, it is proposed to remove it and any subsidiary Acts dependent on it from the Statute-book.

The 25th July, 1888.

C. U. AITCHISON.

S. HARVEY JAMES,
Secretary to the Government of India.

EMIGRATION FROM THE PORT OF CALCUTTA DURING THE YEAR 1887.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—COLONIAL EMIGRATION.

Calcutta, the 4th August 1888.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Report on Emigration from the Port of Calcutta during the year 1887.

The report is submitted by Dr. W. H. Gregg, the Officiating Protector of Emigrants, but the department was administered throughout the period under review by the permanent incumbent, Dr. J. G. Garrow Grant, who proceeded on furlough after the close of the year.

Requisitions for labourers.

2. The decline of the sugar industry continued to retard the flow of emigration to the colonies, and requisitions were in 1887 received from Demerara and Trinidad only, from the former for 2,625 adult labourers and from the latter for 2,000, the total thus aggregating 4,625, as against 7,010 in 1886, 6,430 in 1885, and 18,639 in 1884-85. In the current year, however, the demand for Indian labourers promises to be on a larger scale, as the colony of Demerara has already indented for 3,350 labourers, the Fiji and Guadeloupe Governments have also made requisitions, and there is a probability that the Government of Jamaica will shortly apply. The Protector of Immigrants in the last-mentioned colony has in his annual report made the following remarks:—

"The export duties on sugar and rum have been reduced by Law 20 of 1887 from Rs. 5-9 and Rs. 4-6 to Rs. 3 per hogshead and Rs 2-6 per puncheon, respectively, equal to a remission of about £5,000 a year of taxation for immigration purposes. This will no doubt prove a very welcome relief to the planting industry.

The past year has been on the whole a very productive one for the sugar industry. With a smaller acreage planted in canes the yield has been high, and the exports of sugar and rum up to the average of former years. In some districts the want of labour is again being felt, and unless immigration be recommenced at an early date, great difficulty will be experienced. Applications were some months ago made for 200 immigrants, but were not entertained by the Government."

Recruitment.

3. Licenses to the number of 345 were issued during the year—313 for the two agencies at work and 32 for the Fiji Agency, which, however, made no despatches—against 466 granted in 1886. It is satisfactory to observe that only three licenses were cancelled. The recruiters for the Demerara and Trinidad Agencies enlisted 6,882 persons, male and female. Of these, 2,607, against 4,002 in 1886, were registered in the Provinces of Bengal and Behar, 3,413 against 3,274 in the North-Western Provinces, and 862 against 997 in Oudh. The figures submitted by Dr. Gregg do not indicate any particularly noteworthy variations in the classification of districts according to the place of registration or the homes of emigrants, and the more extended recruitment remarked in the North-Western Provinces is in accordance with the experience of former years, that the natives of Lower Bengal generally, the Province of Behar excepted, are, unless pressed by privation, reluctant to emigrate to the colonies, notwithstanding the very favourable terms offered. There appears to have been no active rivalry between inland and colonial recruiters; but it is observed that recruitment for the colonies was most active during the months of June to October, when emigration to the tea districts is at the lowest ebb.

Depôts.

4. Of a total of 6,882 persons, 6,679 were admitted into the Calcutta depôts. The difference is accounted for by the occurrence of 6 deaths, 97 desertions, 76 detentions in the mofussil depôts, 11 rejections on the ground of unfitness, 2 refusals to emigrate, and 11 reclamations by relatives, figures which, on the whole, compare favourably with those of the preceding year. Inclusive of the balance of 1886, there were in the depôts 7,264 persons, of whom 49 died, 214 deserted, and 1,035 were discharged for various reasons by the agencies, the number of casualties thus reaching the figure of 17·86 per cent. This high percentage was due in great measure to the larger number of rejections (703), accounted for by the fact that the rejection of one person frequently results in the refusal to emigrate of other members of the same family. The health of the emigrants in the depôts was on the whole good, the mortality being only 0·67, and lower than in the year 1886. The general sanitary arrangements are reported by the Medical Inspector to have been excellent, and due attention appears to have been paid to the health and welfare of the inmates. Only 31 persons were detained for a period exceeding three months, and the detention of these was due to the sickliness of children.

Outward voyages.

5. The total number of persons who actually embarked for the colonies was 5,966, or 82·13 of the whole number recruited, Demerara being the destination of 3,836 and Trinidad that of the remaining 2,130. Of these, 3,639 were men, 1,518 women, and 809 children; while 565 of both sexes and of all ages were return emigrants, the majority from Demerara, Trinidad, Surinam, and Natal. The rule regulating the proportion of females to males in each shipment was fully complied with. The emigrants were despatched in 11 ships, the length of the voyage varying from 86 to 105 days, the aggregate mortality during the passage being 1·34 of the whole number embarked, and the death-rate exceeding 2 per cent. in only one instance.

Return emigrants.

6. Six thousand four hundred and six emigrants returned from the colonies, and brought with them savings amounting to Rs. 7,06,458-5-3, or, on an average, more than Rs. 110 each. Those from Demerara (1,844) and Trinidad (546) had, as usual, amassed the largest sums, and the following highly reassuring remarks are quoted from the report of the Protector of Immigrants, Jamaica:—

"The East Indian immigrants continue to be the most prosperous portion of the community. The amount deposited by them in the Savings Bank during the financial year 1885-86 was £23,363 11*s.* 11*d.*, as against £22,905 10*s.* 7*d.* during the previous year. The statistics for 1886-87 are not yet before me."

The death-rate on the return voyages was not excessive, and in a solitary case only did it exceed 3 per cent.

Estates of deceased emigrants.

7. Two hundred and twenty-nine estates of deceased emigrants, valued at Rs. 24,282-15-3, came under the administration of the Emigration Department during the year, and of these only 31, valued at Rs. 2,982-12-6, remained undisposed of, the enquiries for heirs not having been completed before the close of the year.

8. The thanks of the Lieutenant-Governor are due to Dr. Grant for the efficient manner in which he has continued to discharge the duties of his office, and also to Dr. Gregg for his careful report.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. S. COTTON,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

The results of observations at the Alipore Observatory are not rigorously comparable with the registers of past years (at the Park-street Observatory). The barometer is about 3 feet higher at Alipore, and, other things being equal, reads therefore ·003 lower. The diurnal range of temperature is also greater at Alipore, and the mean temperature apparently about 0·6° higher; and, finally, the thermometer which furnished the record of temperature at the Surveyor-General's Office during 20 years and upwards is found to read 0·6 higher than the Kew standard thermometer, which is the standard of reference at the present Observatory.

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last ten years. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The rainfall are the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional station for the period in question during the past stations in the district sending in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

* Means for six days.

CALCUTTA, the 7th August 1888.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 3RD OF AUGUST 1888.

THE meteorological changes which have taken place during the past week have been of only slight importance. On the 28th, or the first day of the week, ordinary monsoon conditions obtained generally, and a steady moist wind current was blowing over the whole province, winds being south-easterly and easterly at the majority of stations Moderate to heavy rain was also being received in all districts except Orissa and South-West Bengal. On the 29th an extremely feeble low-pressure area was developed over part of West and South-West Bengal, which was accompanied by a distinct circulation of winds, the centre of the circulation being apparently near Burdwan; the wind velocities in connection with this circulation were, however, very slight, though the circulation extended over the whole of the south-western districts of the province. Rainfall on this day was general over the whole province except in Orissa and in South Bengal, and in some cases very heavy falls were reported. On the 30th the feeble low-pressure area had almost disappeared, but on the 31st it was again most distinctly marked over West Bengal, the centre of the depression and of the accompanying cyclonic wind circulation being near Bankoora; on this day also the general pressure distribution of the whole province was governed by the existence of the feeble storm. On August 1st the depression had advanced in a north-westerly direction into Behar, and the centre of the wind circulation and of the barometric depression was near Gya. On the morning of 2nd of August the depression had either passed out of the province, or it had filled up and disappeared, and winds became nearly normal in character over Bengal, though over the Bay wind directions became much more strongly westerly than they had been, and it would appear that the monsoon current was being partially deflected towards the south of Burma, for on the 3rd extremely heavy rain was reported from Tavoy and Moulmein, which received falls of about six and eight inches respectively. During the existence and passage of the extremely feeble depression through the west of the province, conditions were favourable for rather heavy rainfall, particularly in the western and central districts; but with the disappearance of the disturbed conditions rainfall became smaller in amount, and on the last day of the week general rainfall was confined to East Bengal and Assam, where also the falls were only moderate in amount, while in the remaining districts light local showers only were reported. The general distribution of the rainfall for the week has therefore been that falls considerably in excess of the normal have been received in South-West and East Bengal, almost normal falls in North Bengal, Behar and Chutia Nagpur, while in Orissa the fall has been decidedly in defect of the normal.

Pressure.—The pressure during the week has been gradually increasing, though with the usual slight oscillations; and while the mean pressure for the previous week was below the normal, in the present week there has been an almost uniform excess pressure over Bengal, averaging about 0·05 inch. In Assam pressure has also been in excess of the normal, but by only 0·03 inch Temperature.—The variations of temperature have been small, and in most districts the mean temperature for the week has been very nearly normal in all districts except Orissa, where the rainfall has been scanty. In Orissa an almost steady excess temperature has been registered which averages 2·2°, but in all other districts except North Behar, where a defect of 1·1° is registered, the variations do not exceed half a degree; in most cases the temperatures being in slight defect, while in Chutia Nagpur there has been an excess. For the whole province of Bengal for the week temperature may be said to have been almost normal, and the same is the case in Assam.

Rainfall—Has been heaviest in East Bengal, where an average amount of between five and six inches has been registered; in South-West Bengal and Chutia Nagpur the falls have averaged from four to five inches, and in South Behar an average fall of three and a half inches is registered In North Bengal and North Behar falls of from three to two inches are reported, but in Orissa the average fall is less than two inches. Compared with the normal for the period, the mean rainfall of the whole province may be said to have been about 95 per cent. of the usual amount. Of the meteorological districts South-West and East Bengal have received excess falls amounting to 28 and 17 per cent. respectively. In North Bengal, South Behar and Chutia Nagpur the falls have been in slight defect, but the defects in no case equal 10 per cent.; in North Behar the defect equals 19 per cent. of the normal, and in Chutia Nagpur the actual fall has only averaged 56 per cent. of the usual fall.

Taking up the distribution rather more in detail, it is found that in the following districts the falls have been particularly heavy:—in 24-Pergunnahs, Hooghly, Beerbhoom, Nuddea, Jessore, Backergunge, and Noakhally; while in the following districts the falls have been particularly defective:—in Singbhoom, Rungpore, Bogra, and Pooree.

In Assam the following falls have been reported during the week:—Silchar 3·71 inches, Sibsagar 3·36 inches, and Dhubri 2·47 inches.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the week ending Friday, the 3rd of August 1888:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c, are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological-Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anèmograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

* A special census of the Europeans by the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans above alluded to cannot be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorized form of age classification."

PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT,—BENGAL.

DISTRICT ROAD FUND.

NOTIFICATION No. 281.

The 14th August 1888.

THE subjoined annual accounts and reports of the Road Cess Committee of the district of Darjeeling for the year 1887-88, together with the remarks thereon of the Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division, are published for general information.

W. B. BESTIC,

Under-Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal, P. W. Dept.

No. 55, dated Darjeeling, the 29th May 1888.

From—The Deputy Commissioner and Chairman, District Road Cess Committee, Darjeeling,

To—The Commissioner of the Rajshahye Division.

UNDER section 179 of Act IX (B.C.) of 1880, I have the honour to submit, in duplicate, the following report on the administration of the Road Fund of this district during the cess year ending 31st March 1888, together with the detailed accounts of income and expenditure for that period, duly examined by the Sub-Committee of audit and passed by the District Road Committee at a special meeting held on the 29th May 1888.

2. The balance at credit of the fund on 1st April 1887 was Rs. 22,656-8-6, and the receipts under the several heads during the year under review made up a total of Rs. 34,663-2-4. The total expenditure during that period was Rs. 49,307-14-1, leaving a balance of Rs. 8,011-12-9 available for expenditure during the current year.

3. Assessment and collections.—During the year under report, out of the current demand of Rs. 18,678, Rs. 708 were realised in advance during the previous year, and Rs. 17,907 collected during the year, leaving only Rs. 63 unrealised at the close of the year. A further sum of Rs. 45 on account of arrears outstanding on the 31st March 1887, plus Rs. 855 collected in advance for following year, made up a total collection of Rs. 18,807, but the total sum credited in the Road Fund Account during the year of report is Rs. 20,656-12-3, the excess being due to the adjustment of an error which crept into the Treasury accounts as noticed in paragraph 3 of this office letter No. 128, dated 27th May 1887.

4. Working of the Committee.—The number of meetings of the District Committee held during the year under review was five. The average attendance was 2 out of 8 officials and 6 out of 18 non-official members. The Terai Branch Committee met six times during the above period, and the average attendance, as reported by the Vice-Chairman, was 2 out 3 officials and 4 out of 13 non-official members.

5. List of roads.—Some slight alterations were made in the list of district roads mentioned in the previous report. The roads formerly distinguished by numbers 9, 29 and 32 were recommended to be considered as one road, under the name of "Lamidhura-Rishihat-Chongtong" road, in the resolution of the District Committee's meeting held on 27th May 1887.

6. Public Works—Original.—A sum of Rs. 18,616-3 was spent in original works. These were all budgetted for. The construction of the two suspension bridges over the Little Rungeet and Kohel rivers at Poolbazar and Kohel, sanctioned by the Government of Bengal, was completed during the year. Owing to unusually heavy rain in August, the bridge at the former site was carried away by the rush of water. Proposals for bridging this stream at the old site are under contemplation, and plans for a bridge of a larger span have been called for from the District Engineer. When the bridge at Kohel was finished, it was found that the estimated cost, Rs. 5,592, was exceeded by Rs. 1,187, for which a revised estimate has been submitted for the sanction of Government. The construction of the suspension bridge over the Rongbong river at Sunmah is all but complete, and it is expected the work will be finished before the end of the current month. The project for a similar bridge over the Balasun river at Namsoo has been returned by the Government of Bengal owing to paucity of funds. A temporary bridge has, however, been put up over this river at a cost of Rs. 1,769-12-3 for the convenience of the public.

Repairs.—Rupees 5,462-5-8 were spent on hill roads and Rs. 6,867-14-8 on Terai roads, making a total expenditure of Rs. 12,330-4-4. Besides the above, a further sum of Rs. 1,930-5-3 was spent on village roads in the Terai, and Rs. 165-13 in repairing two small bridges. The repairs to hill roads were chiefly carried out by the planter members of the Committee, who took a lively interest in the work as in former years. The village and other district roads in the Terai were maintained and kept up under the supervision of the Vice-Chairman of the Terai Branch Committee.

7. Arboriculture.—As reported last year, there was no expenditure under this head, the local fund known as the Darjeeling Improvement Fund undertaking the whole of this branch.

8. Working of the Cess Act.—The cess was levied at the maximum rate, and the general results of the year may be considered satisfactory, the precentage of the collections having amounted to 99·6 per cent. on the demands.

* * * * *

10 Inspection of accounts.—The accounts of the Committee's office were inspected by the Local Auditor in November last. The irregularities in the system of keeping accounts noticed by the auditor were trivial, and have been remedied.

A. WERNICKE,
Vice-Chairman.

Explanatory Memorandum accompanying the Annual Account of 1887-88.

RECEIPTS.

(a). The small increase in the collection of cess on lands, over and above the probable budget estimate, calls for no explanation.

(b). The increase is due to the excess amount having been transferred and adjusted from Public Works cess to which it was added by a mistake in the accounts of the Treasury Department, vide paragraph 3 of this office No. 128 of 27th May 1887.

EXPENDITURE.

Original.

(c). The construction of the village road from Deomoni to Singhijhora subsequently considered unnecessary, and the grant under this head was transferred to other repair works.

Repairs.

(a), (e), (f) and (g). The excess expenditure on these roads has been sanctioned by the Committee, to be met from savings under other heads.

Miscellaneous and Suspense Account.

(h). This correction was made after much correspondence, under the instruction of the Accountant-General, Bengal, contained in his letter No. 915LF, dated 23rd January 1888, by crediting the amount to "Miscellaneous" and debiting it to "Advance."

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE CHOTA NAGPORE DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1887-88.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT.—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 13th August 1888.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The General Administration Report of the Chota Nagpore Division for the year 1887-88.

The report is submitted by Mr. Stevens, who was in charge of the division throughout the year.

2. The rainfall was unevenly distributed, and in portions of the Manbhoom and Hazaribagh districts was insufficient. In consequence, the harvest as a whole was poor, and the prices of the principal food-grains rose, but, except in the two districts named, it is said that the people nowhere felt actual want. The ravages of fever and cholera were worse than usual.

3. Emigration.—The increase in the number of registered emigrants from 3,952 to 6,145 is attributed to the partial failure of the crops. There is no doubt that the number of "free emigrants" has also increased very largely. In some cases serious abuses in connection with the recruiting of coolies for the Assam districts were brought to light, and the offenders have been criminally prosecuted and convicted. The chief offender was one Lawton in the Hazaribagh district. Four cases were instituted against him, in three of which he was sentenced to various terms of imprisonment. Two other cases occurred at Giridih, in which fourteen persons were convicted and punished. The Commissioner reports that the deputation of a special police officer to enquire into such cases has undoubtedly been productive of considerable advantage, but that the working of the present emigration law, so far as recruiters are concerned, is not satisfactory, and cannot be made so. The evil lies deep, and can only be eradicated by imposing some efficient control on the present unlicensed system. As the Commissioner is aware, the whole question is now under the special consideration of Government.

4. Revenue.—The special settlement operations which have been in progress in this division for some years have been brought to a conclusion under the able supervision of Mr. Slack. The land revenue collections were satisfactory except in Lohardugga, where the reason assigned for short collection is insufficient. The whole land revenue from this division amounts to only Rs. 3,75,000, while the cess collections are Rs. 2,90,000. There are many estates in which the cess demand, which is calculated at one anna on every rupee of rent paid by the actual cultivators, exceeds the land revenue assessment The excise is a large source of income in this division, amounting to more than six lakhs of rupees, of which nearly four lakhs are obtained from country spirits. The outstill system is the only one which is practicable in a backward tract of country like Chota Nagpore, but a central distillery has been opened at Giridih, where there is a large mining population, and is said to be working satisfactorily.

5. Railways.—Progress is being made in the acquisition of land for the Bengal-Nagpore Railway Company. There was some hesitation in determining the point of junction with the East Indian Railway line, and the Assensole route was not finally selected till last cold-weather. Station sites have now been selected, and every effort is being made to have the rails laid as far as Purulia by the 1st January, 1889. The Benares-Cuttack line, which, according to the plans approved by Government, will intersect the Bengal-Nagpore line at Purulia, has not yet been taken in hand. It is difficult, as Mr. Stevens observes, to over-estimate the effect which these two lines will have in developing the resources of the division.

6. Encumbered Estates.—A large share of the time of the Revenue authorities in this division is devoted to the administration of encumbered estates under Act VI of 1876. The number of estates now under management is 61. The Dhalbhoom Raj was taken charge of during the year. The estate is a very large one, covering an area of 1,100 square miles, and its affairs are in such a state of confusion that it will take two or three years, if not longer, before they can be put right. Under this head the Commissioner observes:—

"The working of the Encumbered Estates' Act has on the whole been successful. It has saved from absolute ruin a large number of the principal landed proprietors of the division. Its protective provisions are much appreciated by the proprietors, but I fear that they do not all deal honestly with us. Some, I have reason to believe, find it possible to contract fresh debts notwithstanding their disability under the law: the mahajans appear to have perfect confidence that they will some day be paid."

7. The Lieutenant Governor has to acknowledge Mr. Stevens' careful administration of this division throughout the year.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. S. COTTON,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE CHITTAGONG DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1887-88.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 13th August 1888.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The General Administration Report of the Chittagong Division for the year 1887-88.

MR. LYALL, who submits this report, was in charge of the Division throughout the year. The Collector of Chittagong took privilege leave for three months: with this exception, the Regulation districts experienced no change either in regard to district or sub-divisional officers, and a satisfactory continuity in administration was therefore maintained. The tours made both by the Commissioner and his subordinates appear to have been sufficient. The Collector of Chittagong was in camp only 61 days, his tour being cut short by work at head-quarters requiring his presence. The Commissioner observes that he considers the district was sufficiently inspected, the short time spent by the Collector being made up for by his subordinates, and that it should be borne in mind that Mr. Manson knows the district thoroughly. The Deputy Commissioner of the Hill Tracts also was only 81 days on tour, as he was tied to his head-quarters during the last half of the cold weather owing to the raids. These explanations of a shorter tour than usual in both cases are accepted.

2. The year was remarkable for the small rainfall throughout the Division. As, however, the rain was well distributed everywhere,—and it is on the happy distribution of rain that the crops are dependent much more than on the aggregate quantity of rainfall,—the harvests of the Division, both rice and jute, betel and cocoanuts, were excellent and decidedly above the average. The yield of cotton in the Hill Tracts was the best which had been obtained for many years, and the hillmen profited much by its sale. Although the year was not a healthy one, it was marked generally by prosperity and further improvement in the condition of the people.

3. The total value of the trade of the Chittagong Port continues to increase, and now amounts to Rs. 2,90,82,789. This increase is mainly due to jute: the value of jute imported into Chittagong from Naraingunge being nearly a crore of rupees, and as this item appears a second time in the returns, the whole of the jute imported in country boats being again exported in large ships to England, it will be seen that jute alone accounts for more than two-thirds of the Chittagong trade. If foreign trade only be considered, it is found that the imports into Chittagong amounted to five and a half lakhs of rupees, consisting chiefly of salt and oil, while the exports amounted to a crore and twenty lakhs, of which Rs. 98,40,670 represent the value of jute, and Rs. 21,67,353 the value of paddy and rice. The increase in the export of rice as well as of jute is attributable to the good harvest.

4. Owing to the reduction in the freight of jute from Naraingunge by country brigs, the ship-building industry, for which Chittagong was once famous, has declined. There were only two vessels built during the year, and it was necessary to charter vessels from the Madras coast to meet the demand of jute-shippers for tonnage. The freight of jute has now increased from twelve annas to one rupee a bale.

5. Mr. Lyall dwells in several passages of his report on the importance to Chittagong of the projected line of railway to Cachar and the Assam districts. There can be no doubt that this railway would facilitate trade, and greatly augment the wealth of the district.

6. The most important administrative change in the Division has been the further development of the khas tehsil revenue system by the creation of two new khas tehsil appointments in the town of Chittagong itself and at Cox's Bazar. There are now five khas tehsildars employed in the district on salaries rising from Rs. 200 to Rs. 300 a month, and a Special Sub-Deputy Collector is entertained for the management of the Government estates in the island of Kutubdia. The district is now furnished with a very strong executive local agency, and although the increased expenditure involved in khas tehsil administration in Chittagong is considerable, the result, as shown, not only in improved collections, but in general executive efficiency, is satisfactory. Mr. Manson's industry and ability in controlling this large establishment have often been acknowledged by Government. The Lieutenant Governor is also glad to observe the special commendation which is awarded by both the Commissioner and Collector to the revenue work done by Mr. Mackertich, the late Sub-divisional Officer of Cox's Bazar.

7. The introduction of the postal money-order system as a means of paying Government revenue has been a convenience highly appreciated in Chittagong. During the past year 9,393 orders were received, and only 401, or 4·2 per cent., were refused. In the current year, up to the close of June, the number received was 11,677.

8. The re-settlement of Nulchira in Noakhally, under the provisions of the Tenancy Act, was brought to a satisfactory conclusion. It is the first settlement on any considerable scale which has been effected under the Tenancy Act.

9. The excise revenue of the Division amounted to Rs. 2,60,558. There was a large increase from opium and ganja, but the receipts from country spirit show a decline. The Collector of Chittagong states that many Mughs, who formerly drank country spirit, have ceased to do so since Colonel Olcott's visit to the district last year. The excise revenue from Noakholly is, as usual, remarkable for its smallness: it amounts to only Rs. 14,096. The population consists for the most part of Mahomedans, who are scrupulous in abstaining from spirituous liquor.

10. It is remarked that the Municipal Commissioners of Chittagong take much interest in their duties, that there has been more attention paid to sanitation and cleanliness, and that the services of several inhabitants willing to work, both European and native, have been utilised in Ward Committees. The Local Boards are reported to have worked fairly well, but to be slow to originate new work. This is a characteristic of Local Boards in all countries: the initiative must come from the Chairman, or Vice-Chairman, or other Executive head.

11. The management of the Court of Wards' estates in this Division has continued to be very satisfactory. The survey of the estates of Rajkrishna Banerjea and Salamat Ali Khan has been completed, and a considerable increase of revenue is expected from new lands brought under cultivation.

12. In the Chittagong district the number of Mahomedan gazetted officers is 35 per cent. on the total employed, of officers in superior service 21 per cent., and of those in inferior service 41 per cent. It is observed in the report that the proportion of Mahomedans in superior service, which is under the Collector's control, is steadily rising. Regarding the other districts, the information given is insufficient. Sir Steuart Bayley considers it very important that in the Chittagong Division, where the Mahomedans are admittedly the prevailing element in the population, a due regard should be paid to their claims in the distribution of patronage.

13. The Lieutenant-Governor acknowledges Mr. Lyall's efficient administration of his Division in all departments. He desires also to thank him for his succinct and useful report.

DONATION TO THE SHEKPURA AIDED MIDDLE ENGLISH SCHOOL IN THE MONGHYR DISTRICT.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EDUCATION.

The 13th August 1888.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

A letter from the Director of Public Instruction, No. 4275, dated the 7th August 1888, regarding a donation made by Nawab Ali Khan of Hosenabad, in the district of Monghyr, to the Shekpura Aided Middle English School.

It has been reported by the Director of Public Instruction that Nawab Ali Khan of Hosenabad, in the district of Monghyr, has paid into the Jamui Treasury the sum of Rs. 2,100 as a donation to the Shekpura Aided Middle English School, and that with these funds Government securities of the nominal value of Rs. 2,000 have been purchased in favour of the Collector of Monghyr. The Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to accept this donation, and tenders his thanks to Nawab Ali Khan for his liberality. The Government securities should be endorsed in favour of the Comptroller-General, and deposited with the Accountant-General, Bengal, for safe custody, the Sub-divisional Officer of Jamui being the administrator of the fund.

ORDER.—Ordered that a copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Director of Public Instruction for information and communication to the donor, and also that a copy be published in the Calcutta Gazette.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. S. COTTON,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

DISCONTINUANCE OF THE PAYMENT OF FEES TO GOVERNMENT MEDICAL OFFICERS FOR PERFORMING THE DUTIES OF CERTIFYING SURGEONS UNDER THE INDIAN FACTORIES ACT, XV OF 1881.

THE following is published for general information.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

REVENUE DEPT., H. J. S. COTTON,

The 14th August 1888. Offg. Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 1242, dated Simla, the 28th July 1888.

From—A. P. MACDONNELL, ESQ., C.S.I., Secretary to the Government of India, Home Department,

To—The Chief Secretary to the Government of Bombay.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 2013, dated the 13th ultimo, soliciting sanction to the payment, in accordance with the practice in force in the Lower Provinces of Bengal, of a fee of four annas for every certificate of age given by certifying Surgeons under the Indian Factories Act, XV of 1881, in the Bombay Presidency, who are Medical Officers in Government employ.

It is at the same time explained that the suggestion made in paragraph 4 of the letter from this Department, No. 991, dated the 13th July 1882, for the adoption of the Bengal practice in the Bombay Presidency was not carried out at the time, as the system then in force in that Presidency, whereby certifying Surgeons were permitted to accept a fee of one rupee per head when a child was sent for examination by mill-owners themselves, appeared to have worked satisfactorily.

2. In reply, I am to say that, on a reconsideration of the matter, it appears to the Governor-General in Council that, apart from the fact that the payment of the proposed fee would require the sanction of Her Majesty's Secretary of State in cases in which it would have the effect of raising a Medical Officer's salary above Rs. 5,000 per annum, the grant of special remuneration to Government servants for duties imposed by the law is open to objection on principle. His Excellency in Council accordingly regrets that he is unable to accede to the proposal made in the letter under acknowledgment.

3. I am to add that the Government of Bengal will be addressed in view to the discontinuance of the payments now made to certifying Surgeons in the Lower Provinces who are salaried officers of Government.

No. 1244.

COPY forwarded to the Government of Bengal, General Department, with reference to the correspondence ending with the letter from this Department, No. 992, dated the 13th July 1882, with a request that the practice of paying fees to Government Medical Officers in the Lower Provinces for performing the duties of certifying Surgeon under the Indian Factories Act may be discontinued.

REPORT OF THE HEALTH OFFICER OF THE PORT OF CALCUTTA FOR 1887.

No. 1180 Marine.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

RESOLUTION.

Dated Calcutta, the 13th August 1888.

READ—

A letter No. 1272R.A., dated the 20th February 1888, from the Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal, submitting the report of the Health Officer of the Port of Calcutta for the year 1887.

Establishment.

DR. LYNCH was the Health Officer of the Port of Calcutta throughout the year. He represents the difficulty experienced in carrying on his duties when his steam-launch is detained in the Dockyard for repairs, and states that the "bolio" sanctioned by Government, and received by him at the end of 1886, was found to be unsuitable for the Health Officer, and was made over to the Sanitary Inspector. A suitable boat has since been provided for the use of the Health Officer.

Inspections.

2. The report shows that 1,601 vessels were inspected during the year against 1,516 in 1886 and 1,406 in 1885. This increase in the number of inspections is satisfactory.

Sickness and mortality among European seamen.

3. The average number of European seamen in the Port was 1,893 against 2,326 in the previous year. The health of the seamen shows a great improvement. Including deaths out of hospital, the death-rates of the last four years are as follows:—

	Cholera.	Other causes.	Total.
1884	21·96	41·57	63·53
1885	4·72	25 99	30·71
1886	11·61	33·53	45·14
1887	10·03	16 91	26·94

The total casualties from all causes amounted to 51 against 105 of the previous year. During 1887 the Port shared with the Town in a general improvement of the public health.

Deaths at sea.

At sea there were 47 deaths amongst European seamen against 41 during the previous year.

Venereal disease.

4. There appears to have been a decrease of venereal disease among the European seamen. The following table shows the admissions into hospital since 1883 :—

	Total admissions.	Rate per thousand.
1883	237	127·8
1884	184	109·2
1885	170	100·4
1886	417	179·2
1887	228	120·4

Scurvy.

5. Scurvy appears to have been steadily diminishing since 1884. The number of persons admitted into hospital suffering from this disease amounted to 24, 13, 17 and 4 respectively during the last four years. The cases reported in 1887 were admitted from one ship alone, which arrived from New York, and it was found on enquiry that she had two descriptions of lime-juice on board—one supplied under the rules of the Board of Trade, and the other of local manufacture purchased in New York. The Chemical Examiner pronounced the latter to be of weak quality.

Sickness and mortality among the native floating population.

6. Dr. Lynch thinks that the number of natives afloat, according to the Census of 1881, viz., 25,000, is below the actual number constantly found on the river. The Sanitary Commissioner states that a correct day census of the native river population is necessary for true statistical exposition. There are obvious difficulties in arriving at the number of the floating population, but the expediency of making further enquiries on the subject will be considered.

The following table shows the mortality recorded from all causes among the native river population, the averages being calculated on a population of 25,630:—

	Total deaths.		Ratio per mille.
	1887.	1886.	1887.	1886.
Cholera	49	59	1·91	2·32
Diarrhœa	1	2	·03	·07
Dysentery	5	2	·19	·07
Fever, Malarious	...	1	...	·03
„ Simple	22	15	·85	·59
Other diseases	21	23	·81	·90
Total ...	98	102	3·82	4·01

The above record appears to be too low. The death-rate from cholera, which is one-half of the total death-rate, is lower than any recorded since 1881.

Water-supply.

7. It is stated in the report that no complaints were received from the shipping during the year regarding water-supply, and that the Municipal Commissioners of the Town have supplied one water-boat on an improved plan to take the place of one of the old faulty boats. The Sanitary Commissioner recommends that all the boats should be similarly replaced. A separate report has been received on this matter, which has formed the subject of correspondence with the Municipal Commissioners. The Chairman of the Corporation will be requested to state what further progress is being made to perfect the arrangements for the supply of water to the shipping.

Comparative mortality of the native population on the river and of the town in respect of cholera.

8. Dr. Lynch has submitted a statement comparing the mortality from cholera of the native population on the river drinking unfiltered water and that of the town during the last seven years. The death-rate of the town during these years compares very unfavourably with that of the river, and this fact might apparently lead to the conclusion that it is safer to use unfiltered than filtered water for drinking and domestic purposes. The Lieutenant-Governor agrees in the view taken by the Sanitary Commissioner that the smaller death-rate on the river is not due to any superior healthiness of unfiltered water, but to the absence there of other causes of unhealthiness which occur in the town, e.g., crowding, defective ventilation, sewer gas, emanations from many kinds of refuse, &c.

Pilgrims.

9. Two foreign vessels arrived during the year with pilgrims on board, and in both of them small-pox had broken out during the voyage. Two cases were found on board one of them on arrival, and nine in the other. The children in one of the steamers were vaccinated before being allowed to disembark, but the Health Officer draws attention to the difficulty that arises in enforcing the provisions of the Compulsory Vaccination Act. This matter will receive the consideration of the Lieutenant-Governor.

Lascar crews.

10. The total death-rate among the lascar crews on the river was 4·04 per 1,000 against 3·56 per 1,000 during the year 1886. The lascars appear to have been generally well treated.

Corpses and carcasses floating in the river.

11. In his report for 1886, the Health Officer drew attention to the practice of throwing corpses and carcasses into the river, and that of discharging into it night-soil and sewage from different sources. This point was noticed in paragraph 7 of the Resolution dated the 20th May 1887, recorded by this Government, reviewing the report. A Conference, consisting of the Commissioners of the Presidency and Burdwan Divisions, the Chairman of the Port Commissioners, Calcutta, and the Commissioner of Police, was appointed to consider the matter. Their report has been received, and further action is now being taken in the matter.

There was a considerable increase in the number of corpses floating down the river, the number disposed of being 106 against 70 in 1886 and 50 in 1885, but it is satisfactory to learn that the number of carcasses, 3,169, found in the river shows a large decrease on any year since 1883, during which the numbers varied from 3,749 to 4,853.

Conservancy. Sanitary defects.

12. There has been a general improvement in the conservancy of the foreshore of the river, many of the nuisances formerly complained of having been abated. But the sewer on the Howrah side, which discharges its contents into the river at the Salt Golahs, still continues to cause serious nuisance. The Sanitary Commissioner, in his Inspection Report of the Howrah Municipality for 1886, suggested that the storm-water and sewage of the greater portion of the Municipality should be carried to the westward, and discharged through the natural drainage channels of the country, and that the Commissioners should take an engineer's opinion as to the possibility of carrying the sewage of the drain emptying near the Salt Golahs Ghât across the Grand Trunk road to the westward. The Municipal Commissioners of Howrah will be asked to report what steps they are taking in this matter.

Dr. Lynch states that the latrine of the Port Commissioners in their workshop at Howrah still discharges its contents into the river, and that the British India Steam Navigation Company have opened a drain into the river from a latrine in one of their workshops at Howrah. The Port Commissioners stated in their letter No. 750, dated 25th June 1887, that the latrine referred to by the Health Officer was perfectly efficient, but subsequently it appears to have been arranged with the Sanitary Commissioner that the latrine should be removed to another site, as in its present position river pollution cannot, it is stated, be altogether avoided. The Commissioners will be asked to state what has been done in the matter.

The British India Steam Navigation Company will be asked to consider the Health Officer's remarks, and to make arrangements which will ensure that the river will not be polluted by discharges from their workshops.

Conclusion.

13. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice that the year under review was characterised by a marked improvement in the general conservancy of the foreshore of the river, and that some of the chief sources of river pollution, viz., the Calcutta flushing inlets, Tolly's Nullah, and the Dunkâti khal, have been improved.

The Lieutenant-Governor endorses the commendation bestowed upon Dr. Lynch by the Sanitary Commissioner for the energy and efficiency displayed by him in the performance of his duties. His Honour also notices with pleasure that the native Sanitary Inspector, Babu Nundo Lall Haldar, has performed his duties satisfactorily.

RESOLUTION ON THE EMBANKMENT REPORTS FOR THE YEAR 1886-87.

No. 1451I.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

IRRIGATION.

Calcutta, the 13th August 1888.

RESOLUTION.

READ—

The Embankment Reports for 1886-87.

The grant for the maintenance of embankments for the year 1886-87 was—

			Rs.
Government embankments	...	...	5,31,000
Tuccavee ditto	...	...	1,32,000
	Total	...	6,62,000

The expenditure was as follows:—

			Rs.
Government embankments	...	...	5,45,436
Tuccavee ditto	...	...	84,340
	Total	...	6,29,776

2. The accompanying statement shews the lengths of embankments in each Civil Division and District in Bengal other than Orissa, maintained either directly by Government or at the cost of zemindars. The embankments mentioned in Schedule D to Bengal Act No. II of 1882 are maintained at Government expense. Those classed as tuccavee are maintained at the cost of zemindars, either under contract for a fixed term of years, or under annual estimates for repairs.

3. The total length of D Schedule Embankments, and the cost of maintenance of the same, exclusive of establishment and tools and plant, during the year under review, as compared with those of the previous year, are shown below—

YEAR.	Length.		Cost.
	Miles.	Feet.	Rs.
1886-87	1,184	332	2,20,658
1885-86	1,184	4,535	2,13,754

4. The slight decrease in length during 1886-87 of 4,203 feet was due to a correction made in the classification of this portion, which has been brought under its proper head "Tuccavee," and not to any actual diminution in length. The excess in the cost of maintenance during 1886-87, Rs. 76,904, was chiefly due to special flood repairs and construction of retired lines. The figures noted above include the embankments, measuring in length 437 miles and 3,302 feet, kept up for the protection of the Burdwan Raj Estate, and their cost of maintenance amounted during 1886-87 to Rs. 1,31,764, against Rs. 80,210 of the year previous, the annual amount received from the Maharajah for maintenance being Rs. 53,742.

5. The tuccavee embankments under contract are the Gunduck embankments in the districts of Sarun, Chumparun, and Tirhoot, and the zemindari embankments in the Midnapore district, situated on the Cossye and the Kaliaghye rivers. There was no variation in the length of the Gunduck embankments, which remained the same as before, viz., 236 miles and 4,622 feet. But the length of these embankments in the Midnapore district (242 miles and 184 feet) is now correctly given. The total length of these embankments, 478 miles and 4,806 feet, was maintained in good order.

6. The average mileage rate for maintenance of Schedule D Embankments, as shown in the accompanying list, is Rs. 245·47, or Rs. 65·47 more than that of the previous year, an excess chiefly due to the increased expenditure on account of repairs of heavy damages from the floods of the previous year. For tuccavee embankments under contract, the average rate is Rs. 158, or Rs. 10 below that for last year.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, DURING THE MONTH OF JULY 1888.

THE month of July in Bengal is one of the most important of the whole year from a meteorological point of view, for it is the first complete month of the actual monsoon period. It is generally the case that the complete establishment of the two great branches of the monsoon current does not take place till quite the end of June or beginning of July, and usually the rainfall in the Lower Provinces in July is heavier than during any other month of the year. Another reason why the meteorology of this month is important is that the distribution of the rains in July generally gives a rough indication of the probable distribution of the rainfall during the whole of the monsoon period.

The circumstances and conditions of the establishment of the south-west monsoon have been dealt with in previous reports, and it has been pointed out that, while during June the rainfall in Bengal is usually almost entirely brought up by the Bay of Bengal monsoon current, at the end of this month, or commencement of July, the conditions change, and the Bombay branch of the monsoon, blowing from the Indian Ocean and the Arabian Sea, advances slowly across Central India and the Central Provinces, and makes its influence felt in Bengal, and particularly in the western districts of the province. In its forward progress the Bombay current meets the Bay of Bengal monsoon current, and the interaction between the two currents gives rise to ascensional motion, which, according to well-known physical laws, causes condensation of the aqueous vapour in the form of rain. The Arabian Sea branch of the monsoon current therefore exercises a considerable influence on the rainfall in Behar, Chutia Nagpur and Bengal generally during July.

The Bay of Bengal current, if it alone prevailed, as is usually the case in June, would undoubtedly deposit the greater part of its vapour as rain in the neighbourhood of the sea coast, and along the areas nearest to the hills in the east and north of the province. The interaction between the two branches of the monsoon current is undoubtedly greatest in the western districts of the province, and therefore tends to give heavier rainfall to Chutia Nagpur, South Behar and West Orissa, or to those parts of the province which would receive the smallest amounts of rain from the direct action of the Bay of Bengal branch; that is, the combined effect of the two branches is to produce in normal years a fairly uniform rainfall over the whole province. The amount of the interaction between the two branches of the monsoon current will depend on two things—first, on the relative strengths of the two currents; and second, on the position or direction in which the currents meet, for as the Bengal current is changed by the physical configuration of the country over which it is flowing from a south-westerly wind at the head of the Bay, first into a southerly, then into a south-easterly, and finally into an easterly current, it is evident that interaction with the westerly current will be more marked in Behar, where the Bay of Bengal current is easterly, than it will be in Orissa, where it is south-westerly. Thus in normal years the rainfall in the western parts of Behar and of Chutia Nagpur is practically entirely brought about by the interaction above described.

It must, however, be remembered that the south-west monsoon winds are by no means steady. They blow vigorously for a few days, giving more or less general rain, and then fall off in strength, when the rainfall becomes local. A fresh inrush of winds then occurs, followed by general rainfall with subsequent lulls as just described. It is during these periods of comparative calm that conditions become favourable for the generation of small cyclonic storms, which in most cases are formed near the head of the Bay, though they also, but more rarely, may form over the land. With the advance of these cyclonic storms heavy rain generally occurs, and it depends to a great extent on the character of these small storms or atmospheric whirls, that is, whether they are of concentrated or of diffused nature, whether the rainfall which accompanies their advance falls only near the path of the storm, or whether it is widely diffused over a large portion of the province. With the advance of these storms strong humid winds generally set in over the whole province, giving rise to general rain for some days. The precise conditions which determine the formation of these storms are, however, not clearly understood, and while in some years a constant succession of such storms will occur, in other years they may be almost absent, or at all events very few of any importance occur.

It will thus be seen that the meteorological conditions of July depend mainly on two points—first, on the character and intensity of the two monsoon currents from the Bay of Bengal and Arabian Sea; and second, on the occurrence, nature and paths of the small cyclonic storms which frequently occur in the rainy season.

Average distribution of the rainfall in July—Two lines of maximum normal rainfall may be traced in Bengal during July. The first line is more or less parallel to the sea coast, and is caused by the humid winds from the Bay of Bengal. The second line of maximum rainfall is more or less parallel to the hill ranges in the east and north of the province, and this is accounted for by the well-known fact that these ranges cause ascensional motion of the Bay of Bengal current, and consequent precipitation of heavy rainfall. The line of 20 inches average rainfall in July runs through the Eastern Bengal districts at some little distance from the coast line, the distance from the coast increasing as it runs to the eastward; the second line of 20 inches average rainfall is found along the Darjeeling Hills, running almost east and west. The line of 15 inches average rainfall starts from Saugor Island and runs in an easterly direction parallel to the first-mentioned line till near the Tipperah Hills, when it suddenly turns in a north-westerly direction finally passing through Bogra and Dinagepore, where it is more or less parallel to the line of 20 inches in the Darjeeling Hills. The line of 12 inches average rainfall runs from Motihari in Northern Behar almost due south-east parallel to the 15-inch line to Rajmehal, and thence through Jessore along the borders of the Chutia Nagpur district into South Behar. Inside this area of average rainfall of less than twelve inches there are two areas of considerable interest. The first is the area of minimum rainfall of the month, which embraces the Jessore district, some parts of the Nuddea and Burdwan districts, as well as the Rajshahye district. This minimum fall is explained by the fact that this portion of Bengal is not influenced by either of the three causes which tend to produce increased rainfall: namely, it is not near the coast line when the humid winds expend their first force; it is not near any hill ranges where ascensional air motion will take place; and third, it is not under the influence of the interaction between the two branches of the monsoon current as previously described. The other area of interest is one of increased precipitation near Patna. The Chutia Nagpur Division receives during the month a normal rainfall of between twelve and fifteen inches, and this comparatively large amount is evidently produced by the interaction of the two branches of the monsoon current over this district.

Meteorology for the month.—In the report for the previous month it was stated that the monsoon rains had commenced over almost the whole of the province between the 27th and 29th of June, that is, about a fortnight later than usual. The falls up to the 29th of the month in Orissa and parts of Behar had been rather scanty, but over the remainder of the province general and moderately heavy rainfall had been received. On the whole, however, at the end of June conditions appeared to be fairly normal, but at the commencement of July the monsoon conditions became intensified by the formation of a small barometric depression.

Feeble barometric depression of July 1st to 4th.—On the 1st July, owing to a fall of the barometer, a distinct area of low pressure was formed over part of Behar and West and Central Bengal, and the lowest pressures recorded were at Ranigunge and Bhagulpore. Wind directions also showed on this day that there was a large amount of interaction taking place over the western and central parts of the province, and this was accompanied by very heavy rainfall. On the 2nd, pressure again fell at the central stations in Bengal, and the low-pressure area became more sharply defined, and a decided cyclonic circulation of winds was set up which affected the wind directions of the greater part of the province. On this day the centre of the depression was apparently between Berhampore and Ranigunge, and again heavy rain was received at many stations. On the 3rd the small depression had advanced in a north-westerly direction, and it had almost passed out of the province, and its centre was apparently to the west of Buxar and Dehree, though the western stations in Behar still showed distinctly the influence of the feeble storm. The wind circulation accompanying the depression had advanced with it, and its influence in Bengal had diminished rapidly, though again on this day moderate to heavy rain was received. The depression subsequently advanced into the North-West Provinces, where it filled up and disappeared.

On the 4th ordinary monsoon conditions obtained in Bengal, and there were no points calling for comment; but on the 5th instant again a distinct tendency to cyclonic circulation of winds appeared over parts of Western and Central Bengal, and on the morning of the 6th the circulation had been transferred to the south of Chutia Nagpur, though no definite barometric depression appears to have formed in connection with it. The existence, however, of this wind circulation again rendered conditions favourable for the production of rainfall, and moderate general rain was received in all districts except Orissa. From this date conditions continued of ordinary monsoon character up till about the morning of the 10th, when the observations generally showed that the monsoon current blowing at the head of the Bay was falling off in strength, though conditions still fairly were normal. At this time the second depression of the month was formed, and this was decidedly the most influential of all the storms generated during July, and in the Bay it gave rise to an exceedingly heavy sea and a fierce gale. The history of this small storm is shortly as follows:—

Small cyclonic storm of July 11th to 15th.—On the 11th a rather rapid fall of pressure took place across the centre of the Bay, and winds began to show a slight tendency to cyclonic circulation over the same area. On the morning of the 12th these conditions had developed into a decided barometric depression accompanied by a well-marked cyclonic circulation of winds, though the velocities registered at the coast stations were small. On the morning of this day the centre of the small storm was probably a considerable distance from land and about south-east of Gopalpore, and all the ports on the west coast from Balasore down to Cocanada were at this time warned of the existence of the storm in the Bay. During the evening of the 12th the observations received indicated that the storm had intensified slightly, and that it was approaching the land in the direction of the South Orissa coast, and at 4 A.M. on the morning of the 13th, the appropriate storm signals were hoisted in the port of Calcutta and in the river Hooghly, signifying that the storm would cross the coast to the south of False Point. The ports on the west coast were also warned of the movement of the storm at the same time. At 8 A.M. of the 13th the centre of the small storm was approaching the coast between Pooree and Gopalpore, and during the evening and night of the same day the centre crossed the coast between these two stations. Between midnight and one o'clock in the morning of the 14th, the ports on the west coast were again informed that the storm was passing inland, and the storm signals in the river and the port of Calcutta were lowered. The centre of the small storm on the morning of the 14th was to the west of Cuttack, and during the following 24 hours it advanced rapidly into Bundelkhund, where it became much more feeble, and the cyclonic circulation of winds to a great extent disappeared, and where the storm afterwards filled up.

At no time did the storm appear to be a very fierce one as judged by the wind velocities, or by the fall in the barometric pressure at the coast stations, though a most complete cyclonic circulation of winds accompanied the storm, but at sea rather bad weather undoubtedly existed. The log of the City of Cambridge has been kindly placed at the disposal of the Meteorological Office, and this steamer in her course from Ceylon to Calcutta passed through the south-east and east of the storm area, but probably at some considerable distance from its centre. The following are some portions of the description of the weather experienced by this vessel in her passage up the Bay:—On the 12th July.—"Very high sea getting up. Fierce squalls. Sea very heavy. 13th July.—Heavy gale with fierce squalls, very heavy sea, and later on wind and sea moderating. 14th July.—Hard squalls. Heavy sea. 8 P.M. arrived at Saugor." The Tibre also in her passage down the Bay at the same period reports having experienced very heavy weather, with a strong gale and an extremely high sea. It is therefore evident that the small storm was decidedly fierce at sea, though as it passed over the land it appeared to be comparatively feeble.

During the formation and existence of the small storm, as is usually the case, the rain-bearing winds were deflected from Bengal by the cyclonic circulation which had been set up, and though rainfall was probably heavy over the sea area, it was light over the large part of the province, but with the advance of the storm inland a strong monsoon current then set in over the coasts of Bengal and Orissa, and good general rain was received, the rainfall being decidedly heavy in many instances.

On the 15th a steady south-easterly and easterly monsoon current was reported over the whole province, but on the 16th the westerly winds blowing across Central India decidedly increased in force, and westerly and south-westerly winds partly drove back the south-easterly current previously obtaining, causing a considerable amount of interaction in the west of the province, and in addition a slight circulation of winds was set up over Central Behar, which gave rise to general heavy rainfall in all the western districts. On the 17th conditions were unchanged, but on the 18th they became distinctly disturbed over the west of the province and a third feeble storm was generated.

Feeble depression of July 18th to the 23rd.—On the 18th July a feeble low-pressure area existed which stretched from the north-west angle of the Bay through West Bengal into Chutia Nagpur and Behar. To the west of this area northerly winds obtained, and to the east southerly and south-easterly winds, showing a distinct tendency to cyclonic circulation. These conditions still further developed during this day, and on the morning of the 19th a distinct barometric depression had formed over part of South-West Bengal and the head of the Bay, the centre of the depression being close to the Sunderbuns and to the south-east of Saugor Island. The small storm was accompanied by a very distinct cyclonic circulation of winds, but the wind force was not large at the coast stations, though probably over the greater part of the northern half of the Bay, squally weather and strong winds obtained, and the Pilot Brigs at the Sandheads seem to have experienced a hard gale of wind. During the afternoon of the 19th the small storm advanced over the land in a north-westerly direction, the centre passing close to Saugor Island between 2 and 4 P.M., and on the morning of the 20th the centre was near Midnapore and slightly to the west of it. During the 20th the north-westerly advance of the depression continued, and on the 21st it was near Benares. It then travelled slowly westward, and on the 22nd was near Allahabad, and it had also considerably reduced in size and intensity, and on the morning of the 23rd it had almost filled up, though there were still signs of its existence between Allahabad and Jhansi.

With the inland advance of the small storm a very strong monsoon current set in over the province, and during the 24 hours from 8 A.M. of the 20th to the 21st, wind velocity at Saugor Island averaged no less than 38 miles an hour, which almost amounts to a gale of wind, and for several days strong winds continued to blow in the north-west angle of the Bay. Conditions then continued of almost normal monsoon character up till the 28th, and the only change noticeable was the gradual strengthening of the westerly element in the wind directions until the 25th, when westerly winds were reported in all districts except North Bengal and over parts of East Bengal. In these districts, however, winds were still easterly, and this gave rise to a considerable amount of interaction between the two opposing wind systems, with the usual result that very heavy rain was reported over the greater part of the province; and on this day the following heavy falls were received:—Muraria (Beerbhoom district), Chooadanga, Azimgunge, Harrishpore (Noakholly district), and Bhagulpore between four and five inches, and Krishnaghur, Cox's Bazar, Fenny, and Durbhunga between five and six inches. On the 26th the westerly winds were again partially driven back, and on the 27th the easterly current again strengthened, and westerly winds were confined to the south-west and west of the province, when again at this time another depression was formed.

Feeble depression of 29th July to 2nd August.—On the 28th ordinary monsoon conditions obtained, but on the 29th an extremely feeble low-pressure area was developed over part of West and South-West Bengal which was accompanied by a distinct cyclonic circulation of winds, the centre of the circulation being near Burdwan. On the 30th the feeble low-pressure area had almost disappeared, but on the 31st it was again distinctly marked over West Bengal, the centre of the depression and of the accompanying cyclonic circulation of winds being near Bankoora. The depression afterwards advanced in a north-westerly direction, and on 1st August it was in Behar, the centre being near Gya, and on the morning of the 2nd the depression had passed out of the province and had disappeared.

Again, with the advance of the small depression through the western districts heavy rain was received at the western and central stations of the province, though the falls are comparatively small in the northern districts

It will thus be seen that no less that four barometric depressions were formed during the month, two being land-formed depressions and two being formed over the Bay. The latter were of moderate intensity, but only one of them gave really bad weather at sea.

As the result of the conditions above described, rainfall has been distinctly in excess of the normal in all districts except Orissa, and even in this district the fall has equalled about five-sixths of the usual amount.

Strength of the monsoon.—The strength of the monsoon current blowing from the Bay over Bengal from year to year can only be judged by the wind velocities at the coast stations. In the table below are given the actual daily wind velocities for July compared with the normal values for the same period at all the stations on and near the coast line from Diamond Island round to Gopalpore, at which wind observations have been made for a sufficient length of time to give a reliable average. Of the ten stations representing the coast line of practically the whole of the province, six show wind velocities considerably in excess of the normal, while at four only have velocities been smaller than usual. The stations at which the defects have been registered are in the south and south-east of the province as represented by such stations as Chittagong, Dacca and Jessore, but at Saugor Island, on the other hand, velocities have been largely in excess of the normal. Taking into consideration both the cases of defect and excess, it would therefore appear that on the average the strength of the monsoon current has been about equal to that in former years:—

	Actual average wind velocity for July 1888. Miles per day.	Normal wind velocity in July. Miles per day.	Variation of actual for July 1888 from the normal.
Diamond Island	233	210·3	+ 22·7

Pressure.—The actual variations of pressure in different districts of the province during the month have to a great extent been governed by the general meteorological conditions above described. In the first week of the month the general average pressure was 0·029 inch in defect of the normal. In the second week the general mean pressure of Bengal was 0·012 inch in defect, but in the south-western districts, which were affected by the passage of the cyclonic storm, the defect was about 0·04 inch. In the third week pressure was again generally below the normal, the defects being largest in the south-western districts, where they equalled about 0·04 inch, though over the whole province the defect was not much larger than 0·02 inch, and this general defect remained almost unaltered till the end of the month. The average pressure of the whole province for the month has therefore been in defect of the normal by 0·014 inch. In Assam pressure has been below the normal by 0·006 inch.

Temperature.—Except in Orissa, where temperature has been in excess of the normal for the greater part of the month, the variations of temperature from the normal have been generally small, and in most instances the temperatures recorded have been below the normal. In Orissa the mean temperature for the month has been in excess by about one degree, and in North Behar there has been an almost corresponding defect, while in other districts the variations are generally less than half a degree. For the whole province the mean temperature for the month has been 0·3° below the normal. In Assam the temperature has also been below the normal, and the defect is 0·8°.

Rainfall.—So far as can be judged by the general meteorological conditions as described in the summary, the strength of the two great branches of the monsoon current has been about equal to the normal, and thus conditions generally have been favourable for rainfall. The effect of these conditions has been increased by the formation of the four barometric depressions also previously described, and which have brought up heavy rain over a large part of the province. The actual average falls in the various large meteorological districts have varied from about ten inches in Orissa to nearly twenty inches in East Bengal. All districts except Orissa show falls equal to or in excess of the normal, and the general result in all these districts has been to show that rainfall has been about 20 to 30 per cent. in excess of the normal, while in Orissa the fall has been in defect by about 20 per cent. If it be assumed that the seven meteorological districts have an equal value in the calculation, then the average rainfall of the whole of Bengal for July may be said to have been in excess of the normal by 18 per cent.

The comparison of the actual rainfall of the various great divisions of the province during July with the normal is most accurately shown in the form of a percentage. The figures representing the rainfall for the month, calculated in this way, are included in the table below under the heading of July. This table really gives a condensed summary of the rainfall statistics of the present year up to date for each meteorological division, the first seven columns giving the actual rainfalls in each division in each month expressed as a percentage of the normal, while the eighth column of figures shows the actual rainfall for the first seven months of the year expressed as a percentage of the normal for the period; the figure 100 will therefore in this table represent a normal rainfall, a number larger than 100 an excess fall, and so on :—

	January.	February.	March.	April.	May.	June.	July.	Actual rainfall of first seven months of 1888 expressed as a percentage of the normal fall for the period.
Orissa	4·0	193	41	46	92	80	81	71
South-West Bengal	207	125	67	141	62	87	151	95
East Bengal	258	109	119	221	90	83	120	10
North Bengal	53	73	133	180	95	69	100	91
North Behar	79	4	132	348	102	61	130	107
South Behar	157	17	19	69	59	39	136	94
Chutia Nagpur	235	104	5	84	39	30	128	84

The variations of the actual rainfalls in July in different districts of the province have been excessive. Thus the largest falls recorded have been in the Chittagong and Noakholly districts of South-East Bengal, where Cox's Bazar has received 61·25 inches, Kutubdia 42·13 inches, Hurishpore 45·24 inches, and Feuny 35·47 inches; while in North Bengal heavy falls have been recorded in the Darjeeling and Julpigoree districts, where Buxa reports 42·92 inches, Darjeeling 39·42 inches, Julpigoree 35·75 inches, and Kalimpong 32·61 inches. The smallest falls on the other hand have been received in some of the districts in Orissa and over an area lying almost east and west across the centre of the province. These comparatively small falls are represented at such stations as Pooree which has only received 3·51 inches during the month, and by such stations as the following which have received falls of about 8 inches or less :—Khurdah and Banpur in the Pooree district; Kendrapara, Salipur, and Cuttack in the Cuttack district; Nanihat in the Sonthal Pergunnahs district; Mohania in Shahabad; Siuhar in Mozufferpore district; Ulipore, Rungpore, and Bhowanigunge in the Rungpore district; Baloorghat in the Dinagepore district; Beauleah in the Rajshahye district Bogra, Nasirnagar, and Kasba in the Tipperah district; and Agartolah in Hill Tipperah. It will thus be seen that though the general distribution of the rainfall resembles the normal in being heaviest in the south-east and north of the province, yet there are decided differences from the normal in the actual falls. Over a district in the east and north-east of the province, and in the extreme south-western districts generally rainfalls have been decidedly below the normal, and in some cases the defects are large. On the other hand the falls have been in excess of the normal over an area including a considerable part of South-East and South Bengal, and stretching in a north-westerly direction, so as to include the whole of the centre of the province, Chutia Nagpore, Behar, and parts of North Bengal. The actual amounts of the variation from the normal are at many stations large, and thus at Rungpore, the fall has been 7·9 inches in defect of the normal, at Mymensingh 6·59 inches, at Pooree 6·40 inches and at Saugor Island 6·46 inches; while an excess fall of no less than 19·94 inches is reported at Cox's Bazar, and falls more than 10 inches in excess at Ranaghat, Khoolna, Bongong, Noakhally, Patuakhally, Kalimpong, Monghyr, and Bhagulpore.

The following table gives full data for the comparison of the actual and the normal rainfall for the month of July in all districts of the province of Bengal. The figures are derived from the actual and the average rainfall of the rain-recording stations in each district, due allowance or weight being made for the area which each station represents. This gives a more accurate average than the arithmetical means given in the weekly and monthly meteorological tables. The first column gives the normal or average district rainfall as determined from the rainfall observations of the past 15 years. The second column gives the actual district rainfall as determined from the weighted actual rainfalls of the month at the reporting stations in each district. The third column expresses the ratio of the actual district rainfall of the past month to the normal rainfall as a percentage. The fourth column gives the same information as the third column in a slightly different form. It states as a percentage how much the district rainfall of the month has varied in excess or defect from the normal rainfall, and is hence the difference between the numbers in the third column and 100 :—

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the readings during the same period for the last ten years.

The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as percentage, saturation being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number of the numerical means or averages of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the Sub-divisional stations for the period in question during the past 10 stations in the district (each of which returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

* Means for six days.

CALCUTTA, the 17th August 1888.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 10TH OF AUGUST 1888.

At the close of the previous week a small depression which had formed in South-West Bengal had advanced in a north-westerly direction, and had passed out of the province, leaving conditions in Bengal of ordinary monsoon character, except that the monsoon current blowing in the Bay was rather more strongly westerly than usual. On the 4th August, or the first day of the present week, a rather rapid fall of pressure took place, the fall being largest at Saugor Island, where it amounted to 0·075 inch. These changes accompanied the formation of a slight but distinct barometric depression over the Sunderbuns, the centre of which was to the south-east of Saugor Island, and which was accompanied by a distinct, though feeble, cyclonic circulation of winds. The formation and continued existence of this depression have formed the only feature of importance in the meteorology of the present week. It continued to be an extremely feeble but remarkably persistent storm, and remained almost unchanged in position and intensity in the north-west angle of the Bay until nearly the close of the week, the centre drifting gradually to the south and south-west of Saugor Island up till the 8th, when the centre was close to the coast, and on the morning of the 9th the centre had advanced inland and was to the south-west of Calcutta. During this day the feeble storm continued to move in a westerly direction, and on the morning of the 10th the centre was in the Singbhoom district of Chutia Nagpur, the centre being near Chyebassa, and during the whole of its existence the depression was accompanied by a feeble cyclonic circulation of winds which, however, affected the wind directions over a considerable area of the province.

During the existence of this storm at the head of the Bay the indraught towards it and the general cyclonic circulation set up prevented the ordinary monsoon winds from flowing over Bengal, and for the greater part of the week rainfall has been rather light and local in the majority of districts. In the case of Orissa and the south-western districts of South-West Bengal, however, as these districts were under the immediate influence of the depression, rainfall has been general almost throughout the week, and as the depression passed inland it brought up heavy rainfall, generally in Orissa and parts of South-West Bengal, and particularly to the Balasore district. With the further inland advance of the depression rather heavy rain fell in Chutia Nagpur, and the monsoon current then commenced to spread generally over Bengal, making conditions again favourable for general rainfall over the whole province. During the week, therefore, rainfall has been decidedly in excess of the normal in Orissa, while it has been in moderate defect in South-West Bengal and Chutia Nagpur, and in rather large defect in all other districts.

Pressure—Has been to a great extent influenced by the continued existence of the depression previously described. Taking the mean pressure over the whole week at those stations in the province which yield the most reliable averages, it has been found to be below the normal by 0·052 inch; but while the defect at False Point and Saugor Island is 0·086 inch, and at Balasore 0·091 inch, at Durbhunga pressure has been exactly normal, and at Purneah a defect of only 0·028 inch has been registered. Thus the general pressure distribution of the province during the week has been clearly governed by the existence of the depression in the north-west angle of the Bay. In Assam the mean pressure has been below the normal by 0·039 inch.

Temperature.—Owing to the comparatively small rainfall over the province during the week, temperature has been considerably in excess of the normal in nearly all districts In Orissa, where the rainfall has been heavy, temperature has been practically normal; in Chutia Nagpur, South-West Bengal, and North Behar an excess temperature of from 1° to 2° has been registered, and in East Bengal, North Bengal, and South Behar the excess has been from 2° to 3°. The general temperature of the province for the week has thus been 1·8° in excess of the normal. In Assam also temperature has been in excess by 1·4.°

Rainfall.—The heaviest falls, as previously described, have occurred in Orissa, which shows an average fall for the week of 4·90 inches, which is 2·34 inches in excess, or nearly twice the normal fall; the next heaviest falls have occurred in Chutia Nagpur, the stations in which average 2·16 inches, which is about 30 per cent. less than the usual fall. In South-West and East Bengal the falls average from one to one and-a-half inches only, and in North Bengal and Behar the falls average less than an inch; in all these cases the falls are very largely in defect of the normal, and in some cases the actual falls are not more than about a fifth of the usual quantity.

The falls during the week have been exceptionally heavy in the following smaller districts:—Pooree and Balasore; and they have been exceptionally light in Moorshedabad, Dacca, Bogra, Maldah, Dinagepore, Rungpore, Cooch Behar, Purneah, North Bhagulpore, Durbhunga, Sarun, and Shahabad.

In Assam during the week the following rainfalls have been reported:—At Silchar 9·85 inches, at Dhubri 4·65 inches, and at Sibsagar 2 13 inches.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the week ending Friday, the 10th of August 1888 :—

The total fall from 1st January to 11th August 1888	31·56
The average fall of the corresponding period for 24 years, S. G.'s Office ...	39·03

The mean pressure, temperature, &c, are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph, and from observations made at 6h, 10h, 16h and 22h.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

o overcast, g gloomy, d drizzling rain, p passing temporary showers, t thunder, ≺ lighting, ≏ dew.

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census them. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans above alluded to cannot be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorised form of age classification.

General remarks on the fluctuation of principal staples carried over the East Indian Railway during five weeks ended 30th June 1888.

INCREASES.

Coal and coke.—There were increases in both the upwards and downwards despatches. The upward increases were almost exclusively from Giridih, and the downward increases were principally from Barakar and Sitarampur, and were due to large private orders for delivery at Howrah.

Rice (husked and unhusked).—The increase was principally in despatches from the loop line stations to stations up-country, where the demand for cheap food-grains still continued.

Government Stores.—This increase was due to large despatches of ordnance stores from Howrah.

Minerals.—The increase was principally in lime from Raneegunge as during previous months for the Kidderpore Dock-works, and from Katui for general consumption.

Iron.—Due to despatches from Howrah vid Chitpur, Barakar and Agra.

Oil.—This increase was almost entirely in kerosine oil from Howrah.

Salt.—Chiefly in the despatches of imported salt from Howrah and in Sambhar salt vid Agra.

Saltpetre.—The increase was principally in despatches from the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway vid Cawnpore to Howrah.

Seeds.—The increase was principally in linseed and mustard and rape seed. In linseed the increases were largely due to despatches from the Dinapore district, and from Foreign Railways having their junctions on that district. In mustard and rape seed the principal stations contributing the increase were Allahabad, Cawnpore, and Delhi, and the Oudh and Rohilkhund Railway stations vid Maghalsarai to Barh, Bhagulpore and Rampore Haut for local consumption.

Spices.—In chillies as in previous months.

Stone.—The increase was for the most part in despatches of stone from Mirzapur and adjacent stations.

Sugar, refined and unrefined.—The increase was principally in short distance consignments from the Oudh and Rohilkhund Railway.

Tobacco.—The increase was satisfactory, and was due to despatches from Barh, Patna Ghât vid Sahebgunge and vid Digha Ghât.

Bones.—This is a comparatively new traffic consequent on the setting up of crushing mills near Calcutta, and appears to be still growing.

Potatoes.—The increase, as in May, was principally from Patna.

DECREASES.

Cotton.—As in previous months the decrease must be ascribed to failure of crops.

Wheat.—Due to the generally poor outturn of the Bengal crop and to the low prices ruling at home.

Gram and pulses.—Due to absence of demand from districts, which last year, owing to poor crops, were compelled to buy their food supplies in other marts.

Other rain and spring crops.—The same reason may be ascribed for the decrease under this head, as in the case of gram and pulses.

Lac.—Due to large stock of shellac on hand in the English market and no demand.

Brass and copper.—Due to high prices being maintained in the market.

Ghee.—Due to ordinary fluctuation of trade.

Railway material, foreign.—There were no despatches this year vid Jubbulpore, and the traffic from Howrah was principally to Asansol for the Bengal-Nagpur Railway, or over a short distance only.

BAY OF BENGAL.

CHITTAGONG COAST.

THE following arrangements for Weather Signals for the Port of Chittagong, extracted from the Calcutta Gazette of the 10th August 1887, are republished :—

Signals for the Port of Chittagong.—The following storm-signals will be used within the limits of the Port of Chittagong to give notice to the shipping and general public of the early approach of a cyclone with its attendant storm-wave. They will be hoisted on the flagstaff at the Sudder ghât and on the yardarm of the flagstaff at Jooldia on the receipt of instructions from the Meteorological Office :—

1. Day warning signal.

A ball indicates that a cyclone, of which the centre is in the north-east of the Bay, is advancing towards the mouth of the river Karnafuli, and will probably advance towards Chittagong.

2. Day danger signal.

A drum indicates that a cyclone, which may or may not be accompanied by a destructive storm-wave, is approaching Chittagong. (It should be remembered that the force and destructive effect of a storm-wave will depend very considerably upon the state of the tides at the time when the storm centre strikes the Chittagong coast.)

3. Night warning signal.

Three lights in a vertical line indicate that a cyclone, of which the centre is in the north-east angle of the Bay, is advancing towards the mouth of the river, and will probably advance towards Chittagong.

4. Night danger signal.

Two lights in a vertical line indicate the early approach of a cyclonic storm to the Port of Chittagong.

I.—The Commander of every vessel, including buggalows or other native craft, arriving from Barus Island off Sumatra shall, before entering the harbour, indicate by signal the port from which such vessel has come.

II.—Such Commander shall not, except as hereinafter provided, allow any communication, either with the pilot boat, except orally, or with the shore, or with any other vessel or boat in the harbour.

III.—Immediately on arrival, the Commander shall cause the letter R of the Commercial Signal Code to be hoisted, and shall keep the said flag flying during his stay in port, or until authorized by the Health Officer to haul it down. If communication with the shore is not desired, the vessel shall anchor at such place as may be pointed out by the Port authorities, having regard to the season of the year. If communication with the shore is desired, the Health Officer shall go alongside the vessel, and, after all necessary enquiries, shall direct the Commander to take the vessel to the quarantine anchorage duly appointed and notified in that behalf by the Resident, there to remain for a period of seven days from the date of arrival, or for the shorter period prescribed in Rule IV, and undergo disinfection, which should apply as well to crew, passengers, effects, and suspectible goods.

IV.—If the Health Officer of the Port has sufficient evidence that no cases of a suspicious nature have taken place on board during the voyage, and if the vessel is besides in good hygienic condition, the duration of the quarantine will be diminished according to the following scale:—

After eight days of voyage		...	...	six days of quarantine.

VI.—When any vessel has been placed in quarantine as aforesaid, the Health Officer may direct the removal of so many of the passengers and crew as may not be suffering from illness, and whose services may not be required on board the vessel, to such particular spots as may from time to time be selected by the Resident as places of quarantine, there to remain for a period of seven days. If a case of cholera occurs among such passengers and crew during any such period, they shall remain in a place of quarantine for a period of fifteen days from the date of the occurrence of the last case of such illness.

VII.—Any mails or cargo which may be brought by any vessel so arriving shall be landed under such precautions as the Health Officer may deem necessary to prevent the spread of the disease.

VIII.—It will be the duty of the Port Officer to facilitate the conveyance to all vessels in quarantine of such supplies of provisions, stores and other articles as may be required by those on board. Such supplies will be placed on the boats of the vessels in quarantine to be subsequently removed by members of their crews.

IX.—All vessels arriving at Aden and Perim, which may have communicated with vessels coming from Barus Island off Sumatra, shall be subjected to the same quarantine as vessels arriving at Aden and Perim from that Port.

COLMAN MACAULAY,
Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

BYE-LAWS.

Regulating the conduct of business in the meeting.

CHAPTER I.

1. The ordinary meetings prescribed by section 38 of the Act shall be held at the office of the Commissioners at a fixed hour of a fixed day of each month to be decided upon at the last ordinary meeting of the preceding year.

2. In the event of the Chairman or Vice-Chairman determining to call a special meeting, not less than three clear days' notice shall be given to the Commissioners of the day fixed for such special meeting.

3. A notice of the business to be brought forward at every meeting shall be circulated, by hand or post, to each Commissioner, and shall be hung up at the office of the Commissioners not less than three days before the date of the meeting.

4. Any Commissioner desirous of submitting any motion to the meeting must forward a copy of such motion to the Chairman not less than seven days before the date of such meeting for incorporation in the notice of business. A notice book shall be kept in the office of the Commissioners, in which all notices of motions shall be entered. All such notices shall be dated and numbered as received.

5. At ordinary meetings the business shall be transacted in the following order, unless the President, with the consent of the majority of the members present, determine otherwise:—

(a) The minutes of the last ordinary meeting and of any special meeting since held shall be laid before the meeting, and if approved as correctly entered, shall be signed by the Chairman. No discussion as to the propriety or otherwise of any resolution duly passed shall be allowed.

(b) Any business postponed from the last ordinary meeting.

(c) The business contained in the notice of the meeting prescribed by Rule 3 above in the order in which it appears in the notice paper, unless the President, with the consent of the majority of the members present, determine otherwise.

(d) Additional business brought forward by the President with the consent of the majority of the members present, provided that any decision recorded or resolution adopted in regard to such business shall be subject to confirmation by the next ordinary meeting.

6. At an adjourned meeting no business, save that which the original meeting left unfinished, shall be transacted except as provided in Rule 9 below.

7. At a special meeting no business save that for which the meeting was called shall be transacted, except as provided in Rule 9 below.

8. It shall be competent to any Commissioner to move a resolution to the effect that the subject under consideration be referred to a Committee, and such Commissioner may also at the same time propose the names of the members to form such Committee.

9. Provided, however, that any additional business may be brought forward at an adjourned or special meeting subject to the conditions of Rule 5(d) above, and also subject (in case of an adjourned meeting) to the full quorum required by section 42 of the Act being present.

10. Every motion or amendment shall be reduced to writing, and seconded before being put to the meeting or debated. The mover of any motion or amendment may withdraw the same at any period of the debate.

11. Every amendment shall be so worded as to form an intelligible sentence, either alone or in its proper place in an original motion, as the case may be; provided that no amendment can merely negative the original motion.

12. In discussing questions coming before the meeting, a Commissioner shall speak from his place, shall rise when he speaks, and address the President. A Commissioner shall not be allowed to read his speech, but he may refresh his memory by referring to notes, and he may read as part of his speech passages from books or papers cited in support of his argument. At any time if the President rises, any Commissioner speaking shall immediately resume his seat. No Commissioner shall be heard except upon business then regularly before the meeting, or by permission of the President specially obtained in explanation of what he had said in a previous debate. No Commissioner other than the mover shall speak more than once upon a question, except by way of interpellation or by permission of the President; but the mover shall be allowed, if he has spoken to the question when making his motion, to close the debate with a reply. A Commissioner, who has spoken upon a motion, may speak once again upon any amendment thereof afterwards moved. And a Commissioner may explain by permission of the President what he has before spoken, if it has been misunderstood. No Commissioner in debate shall name another Commissioner.

13. Votes shall be taken either by show of hands or by poll, or by both. The votes of the Commissioners at a poll shall be taken by the President. Any three Commissioners present may demand a poll. When the show of hands has been taken, the President shall declare whether the resolution has been carried or not, and every matter shall be held to be decided and concluded on such declaration being made, unless a poll be at once demanded.

14. Voting by proxy is prohibited; and no member may vote upon any motion or amendment unless he be present in person at the time when it is put to the vote.

15. When an amendment upon any motion is moved, or when two or more such amendments are moved, the President, when taking the sense of the meeting thereon, shall read the terms of the original motion and of the amendment or amendments proposed. If there be but one amendment proposed, the question shall be put as proposed to be amended. If the amendment be carried in the affirmative, the original motion falls; but if the amendment be negatived, the original question shall be put to the meeting. If more than one amendment be proposed, the President shall put that amendment first, which he thinks may most conveniently be first disposed of; and so, if necessary, of all the others. If any motion as made involves several points, the President, at his discretion may divide it, so that each point may be determined separately.

16. When any Commissioner shall have occasion to ask a question of another Commissioner relating to the business of the meeting, he shall ask the question through the President.

17. Subject to the foregoing rules, the President shall regulate the course of all business brought before any meeting of the Commissioners. He shall preserve order, and all points of order shall be decided by him. No discussion on any point of order shall be allowed, unless the President shall think fit to take the opinion of the Commissioners thereon. Any Commissioner may at any time submit a point of order for the decision of the President.

18. Any member speaking or otherwise interrupting while another addresses the meeting shall be considered out of order, and any member out of order may be called to order by the President.

19. No subject once finally disposed of can be reconsidered within six months, except on a requisition signed by not less than two-thirds of the Commissioners.

20. For the purpose of taking into consideration any particular business, a meeting may resolve itself into a Committee of the whole of the Commissioners present. When this has been determined, the rule prohibiting any person from speaking except when standing or more than once on the same question shall be deemed suspended until the meeting resumes.

21. The Commissioners in meeting may from time to time appoint such and so many Committees, either of a general or special nature, and consisting of such Commissioners as they think fit, for any purposes which, in the opinion of the meeting, can be conveniently regulated and managed by such Committees; but the business transacted by any such Committee shall be subject to the approval of the Commissioners in meeting.

22. The members of each such Committee shall hold office for one year only, but shall be eligible for re-appointment.

23. Any member of a Committee who, without the previous permission of the Chairman of the Commissioners, shall fail to attend three consecutive meetings of such Committee, shall thereby cease to be a member thereof, and the Committee shall apply to the Commissioners to appoint another member in his place.

24. A Committee may meet and adjourn as it thinks proper. The quorum shall consist of not less than three of its members. The President shall be the Chairman of the Commissioners, or, in his absence the Vice-Chairman, or, in their absence, any member present elected by the meetting. The rule prohibiting any person from speaking except when standing, or more than once on the same question, shall not apply to meetings of a Committee.

25. Except as otherwise provided by the preceding two rules, the provisions of the law and of these rules so far as they relate to the conduct of business at meetings of the Commissioners shall apply generally to Committee meetings.

CHAPTER II.

Any person failing to do so shall be liable to a penalty not exceeding Rs. 5 for the omission, and to a penalty not exceeding Rs. 2 for every day the omission shall, after warning, continue.

Any person submitting a false or incorrect schedule or return shall be liable to a penalty of Rs. 20, provided that nothing in this bye-law shall be held to prevent the institution of a criminal prosecution under the Penal Code, should the facts appear to warrant such a proceeding.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE RAJSHAHYE DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1887-88.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Dated Calcutta, the 21st August 1888.

READ—

The Annual Administration Report of the Rajshahye Division for the year 1887-88.

The Commissioner's report is, in point of length, an improvement on its predecessors; but it might with advantage have been still further abridged. The Lieutenant-Governor observes, for instance, that too much space has been devoted to a summary of each District and Sub-divisional Officer's tour; it is sufficient under this head to show that the Commissioner has satisfied himself that the important duty of personal inspection has been properly attended to. The accounts given show however that all officers, including the Commissioner, were fully alive to the importance of this duty.

2. The rainfall was more abundant than usual, and is described as having been, on the whole, well distributed and favourable to agriculture. The Commissioner considers that the condition of the agricultural classes, who comprise the bulk of the population, is prosperous and progressive. Rents are generally light, land abundant, and work easily procurable. There is an entire absence of emigration from the Division, and it is reported that difficulty is experienced in several districts in getting the inhabitants themselves to do the work of ordinary coolies. Compared with the average of the five preceding years, common rice was cheaper everywhere, while wages continued to maintain a high standard. It is undoubtedly the case that in this division there is no normal insufficiency of food among any class Mr. Lowis writes:—"The railway has given an outlet to the produce of the fields, and has cheapened all articles of convenience, comfort and luxury. In their clothing, utensils and general surroundings, the people of the present generation are much better off than their forefathers. I may, however, add that there is not much thrift among them, their profits being too often expended in expensive marriages and other ceremonies. There is no margin left to fall back on in the event of distress."

3. In four districts there was an increase in mortality, and in the other three a decrease; but the figures for the division, as a whole, show approximately 5,500 more deaths than in the previous year—a circumstance which must be attributed to the prevalence of fever, as well as to improved registration. There was a slight falling off in the number of vaccine operations, and a feeling of distrust on the part of certain classes of the population is apparently still observable, although the increasing popularity of vaccination in Darjeeling is noticed by Mr. Lowis for the second time.

4. The total trade of the Division is roughly estimated at nine crores of rupees, as against ten in the year 1886-87; and with regard to manufactures there is said to have been no noticeable change. The statistics furnished of the sales at the Nekmurd fair show surprising variations from the figures given in previous years. The number of oxen and cows sold is stated at 70,575. If these figures have any approximation to accuracy—which is doubtful—the fair is a more important one than has hitherto been supposed. The figures for previous years, said to be understated, amount to 4 or 5,000 only. The Commissioner again comments on the extension of commerce in the division, caused by the opening out of railways and their attendant feeder roads, and the effect of this impetus to trade on the material condition and well-being of the people.

5. The Division is a backward one, and public feeling in the ordinary sense finds no expression among the mass of the people who are ignorant cultivators. Their knowledge of the provisions of new laws, such as the Tenancy Act, penetrates very slowly. The conduct of zemindars has on the whole been satisfactory, although in some cases disputes ending in litigation occurred, and particular instances of the existence of strained relations between landlords and tenants are cited.

6. In the revenue derived from excise there was an increase of Rs. 62,548: the land revenue administration shows comparatively excellent results, and the collections of income-tax were satisfactory. There was a net increase of Rs. 24,953 in the gross stamp revenue realized. The popularity of the money-order system is testified to by a steady increase in the number of transactions.

7. The Commissioner's attention is invited to the irregular and unsystematic manner in which, it appears from paragraph 46 of his report, the head-quarters' treasuries are inspected by the District Officers of his division. In Julpigoree and Dinagepore no less than 11 and 9 inspections, respectively, were made, and if these were regular inspections, as provided for in the Civil Account Code, Chapter 32, they were made somewhat oftener than is necessary. On the other hand, the Rajshahye and Darjeeling treasuries were inspected twice, the Bogra and Rungpore treasuries only once, and the Pubna treasury not at all. In regard to the last-mentioned district, the existence of a further irregularity is inferred from the statement that the cash balance was verified by the Collector when at head-quarters. The cash balance should be formally verified every month either by the Collector himself when he is present in the station, or by the officer in charge of his office during his absence.

8. There was an increase in the number of schools and educational institutions of every description, with, however, two very important exceptions—in the cases of lower primary and girls' schools. The results of the different annual examinations were, the Lieutenant-Governor regrets to find, far from satisfactory. Compared with Hindus, the Muhammadans of this Division appear to be particularly backward in the matter of education, and it is only in the lower primary schools that they are to be found in any numbers. The employment of Muhammadans under Government—a matter to which the greatest importance is properly attached by the Muhammadans themselves—must obviously depend on their own educational progress.

9. On the subject of Police and Crime, the returns call for no special comment. The remarks on the conduct of the police are of a negative, rather than a positive, character, and nowhere, except in Dinagepore, where much credit is said to be due to the District Magistrate, the District Superintendent, and an Inspector of special detective qualifications, has any marked ability to deal with crime been displayed. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to see that in this Division the working of the new Chowkidari Act is generally satisfactory.

10. The Local Committees of the Pubna district are reported to have worked well; both the Vice-Chairman of the District Board and the Chairman of the Municipality being enlightened men, well suited for the posts they hold. In Julpigoree and Darjeeling also the Committees did good work. But elsewhere their success has not been marked. In this Division, even more than elsewhere, it appears necessary especially during the early infancy of the institutions, for the local District Officers to guide and encourage the Commissioners in their independent action, while abstaining, as far as may be, from direct interference.

11. Mr. Lowis deserves the acknowledgment of the Lieutenant-Governor for his very full report, and for the generally satisfactory results which he has been able to show. His remarks on the merits of his subordinates will be communicated to the Appointment Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. S. COTTON,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE PATNA DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1887-88.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS

Calcutta, the 21st August 1888.

READ—

The Annual General Administration Report of the Patna Division for the year 1887-88.

The report, which is instructive, interesting and concise, is submitted by the Officiating Commissioner, Mr. Boxwell, who was in charge of this important Division throughout the year.

2. Useful tours were made by all District and Sub-divisional Officers, and, regard being had to the recent orders curtailing the periods hitherto prescribed, they appear to have been of sufficient length

3. From an agricultural point of view, the year is described as having been below the average, for not only was the rainfall rather less than usual, and considerably short of that of the preceding year, but the distribution also was unequal. In most districts, however, the harvest was fairly good, and the material condition of the people does not call for any special remarks. The fact that only 1,741 emigrants from a population so dense as that of Behar were registered during the year would seem to argue comparative prosperity, but unfortunately the real state of things in this province is too well known to justify so agreeable a conclusion. The reluctance of the people to emigrate, notwithstanding their poverty, is a constant source of anxiety to the Government, and constitutes an administrative difficulty which it has not yet been found possible to solve. The best prospect of its solution lies probably in the desire of the people, which must gradually increase, to improve their own standard of comfort. The state of public health was bad, fever prevailing in Shahabad and Gya, and cholera in a more or less pronounced degree in all the districts.

4. The Officiating Commissioner divides the trade of the Division into an up and a down current, each passing through Patna, but the figures furnished are admittedly incomplete. They are, however, sufficient to indicate considerable commercial activity, and more attention has apparently been paid to their compilation than in former years. Mr. Boxwell infers from them that the income-tax under which the total assessments reached the sum of Rs. 4,04,833 only is not as productive as it ought to be. The accounts given of the leading industries are satisfactory.

5. The returns furnished are primâ facie significant of a gradual increase in cognizable crime, but it is pointed out that the higher figures occur chiefly under "Other offences," a heading which includes offences under special and local laws, and the circumstance may, therefore, be regarded as an indication of greater vigilance on the part of the police. As regards civil justice also, the figures show an advance by 2,103 in the number of institutions, and to this increase the district of Mozufferpore alone contributes no less than 1,082. The rise in this district is said to be due to the large number of money suits, the institution of which has increased for the last five years, and is apparently attributable to the impetus given to trade by the extension of the railway.

6. The total excise revenue was Rs. 26,58,071 against Rs. 24,55,520 in 1886-87, the increase being chiefly observable under the heads of tari, ganja, country spirits, and opium. The distillery system prevails in all the large towns and the receipts from the Patna distillery alone were Rs. 2,35,503. The revenue derived from stamps amounted to Rs. 21,180 in excess of that realized in the preceding year, while the number of prosecutions instituted for breach of the Stamp Law fell from 170 to 25. Mr. Boxwell's theory is that, when the number of events occasioning the use of stamps is so great, and the number of prosecutions so small, and so remotely connected therewith, it must be mere chance that more or fewer prosecutions were instituted in any particular year. The argument does not commend itself to the Lieutenant-Governor, who has no doubt that the duty of prosecuting in stamp cases is often much neglected, and that spasmodic action in one year is followed by inaction in the next. There was a decrease of Rs. 27,621 in the current demand on account of land revenue, and the percentage of collections was 95·3 as against 95·6 in the preceding year. In this, as in other divisions, the system of payment by means of postal money-orders is favourably reported upon.

7. On the subject of education the report is encouraging. The total number of schools in the Division rose from 6,686 to 8,105, and that of pupils from 135,908 to 153,041, while private institutions show an increase of 1,062 schools and 6,516 pupils. It is noticed also that the number of girls' schools rose on the whole, although not generally. Some of the district officers report an increase in the number of Mahomedan students attending schools, but no statistics are given on this point. The proportion of Mahomedans who have obtained service under Government shows a slight increase during the year, and indicates that Mahomedans have obtained a full share of employment in this division at least. The number of Hindoos to one Musulman in the whole population is 7·6 and in the educated population 9·9, whereas among gazetted officers there are only 3·7 Hindoos to one Musulman, and among officers in superior service and in inferior service the number is only 3·3 in each case.

8. As regards Local Self-Government, the Lieutenant-Governor observes with pleasure that the working of the District Boards has been favourably reported upon by all district officers. In particular, Mr. Quinn, the Magistrate of Patna, awards high praise to the Vice-Chairman of the Patna District Board, Mr. Syed Sharfuddin. There is no doubt, as the Commissioner says, that the important organ in all these Boards is the Executive, and that roads for instance are well or badly managed according as the district has a good Engineer, a good Vice-Chairman and an active Magistrate. But an even more important element of success, especially during the infancy of the Local Self-Government scheme, is the sympathy and consideration which the members of the Board may receive in their deliberations from the district officer. If assistance is afforded in the shape of kindly advice and encouragement, the District Boards will succeed, and there will as assuredly be failure and friction if interference is exercised unwisely and in an overbearing spirit. It is satisfactory to know that in the Patna Division generally a proper amount of tact has been shown, and that the Boards, District and Local, work smoothly with the executive officers of Government. Municipal Committees, although older institutions, are less favourably commented on by the Commissioner. There is too great a tendency to cliquism and party spirit. The names of the Vice-Chairmen of the Patna Municipality, Syed Fazl Imam Khan Bahadur, and of the Durbhunga Municipality, Moulvi Mahammad Khan, are specially mentioned for their good work. In Durbhunga a wealthy and generous resident, Baboo Braja Behari Lal, has contributed Rs. 5,000 for the improvement of the drainage of the town.

9. There appears to have been no change in the normal relations between landlord and tenant. The management of the Durbhunga Raj is described as conciliatory, and it is satisfactory to observe that there is a large decrease in the number of rent-suits in the Shahabad district, mainly attributable to a compromise which has been effected between the Maharajah of Doomraon and his tenants. The provisions of the Tenancy Act in favour of tenant right are said to be becoming more generally known among the ryots.

10. Mr. Boxwell's observations regarding the character and work of his subordinates will be communicated as usual to the Appointment Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. S. COTTON,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE GENERAL ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE BURDWAN DIVISION FOR THE YEAR 1887-88.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—MISCELLANEOUS.

Calcutta, the 21st August 1888.

READ—

The Annual Administration Report of the Burdwan Division for the year 1887-88.

Messrs. Wilson, Westmacott, and Alexander were Commissioners during the year. The Report is submitted by Mr. Westmacott, who again took charge of the Division after the close of the year, when Mr. Alexander proceeded on leave. There were also several changes among the district officers in all districts except Bankoora. The important duty of visiting the interior of districts seems to have been efficiently discharged, except in Beerbhoom, where both Mr. Skrine and Mr. Currie made insufficient tours.

2. The weather was on the whole not favourable to agricultural operations; the rainfall was less than usual and unequally distributed. Any deficiency in the crops was, however, effectually obviated by the abundant harvest of the previous years, and the ruling prices were not only not affected to any appreciable extent, but in Midnapore were unusually low. Although fever and cholera were sporadic, and in March cholera broke out in an epidemic form in the towns of Howrah, Serampore and Raneegunge, the health of the people throughout the year is reported to have been generally good. The Commissioner reports that there is a consensus of opinion among the district officers that the material condition of the people is improving, as manifested by a better style of living and increased expenditure on litigation, marriages and other religious or social ceremonies, and that there is no such thing as absolute poverty or want of food or clothing even among the poorest classes. A steady emigration exists among Sonthals and others to the tea districts. There were two criminal cases at Raneegunge and one at Midnapore, which illustrate the necessity of vigilance over the proceedings of coolie contractors. In the Midnapore case a recruiter under the free emigration system was convicted and sentenced to imprisonment for wrongfully keeping three women in confinement.

3. Under the head of manufactures and mines the Commissioner records the following observations which agree in substance with the reports received from all parts of these Provinces:—

Cotton cloth.

> In spite of the importation of cheap European piece-goods, cotton is still woven by local weavers in every district. As a rule they know no other work, and cling to their ancestral business to obtain a precarious means of living. This industry is, however, on the wane, as the weavers cannot compete with Manchester in the production of cheap goods. In Burdwan a revival in this industry has been noticed in the last two years; but generally, although those who can afford them prefer the country cloths, which are of a better texture and more durable, the cheapness of Manchester goods drives the local manufacture out of the market.

It is satisfactory to see that the paper mills at Bally, and Messrs. Burn and Co.'s pottery works at Raneegunge, show healthy development. Large employment for labour is found in the silk industry, in the jute and cotton mills which stud the banks of the river Hooghly, and in the mines of Raneegunge, which yielded last year a great increase in the outturn of coal. In consequence of the extensive use of machinery, and of the necessity of bringing the boilers in use under more systematic inspection than had hitherto been found possible, it was deemed expedient to extend the application of the Steam-boilers Act III (B.C.) of 1879 to the sub-division of Raneegunge.

4. It appears from the statement submitted by the Commissioner that there is a marked disproportion between the number of Mahomedan and Hindu employés in the districts of Bankoora and Hooghly. In the Hooghly district there are said to be only four Mahomedan officers in superior service and 17 in inferior service. The Lieutenant-Governor apprehends that there is some misunderstanding in regard to the manner in which these statements are prepared. Mr. Westmacott is requested to look into this matter, and see that a uniform principle is followed in all districts. His remark that enough is not done in introducing Mahomedan apprentices into Government offices is probably well founded: any undue favouritism either to Hindus or Mahomedans must be avoided; but at the same time it is necessary to guard against the tendency which cannot but creep in on the part of the head of the office to recruit all the lower appointments from his own co-religionists.

5. The excise revenue of the division shows an increase from Rs. 10,64,057 to Rs. 11,41,125. The chief feature of the year's administration was the abolition of the outlying central distilleries in Hooghly and the introduction of the outstill system in the area formerly served by them. This change appears to have led to an increase of drinking owing to the low price of the outstill liquor as compared with the costly liquor of the central distillery. Mr. Westmacott was himself placed on special duty to enquire into this matter during the cold weather, and his report is now under the consideration of the Board and Government.

6. Various projects have been set on foot for introducing tramways into this division. It is proposed to construct a tramway from Burdwan to Cutwa, from Mymaree railway station to join the Tarkeswar railway, from Ampta to Howrah and from Howrah to Seakhola, but in no case has construction yet begun.

7. Mr. Westmacott expresses his opinion strongly in this report against expenditure on village roads: he observes—"So long as the District Board's funds remain stationary, and large sums are wasted on petty footpaths under the name of village roads, it is useless to expect any improvement in arterial communications." And again he writes—"In Midnapore there is a difference of opinion between the Board and the supervising authorities as to the allotment of funds. The Board wishes to maintain or increase the very large sum hitherto given annually for village roads, while, on the other hand, it is held that this sum should be largely diminished. It is rarely that communications are improved by the expenditure on so-called village roads, which are generally, so far as I have seen, only petty local pathways within villages, made for the convenience of the more influential residents, and do not bring villages into communication with the rest of the world. The sums so frittered away would, in the course of a few years, provide good systems of branch roads."

8. These remarks cannot in the Lieutenant-Governor's opinion be accepted without qualification. An important question of principle is involved, on which the opinion of Government is not now expressed for the first time. It has been repeatedly declared that it is very desirable to make a liberal allotment for the construction and repairs of village roads, which are a matter of the first convenience not only to the influential residents, but to all the inhabitants of the villages affected. Road Cess Funds are to be expended for the benefit of the localities concerned, and nothing is more calculated to popularise the administration of this department than to show the villagers who pay the tax that their local interests are not neglected. On the other hand, before village roads can be of much use there must be a system of main arteries through the district without which village roads will fail in their main purpose of connecting villages with larger markets. It is not right that an excessive proportion of the cess funds should be devoted to village roads,—and what is an excessive proportion must be determined by the circumstances of each district,—but it is desirable that the allotment should in all cases be as liberal as the circumstances will permit.

9. Under the head of Education, it is reported that in the Burdwan district 12·68 per cent. of the students on the rolls are Mahomedans; in Beerbhoom the percentage is 16·2; and in Bankoora, where Hindoos more largely predominate, the percentage is only 4·6. From other districts this information is not given. It appears that the Mahomedan boys were not very successful in passing the examinations.

10. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to receive a favourable account of the working of the District Boards during the year. The District Board at Burdwan in particular is reported to have attained a full grasp of its functions in regard to public works, and, excepting some minor details, in respect of education also. The District Board at Bankoora is said to have displayed much originality and common sense in all matters laid before it for consideration. The Municipal Committees are also reported to have generally done excellent work, attention being paid to sanitation. The attendance at meetings was regular and good. The Burdwan Municipality continued to work well. The Raneegunge Municipality is said to have taken praiseworthy measures to meet the recent outbreak of cholera in the town. The Municipal Commissioners of Midnapore have been bestirring themselves on the subject of water-supply and sanitation. The Commissioners of the other Municipalities in that district are said to be rather inclined to spend an undue proportion of their income on education and dispensaries. The Municipal Committees in the districts of Hooghly and Howrah evinced great interest in their work, and the attendance at meetings was fairly regular.

11. The conduct of the following zemindars belonging to the Division is singled out by the Commissioner for specially favourable comment:—

Baboo Chunder Narain Singh of Raipore.
Moulvie Abdul Sabhan of Rampore Hât.
Baboo Chunder Kant Mookherjee of Jonai.
„ Chuckun Lall Roy of Chuckdighee.
„ Ram Prosad Roy of Bidhi Chunderpore.
Rai Radha Bullubh Singh of Koochiakole.
Baboo Brajender Gopal Chundradhurya of Maliara.
„ Rughu Nath Panjah of Rajgram.
The Banerjee family of Ajodha.
Baboo Jogendra Nath Mullick of Midnapur.
The Jara Baboos of the Ghatial Sub-division.

12. The obvervations of the Commissioner on the conduct of his subordinates will be communicated as usual, to the Appointment Department.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

H. J. S. COTTON,

Offg. Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

RULES FOR THE TREATMENT OF RECOVERED CRIMINAL LUNATICS CONFINED IN ASYLUMS, AND FOR THEIR DISCHARGE AFTER CERTAIN PERIODS HAVE BEEN PASSED AND CERTAIN CONDITIONS FULFILLED.

RESOLUTION.

JUDICIAL.

Calcutta, the 21st August 1888.

READ—

Resolution of the 21st October 1887, appointing Surgeons-Major Birch and Crombie and Mr. Larymore to form a Committee for the purpose of drawing up a detailed scheme with rules for the treatment of recovered criminal lunatics confined in asylums, and for their discharge after certain periods have been passed and certain conditions fulfilled.

Read also—

The Report of the above Committee; also letter No. 3842, dated the 15th May 1888, from the Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals; and letter No. 3793, dated the 10th May 1888, from the Inspector-General of Jails on the subject.

The attention of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal was drawn last year to the absence of any definite and generally recognised principles regulating the way in which the cases of criminal lunatics in imprisonment should be disposed of, with the consequent result, in many cases, of undue detention after recovery. He therefore appointed a Committee, consisting of Surgeons-Major Birch and Crombie and Mr. Larymore, to draw up definite proposals as to the manner in which such cases should be dealt with, and to lay down a procedure which should in future be recognised by Government and regularly followed. The Committee submitted a valuable report on the 28th January 1888, dealing very fully with the questions submitted to them, which contained a detailed scheme with rules for the treatment of recovered criminal lunatics confined in asylums or jails, and defined the conditions under which they might be discharged. The Inspector-General of Civil Hospitals and the Inspector-General of Jails have been consulted, and the rules revised in accordance with their suggestions and in consultation with Dr. Crombie. The rules have been approved by the Lieutenant-Governor and are now published for the guidance of all concerned. In accordance with the recommendations of the Committee, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to appoint the Chief Secretary, the Inspector-General of Jails, and the Superintendent of the Presidency General Hospital to form a standing Committee to meet from time to time and advise the Lieutenant-Governor as to the action to be taken by him in deciding on cases reported under Chapter XXXIV of the Criminal Procedure Code. The Lieutenant-Governor has already conveyed to Dr. Birch and the other members of the Committee an expression of his appreciation of their excellent report, but he again wishes to place on record his high sense of its value, and to thank Dr. Crombie for his assistance in revising the rules.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

J. WARE EDGAR,

Chief Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

No. 71, dated Calcutta, the 28th January 1888.

From—E. A. BIRCH, Esq., M.D., Surgeon-Superintendent, Presidency General Hospital,

To—The Chief Secretary to the Government of Bengal.

I HAVE the honour to submit herewith the report of the Committee appointed by the Bengal Government in its Resolution of 21st October 1887, upon the subject of the release of criminal lunatics.

Report of the Committee appointed in Government of Bengal Resolution (Judicial) of the 21st October 1887, to discuss the questions involved in, and elaborate rules for, the release of Criminal Lunatics.

Duties of the Committee.

THE purpose for which this Committee has been appointed is to investigate and discuss the issues involved in the important question of the disposal of the large and increasing class of criminal lunatics confined in the asylums and jails of Lower Bengal, with a view to elaborate rules of procedure which may in future be recognised by Government and regularly followed when each case is taken up, considered, and dealt with separately.

Three aspects of the question.

2. The question can be most appropriately discussed in three aspects—1*st*, the legal; 2*nd*, the medical; and 3*rd*, the administrative—and the main issues involved are justice to the individuals constituting this class of prisoners, economy, and the public safety.

1. THE LEGAL ASPECT.

The Prisoners' Act (Act V of 1871).

3. Three Acts of the Governor-General in Council must be considered in treating of this subject: Act V of 1871 is applicable only to persons detained or imprisoned under order or sentence of any Magistrate or Court, when they become insane while undergoing a term of imprisonment. Practically, therefore, it is applied only to prisoners who become insane during their incarceration in a jail. Under this Act the insane prisoner may be removed from jail to a lunatic asylum, and be there detained until his recovery or the expiry of his sentence, whichever occurs first. If he recovers from his insanity before the expiry of his sentence, he must be remanded to the prison from which he was removed, where he will undergo the remainder of his sentence and then be discharged in the usual manner. If his recovery and the expiry of his sentence occur simultaneously, he is discharged directly from the asylum. If, however, a medical officer certifies that he cannot with safety to himself or others be so discharged, the Local Government may order his further detention in a lunatic asylum under the provisions of Act XXXVI of 1858.

Public safety insufficiently guarded.

4. The Committee is of opinion that the safety of the public is not sufficiently guarded by the provisions of this Act (Act V of 1871). Here no distinction is made with regard to the nature of the offence, nor are the medical history or mental attitude of the prisoner while under observation sufficiently considered. The prisoner may be a person suffering from recurrent mania; he may have been tried and sentenced during a lucid interval for a crime which may be an offence against the person, he may then have a relapse while in jail, be transferred to an asylum where he may make a speedy recovery, be remanded to jail, and then released on the expiry of his sentence, which may be very soon, without any further period of probation. Here everything is practically left to the discretion of the medical officer of the asylum, who may not have all the evidence necessary for a matured judgment before him; and it is evident from the sample cases which were placed in the hands of the Committee that all medical officers do not regard with the same gravity the risks involved in the release of recovered lunatics.

5. In these cases the disposal of the lunatic would have been regulated in a very different way if he had been confined under the provisions of Act X of 1882 instead of Act V of 1871, which dictates more stringent rules for the safety of the public than the latter does; and it cannot be regarded as right that such an important matter should be left to the accident—whether a dangerous person is confined under one Act or under another. The Committee is not aware whether any misadventures have occurred as the result of the release of recovered lunatics under Act V of 1871; but if they have not, it must be considered as due to the fact that the number of criminal lunatics brought under the provisions of this Act is very small.

Act XXXVI of 1858.

6. Act XXXVI of 1858 applies only to non-criminal lunatics and to prisoners whose sentences have expired while under confinement in an asylum under the provisions of Act V of 1871, and who are detained there after the expiry of their sentences, in consequence of a certificate from a medical officer that such detention is necessary for the safety of themselves or others.

Discharge under section 9.

7. When the Local Government so orders the detention of a lunatic prisoner after the termination of his sentence, he is transferred to the non-criminal list, and the question of his subsequent release is regulated by the provisions of section 9 or 10 of Act XXXVI of 1858. Under section 9 it is lawful for three of the visitors, one being a medical officer, to order the discharge of any (non-criminal) person confined in an asylum, and such person is thereupon discharged Under section 10, a lunatic may be discharged by order of the Magistrate under whose authority he is detained, on security, after communication with the visitors, or one of them, he being a medical officer.

Section 10.

8. The release of a recovered criminal lunatic under these provisions is better safeguarded than is that of those who are discharged under the provisions of Act V of 1871; but it would be well if such cases were treated on the same lines and with similar precautions as those of the same class who are confined under Act X of 1882, whose release does not involve, as a matter of fact, different risks.

9. Act X of 1882 is the Act under which the great bulk of the criminal population of lunatic asylums is confined.

Act X of 1882.

10. The first section which comes under consideration in this connection is section 466, which details the procedure with regard to accused persons found to be of unsound mind and incapable of making their defence. Here the procedure varies according to the nature of the offence. If it be bailable, the Magistrate may release such person on security. If it be not bailable, or if the required bail be not given, the accused person must be detained in jail [vide Government order No. 2687P (Jails), dated the 22nd August 1887] until the orders of the Local Government are obtained. The Local Government, if satisfied that he cannot safely be released without security, orders his detention in a lunatic asylum or other suitable place of safe custody.

Section 466.

Bailable and non-bailable offences.

11. The Committee is clearly of opinion that this division of criminal lunatics into two classes, receiving different treatment in accordance with the accident whether the offence of which they are accused is bailable or not bailable, is not commendable. This opinion will be justified at once by a reference to a list of bailable offences. Among these we find the following included:—Causing death by rash or negligent act (304A), attempt to commit culpable homicide (308), voluntarily causing hurt (323), voluntarily causing hurt by dangerous weapons or means (324), voluntarily causing grievous hurt (325), and doing or causing hurt, or grievous hurt, by any act which endangers human life or the personal safety of others (336, 337, 338). The distinction between bailable and non-bailable offences is, we submit, founded on the assumption that the offender exercises a certain amount of discretion and restraint in the choice of the means and degree of force used by him in committing the offence. Thus voluntarily causing grievous hurt (325) is bailable, but voluntarily causing grievous hurt by dangerous weapons or means (326) is not bailable. To apply such distinctions to the irresponsible actions of lunatics is not, we think, reasonable, and they ought not to be made the ground for dividing criminal lunatics into two great classes of which one is let loose on society on the very unsafe security of a relative or friend, and the other confined for an indefinite period within the walls of an asylum. We wish clearly to submit that in the case of an insane person, the crime which he may happen to commit, or whether he commit a crime at all, is always more or less fortuitous. The character of the offence has often little bearing on the question of the propriety of releasing a lunatic on security or not. The two most dangerous lunatics which one of the members of this Committee has ever had to deal with were men who were committed, one for petty theft and the other for simple house-trespass. Had either of these men been released on security and exposed to the provocations which assail lunatics in their native villages and houses, there is little question but that they would ere long have been re-apprehended on graver charges.

Distinction not applicable to lunatics.

12. When a lunatic commits a crime, he does so suddenly, blindly, and without reflection. The offence bears no relationship to provocation, temptation, or motive, such as constitute considerations in dealing with sane persons. A lunatic and a boy are together in a boat; the boy annoys the lunatic by moving about when the latter wishes to go to sleep. The lunatic may either simply "abuse" the boy, or he may rise, seize a bamboo, and smash in his head, and then quietly lie down and go to sleep. The procedure which he happens to adopt on this provocation ought not to form the basis on which his case should be dealt with when it comes up for disposal. The lunatic is really equally dangerous whether he has, on this occasion, simply made use of abusive language, or committed murder.

Instance.

13. The whole circumstances surrounding a lunatic's crime are accidental. He seizes the first weapon that comes to hand, without considering whether it is lethal or not, and he applies it to a part and with a force which are not guided by intelligence and have no relationship to cause and effect. If it happens to hit the crown of the head, the case is one of murder or grievous hurt. If it miss the head and come on the shoulder, it may cause only a bruise and be simple hurt; but the mental aspect of the lunatic is the same whatever the weapon or the result.

14. It is no doubt true that Magistrates do not always act strictly in accordance with the provisions of the Acts now under discussion. They often, and we presume always in doubtful cases, take the opinion of the Civil Surgeon on the question of the safety of releasing a criminal lunatic on security; but the Magistrate and the Civil Surgeon are not always in possession of the facts necessary for a trustworthy opinion on such a difficult and important subject; nor is it likely that they are always sufficiently alive, in the hurry of the moment, to all the points which should be carefully considered before arriving at a conclusion; and yet on their decision the public safety depends.

Magistrate and Civil Surgeon often unable to form judgment.

Act X of 1882 supersedes Act X of 1872, Act X of 1875, and Act IV of 1877, under which Acts criminal lunatics were confined prior to 1882.

15. It must also be admitted that, even when all the facts are before them, the recommendations of the Magistrate and Civil Surgeon are not always judicious. Sample case No. IX illustrates this want of ability to gauge the risks involved in such a decision.

Instance.

Ram Newari Katak was a professional singer or reciter. His father had committed murder while in a state of temporary insanity. While engaged in a performance, Ram Newari suddenly seized a sword, ran amok among the audience, and severely wounded one man before his career was arrested. He was tried and acquitted on the ground of insanity, and his case was sent up to Government with a recommendation, both by the Magistrate and Civil Surgeon, that he should be released unconditionally. The Civil Surgeon based his recommendation on the man being, like all men of his profession, of highly-strung and excitable nervous system. Yet this was a man with an hereditary taint of insanity, with an unstable nervous system probably (though this does not appear) steeped in ganja, a favourite stimulant with people of this class, and who had given the most unmistakeable evidence that he was unable to control his actions. Government happily did not act on the recommendation, but remanded the accused to an asylum, of which he has since been an inmate for ten years.

16. It is clear that if such an opinion is possible in so obvious a case as the above, there can be no guarantee that the action of Magistrates is more judgmatic in more obscure instances, and we think that public safety requires that rules should be laid down for the guidance of executive officers in dealing with criminal lunatics when they come before them under section 466 of Act X of 1882, because with them lies the discretion of remanding persons to an asylum in bailable cases, or of releasing them on security, and their judgment is then just as important for the public safety as is the question of the release of a lunatic from an asylum by Government under the subsequent sections of the same Act.

Necessity of rules for guidance of executive officers.

17. The next epoch in the history of a criminal lunatic is the procedure adopted when he is declared by the visitors of an asylum or Inspector-General of Jails, as the case may be, to be sane and capable of making his defence under sections 473, 468, and 471 of Act X of 1882.

Section 473.

18. The usual procedure under these sections is as follows:—The visitors at a meeting certify that in their opinion the prisoner is "now sane and capable of making his defence." This certificate is not accompanied by any statement regarding the safety of discharging a lunatic on security or otherwise, or by any recommendation of any kind. The bare certificate of the visitors that the criminal is fit to stand his trial is forwarded to the local Government, which communicates it to the Magistrate on whose file the case is pending, who arranges with the Superintendent of the asylum the date when the man shall be sent up for trial. He is tried under section 468. Under section 471 he is usually acquitted on the ground of insanity, and the Magistrate reports the case for the orders of the local Government. In a large number of cases the local Government orders such persons to be kept in safe custody in a lunatic asylum under the same section, but a considerable number of cases are not so treated, and we find, in one asylum alone, that 26 recovered criminal lunatics were sent up for trial during the past ten years, and were not again heard of by the asylum authorities.

Procedure.

Section 468.

Section 471.

Open to objections.

We are of opinion that this procedure is also open to the grave objections stated above. Neither the court which tries the case, nor the local Government, is in a position to judge whether any individual so situated ought to be remanded to an asylum, or to a jail, or be delivered over to the care and custody of a relative or friend under section 475. They are not in possession of the facts which are necessary for the formation of a correct estimate of the risks involved. All that they know is that the criminal was accused of an offence, but was found incapable of making his defence; that he was confined in a lunatic asylum for a certain period of time, during which he was declared insane at each of the half-yearly meetings of the visitors; and that he was at last declared by them to be capable of making his defence. But what may have been the type of his insanity while under observation in the asylum—whether he was merely eccentric or showed homicidal tendencies; whether he was subject to periodic relapses of violent mania—is not known either to the court or to the local Government. In only a certain number of instances are they cognizant of the cause of insanity, and they are thus often dealing with a case in which this important factor is unknown. They act only on the simple certificate of the visitors that the man after a period of observation is at last, and it may be only temporarily, capable of pleading that he was insane at the time he committed the offence. Neither then, nor in their previous half-yearly reports, do the visitors convey any information as to the mental attitude of the prisoner. Their reports are confined to the bare statement that he is still insane and incapable of making his defence. All that the visitors imply by their final certificate is that the prisoner has sufficiently recovered to be able to plead insanity, so that his name may be removed from the Magistrate's file of pending cases. And to call upon the prisoner so far is the only action which can be safely taken on the visitors' report as it is now submitted, either by the Magistrate or the local Government. The question of the disposal of the recovered lunatic is another one which ought to be decided on grounds altogether apart from that of his ability to plead, and these grounds are not before the Magistrate or the local Government when he is sent up for trial.

19. The time spent by a recovered lunatic, after regaining his sanity, before he is brought before the visitors, is probably on an average about three months. The time occupied in arranging preliminaries, from his being declared sane till his discharge to stand his trial, varies from one month to fourteen, the average being four months, making an average period of altogether only seven months of apparent sanity before the man leaves the asylum. This is obviously quite an inadequate test of the permanency of his apparent cure, and is none at all of his power to resist the temptation to return to his ganja habit or other vice.

20. The following instances illustrate the risks which we point out:—A man aged 22, suffering from melancholia, commits murder in 1874. He remains insane for six years, and has a short lucid interval in 1880, after which he again continues insane for three years. In March 1883, after a period of nearly nine years' almost continuous insanity, this murderer is declared capable of making his defence. He is discharged for trial in the following month and not again heard of. Another case of melancholia and murder is admitted in 1875, recovers, but has relapses in 1876 and 1877, is declared fit for trial in October, and discharged for that purpose in December 1878, and is lost sight of. Similar cases are numerous.

Instances.

21. Neither the Magistrate nor the local Government, in dealing with these two cases under section 471, were in a position to know that they had to do, in the first instance, with a confirmed lunatic brought before them in a lucid interval, or, in the second, with a man subject to annual relapses. Had they been aware of the medical histories thus shortly detailed, both men would unquestionably have been returned to the asylum for a further and lengthened period of observation before final action was taken.

22. The visitors, in forwarding their opinion that the lunatic can now plead, do not contemplate that final action will then be taken in the case; otherwise they should be careful to accompany it by a recommendation, or a warning, as the case might be.

23. The final proceedings affecting the history of a recovered criminal lunatic are those which are taken under sections 474 and 475 of Act X of 1882. The Committee hope that they will be able to submit rules which will enable the Government to decide on the numerous cases now awaiting disposal under these sections.

Sections 474 and 475.

24. From the sample cases forwarded to them, it is clear that the main difficulty arises from the fact that in most the data necessary for the decision are not contained in the papers before Government. The essential materials for forming a decision are the medical history of the case while under observation, the probable cause of insanity, the age and physical condition of the prisoner, and the social and physical state of the person offering security. The bundles before Government rarely contain any allusion to these points, and the Committee were conscious, in going over these bundles, of the impossibility of giving any decided opinion on the disposal of many of them in the absence of such details. The Commission contemplated in section 474 was no doubt devised to meet this difficulty by a local enquiry into all the circumstances; but the appointment of a Commission under this section seems to have fallen into comparative disuse, in consequence, no doubt, of the feeling that in most cases their enquiry could not be otherwise than formal, for from the constitution of the Commission it must usually consist of the same individuals who had already expressed their opinion as visitors of the asylum. It would practically amount to appointing a Committee to review the work of the same individuals in a slightly different capacity.

Cause of difficulty.

Special Commissions.

2. THE MEDICAL ASPECT.

25. A consideration of the issues involved from the medical point of view renders it apparent that all kinds of lunacy cannot be dealt with under a uniform plan; but it will serve to show that the cases can be grouped into classes which vary in degree and kind of risks, to meet which rules can be formulated for the guidance of those with whom lies the final disposal.

26. Insanity is a symptom of disease, or rather of a group of diseases of the organ of the mind, and its dangers and prognosis (on which safe recommendations for the disposal of patients manifesting these symptoms depend) vary with the form or type and cause of insanity, the degree and manner in which the affected organ is involved, and the age and physical power of the patient. We feel strongly impressed that these must form the only reliable basis on which action can be safely taken.

27. The point of most importance in the question of the propriety of releasing a recovered criminal lunatic is that of the probability of his recovery being permanent. It must be premised that in no case can an absolute assurance be given that a man, who has once been insane, will never become insane again. The same or similar causes, which determined his insanity in the first instance, are capable when acting together of causing a recurrence of the same effect at any more or less remote period. An instance is within our experience of a man who was a non-criminal inmate of an asylum for a few months in 1870, who remained to all appearance sane for 16 years, and committed a murder in 1887 under an illusion of sight. This, however, is a very exceptional occurrence, and no practical rules could be formulated which would exclude the possibility of such a calamity under their working. To attempt to do so would be equivalent to forbidding the release not only of recovered criminal lunatics altogether, but of non-criminals also, and to condemning them to imprisonment for life. In the vast majority of cases, as is proved by experience, such a policy would be not only cruel, but unnecessary. Experience shows that a very large proportion of recovered criminal lunatics can be released with almost absolute safety, and the selection of those who can, and those who cannot, be so released rests almost entirely on medical grounds.

Liability to relapse most important.

All lunatics not equally dangerous.

28. All criminal lunatics are not equally dangerous. It behoves us to know which are most so.

Influence of type of insanity.

29. In Indian asylums the most dangerous are those suffering (1) from acute mania, and (2) melancholia. The maniac is the most dangerous while his mania lasts, but the melancholic is the most untrustworthy. The advent of an attack of acute mania is presaged by signs easily recognized by those familiar with insanity, and the patient can be segregated and treated before his paroxysm comes to a height; but the melancholic gives no warning; he broods for months or years over his fears, his sorrows, or his fancied injury, and his outburst is unpresaged, sudden and violent. Under acute or chronic mania the offences committed may be murder, grievous or simple hurt, mischief, arson, theft; but the crime of melancholia is murder or suicide. Again, acute mania is of short duration, and it results either in permanent recovery or in chronic mania, usually of a cheerful, happy kind, with little liability to relapses of violence, except when the cause is one which has no seriously undermined the mental constitution. In melancholia, on the other hand, the causes are generally of this latter nature, the progress is slow, and the permanency of the result is long uncertain.

Dangers of mania and melancholia contrasted.

Different rules required for different risks.

30. It follows from such considerations as these that different rules must be applied to a criminal lunatic recovering from an attack of mania, and to one who has apparently recovered from melancholia. The former (acute mania) need not be detained very long in an asylum after his recovery, but his power of resisting temptation should undergo a prolonged probation before he is finally released. The melancholic, on the other hand, is probably best treated throughout, and for a long period, in an asylum.

Risks of chronic mania.

31. In chronic mania everything will depend on the cause and on the mental attitude of the patient during the continuance of his insanity. If the cause is hereditary, he will be liable to relapses, and should be detained for a lengthened period for observation in an asylum. If it is ganja, he should be kept a comparatively short time after his recovery in an asylum, and undergo a long period of probation in a jail. Many such, whose habitual attitude is one of cheerfulness and eccentricity (by far the most common variety of chronic mania in Bengal), might be released without waiting indefinitely for their recovery, if they have never shown any aggressive symptoms, and are capable of earning a livelihood for themselves, as a great many of them are, or if they have friends in a position to offer satisfactory security for them. Similarly, cases of chronic dementia, which are hopeless and harmless, may often be released, but generally only on security as they are rarely in a condition to earn a livelihood or to take care of themselves. If, however, they exhibit mischievous or filthy propensities, as those suffering from chronic mania and chronic dementia often do, the expediency of releasing them even on security is very doubtful. One cannot forget what the ordinary fate of such a lunatic is. It is the life of a dog; he is starved, beaten and bound in chains. It is in this respect that the question of the social and physical condition of the lunatic's friends is so important. In some cases security for a tall, stalwart maniac is offered by a feeble old grandmother, his sole guardian. If the relatives of a lunatic suffering from chronic mania or chronic dementia are well-to-do, and may be trusted to take really proper care of him, he is no doubt better with them than in an asylum; but if they are poor and have not the means to care properly for him, one would shrink from consigning him to a fate similar to that of many such unfortunates scattered over Bengal—perpetual chains and ill-usage.

Chronic dementia.

Ill-usage of such lunatics in their homes.

Influence of cause of insanity.

32. We have already touched on the influence which the cause of insanity bears to this question. It may be said that the causes which produce the deepest and most lasting disorders of the mental functions are hereditary and emotional. Insanity, so originating, is likely to be more lasting and more liable to recur, without apparent reason, than when the result of other conditions. Such cases should therefore be detained for relatively longer periods in an asylum than others. On the other hand, intoxicants, such as ganja, alcohol, and opium have more transient effects, unless their use has been very long continued. Such cases recover speedily, and long detention in an asylum for observation and treatment is unnecessary. Relapse, without fresh access to the drug, is not likely to take place. On the other hand, they should be subjected to a certain period of probation with access to bazars before being finally released.

Hereditary and emotional causes have most permanent effects.

Intoxicants more transient.

33. Another important consideration in deciding such a question as the release of a recovered criminal lunatic is his age. Insanity in its dangerous forms is especially a disease of youth and middle age. The number of men who become insane after 40 is small, and after 50 very small. There would therefore be comparatively little risk cæteris paribus in releasing a man of 50 compared with that of discharging a man of 30. His physical condition may also be considered; a man who has grown old and feeble as a trusted inmate of an asylum might, with comparative safety, be allowed to go and end his days among his people, under circumstances that would debar a lusty young man from release.

Influence of age.

And physical condition.

34. The following summary will be found useful as the groundwork on which all safe recommendations regarding the release of criminal lunatics who have exhibited violent tendencies should be based:—

General summary of medical aspect.

1. Acute mania—

(a) When the cause is ganja or other intoxicant, relapses, if any, occur early in the history of the case, and cease after a time; otherwise they do not recur except as a consequence of a return to the same exciting cause.

Acute mania due to ganja, &c.

(b) When the cause is heredity, and in cases in which it is not known, or of a moral nature, relapses are liable to recur after long intervals of sanity extending to five or six years.

When due to other causes.

2. Chronic mania may be primary or secondary to acute mania. In all cases of chronic mania in which relapses occur and the cause is known it has been found to be ganja, either alone or in association with other causes of insanity, such as alcohol or heredity. Relapses, if any, occur in quick succession early in the history. These cases either (a) recover permanently, or so long as they abstain from ganja; or (b) they pass into a condition of chronomania, characterised by eccentricity, hilarity, and with delusions of well-being If released, they are often able to earn a livelihood for themselves, may be allowed to roam at large, and are not easily roused to violence. To this class belongs the great majority of those guilty of petty theft, house trespass, mischief, &c., with whom the offence is a mere accident or episode of an otherwise non-criminal career; or (c) they become irritable, quarrelsome, destructive, mischievous, actively indecent, and easily provoked to violence. These latter are very untrustworthy, and their long detention in asylums is the chief cause of the steady increase in the criminal population of these institutions If released, they are generally chained up in their own homes on account of their destructive, quarrelsome, and indecent habits.

Chronic mania with relapses generally due to ganja.

Two varieties of chronic mania—Cheerful and Irritable.

3. Melancholia.—Ganja never appears as a cause of melancholia. It is always, when the cause is known, found to be due to heredity or to moral causes deeply affecting the mental functions, such as anxiety, grief, losses, law suits or jealousy. These cases are consequently characterised by long periods of mental depression with relapses, if any, at intervals ranging up to perhaps 10 or 12 years between the dates of a first and second attack, with, in the meantime, lucid intervals which may last 1, 2, 3, 4, or 5 years. They are slow to wrath, but when roused their acts are sudden, violent, and uncontrolled.

Melancholia always due to emotional causes.

Of long duration.

And uncertain result.

4 Dementia is generally chronic and secondary to one of the foregoing types of insanity. Patients pass from a state of chronic mania or melancholia into one of chronic and hopeless dementia, characterised by listlessness, apathy, passive filthiness, and careless indecency. They are not easily excited to acts of violence, and they are rarely capable of earning their own livelihood. When released, they are usually kept chained up or beaten and starved in their own homes on account of their cunning, mischievous, filthy and indecent habits.

Dementia generally secondary.

35. From this summary certain commonsense principles are evolved with ease. Cases included in class 1 (a) (acute mania due to ganja) need not be kept longer in an asylum than is necessary to show that the period of tendency to relapse has passed over. This may be put at three—certainly over two—years from the date of recovery from their last attack. They should, however, be subjected to a long period of probation, three years of which should be in the grade of paid warder with the use of money and access to the bazar, so that their power of resisting temptation to indulge in ganja, &c., may be put to a severe test before their final release. Such a man should be kept in the grade of unpaid overseer only so long as to enable the Jail Superintendent to gauge his fitness for promotion to the post of paid warder.

Principles of treatment.

Acute mania due to ganja.

Detention in asylum short,

In jail long.

Those included in class 1 (b) (acute mania not due to ganja) should be kept longer in an asylum, because their natural tendency to relapse is greater, say four years; and their further period of probation should, we think, be four years, of which two should be spent in the grade of paid warder. Here the object is two-fold—to extend the time of observation considerably, and to afford a fair test of the power to resist temptation, should drugs have been by any chance an unknown element in causation, while at the same time the permanency of the cure is favoured and assured by returning the patient gradually to the world.

Acute mania not due to ganja.

Detention in asylum longer; in jail shorter.

Those in class 2 (a), i.e., those who have recovered from chronic mania, should be treated in the same way as those in class 1 (a) or 1 (b), according as the cause is ganja or not.

Chronic mania recovered.

Those in class 2 (b) may be released after they have passed six to ten years in an asylum without showing any marked irritability or aggressive symptoms. Certain selected cases, namely those who may be considered capable of earning a livelihood for themselves, may be released without security after a period varying from 6 to 10 years, according to circumstances of crime, age, &c. These should never be sent to a jail.

Unrecovered.

May be released when of the cheerful type.

Cases in class 2 (c) should not be released at all from an asylum, except in advanced age and on security of a superior kind, which will insure their being properly cared for and prevented from doing injury to themselves or others.

Should rarely be released when of the irritable type.

Cases in class 3, being specially dangerous and liable to relapses at remote periods, ought, we think, to be detained in an asylum for six years after apparent recovery. If then still under 40 years of age, and therefore still liable, as experience shows, to relapses, it would be imprudent to release such a patient, except on security of the most efficient character. If over 40 years of age, relapse is less likely to occur; but keeping in mind the long periods that may pass before a recurrence of melancholia, it would still be advisable to release him only on security; but under favourable circumstances it might sometimes be dispensed with. Cases of melancholia should not be sent for probation to jail. To them jail discipline would probably be prejudicial.

Melancholia.

Long probation in asylum.

Security required.

If instead of murder the crime of the melancholic be attempt to commit suicide, his demeanour while in the asylum would be the chief consideration; especially if his detention there has been long-continued, and his behaviour quiet and trustworthy for a number of years, he might be released at a considerably less age, according to the individual circumstances.

Crime and demeanour to be considered.

Melancholics should not, as a rule, be released during the continuance of their insanity in that form. But if the melancholia is of long duration, it often passes gradually into the next kind of insanity (dementia), and the case would thus at last come to be considered under that head.

Should not be released while still melancholy.

The question of releasing patients in class 4 must be decided on the merits of each. If the dementia is slight, the mental attitude quiet and inoffensive, and the security satisfactory, such cases may, we think, be released after a probation of three to five years in that condition in an asylum, always giving due weight to circumstances of age, crime, &c. These people are capable of being useful in a house or homestead, and have a fair chance of being well treated and looked after.

Dementia.

May sometimes be released.

If the dementia is very pronounced, cases in this class can only be properly and humanely treated in an asylum, except when the relatives are in a good social position, and in that case they will generally prefer to pay for the maintenance of the lunatic rather than take him home.

Not so in bad cases.

36. Under the above headings will be included nearly the whole criminal population of lunatic asylums in Bengal. There is only one special class which is worthy of separate notice. We refer to those suffering from epileptic insanity. Every epileptic is liable to exhibit violent and dangerous symptoms, especially immediately after an epileptic seizure, and may remain perfectly quiet, sane, and rational until his next epileptic fit, when he again exhibits for a few hours or days violent, and perhaps homicidal, tendencies. It is obvious that a man who has committed an offence against the person, and shows irritability or violence after his epileptic fits, cannot safely be released from an asylum until there is a reasonable hope that his epileptic habit has been permanently overcome. On the other hand, insanity due to the pregnant or puerperal states is not liable to recur except under the same conditions of health; and insanity due to the climacteric period, and that which is consecutive to fevers, visceral inflammation, &c., has no tendency to reappear. In Indian asylums epileptic insanity is of frequent occurrence, but the other varieties just mentioned are rare, and "general paralysis of the insane"—a very frequent condition in European asylums—is practically unknown among the natives of India. When such cases occur, their peculiar features will no doubt be prominently brought forward by the Superintendent of the asylum for the guidance of Government in dealing with them.

Epileptic insanity.

Other special forms.

37. As regards those who have never exhibited aggressive symptoms during any period of their medical history (the non-homicidal cases of the Government Resolution), we agree in thinking that such long periods of probation are not called for as in the case of those criminal lunatics who have been guilty of offences against the person, or have shown themselves to be violent and intractable while under observation in an asylum. The type of lunacy usually exhibited by these cases is chronic mania, dementia or imbecility, and their crimes are generally theft, house trespass, and mischief. There is, from a medical point of view, little difference between them and ordinary non-criminal lunatics, and we would be inclined to dispose of them in much the same way as non-criminal lunatics. Their committal is more or less accidental—sometimes a device of relatives to rid themselves of a troublesome charge—and their offence itself may be regarded as a mere episode in an otherwise non-criminal career. Their fellow-inmates of the non-criminal list have probably many of them been guilty of the same crimes, and are just as likely as they to commit similar offences if released under the provisions of Act XXXVI of 1858. The non-criminal lunatic has had the fortune not to be arrested and brought before a Magistrate, but his mental attitude and proclivities are the same.

Harmless criminal lunatics.

38. We accordingly think that cases of this nature should be detained in an asylum only long enough to afford the Superintendent time to form a trustworthy opinion on their tendencies. This will depend on the character of the evidence at his command. The information forwarded with the lunatic in his descriptive roll is always meagre and generally quite untrustworthy, and a certain period for observation is always desirable; but we do not think that this need ever exceed three years, even in cases regarding whose history nothing is known. If during that time a lunatic accused or acquitted of a petty offence shows no aggressive symptoms, his case may be brought up for disposal. Government in dealing with such instances will have to consider, as before, the type and cause of insanity and the nature of the security offered. As already stated, when the insanity is the gay and happy variety of chronic mania, security may often be dispensed with, as also in certain milder forms of dementia; but in the irritable variety of chronic mania and in the worse forms of dementia, the character of the security offered will be the main consideration. We would, however, strenuously insist that the nature of the crime alone cannot be accepted as ground for relaxing the rules for safeguarding the public from the risks of releasing criminal lunatics. These risks can only be safely accepted when the medical history sheet shows clearly that there has been no tendency at any time to violence. In every instance the cause, type, and whole tendency of the case must have their due weight, and the crime must be relegated to its proper position as a mere incident, though an important one, in the medical history.

Medical history all-important.

The crime a mere incident.

3. THE ADMINISTRATIVE ASPECT.

39. We have now to consider the administrative aspect of the question. How and where can a recovered criminal lunatic be most appropriately put through the period of probation which may be considered necessary prior to his final release?

40. There can be no question, we think, that the early periods of probation, after apparent recovery from insanity, ought to be passed in a lunatic asylum, under the eye of those whose business it is, and who are accustomed to note and treat the earliest signs of a tendency to relapse. It is only there that such signs will be recognised and properly treated. It is not an uncommon thing for recovered lunatics to come forward in an asylum and place themselves under treatment. They are conscious of something going wrong, of beginning to lose control over their feelings, and they ask to be taken care of. At such times different individuals exhibit paculiarities which are the same on each occasion. It may be nothing more than an alteration in manner or expression, a tendency to write with charcoal on the walls or to submit petitions. In an asylum these peculiarities are recognised in their proper light, and the patient is humoured, perhaps indulged, and receives a few doses of an appropriate remedy, and the symptoms may pass off. Sometimes he is removed from one occupation to another, so that he cannot injure himself or others, till he returns to his natural condition. In a jail these peculiarities would either be unrecognised, or they might be misunderstood and repressed, and on being more unmistakeably manifested the Superintendent of a jail, in which the discipline is necessarily more severe than that in an asylum, has no resource but confinement in a cell—a treatment calculated to develop rather than tide over the incipient symptoms.

Early period of probation must be in asylum.

41. It is clear for these reasons that during the development of the medical history, while the nature of the case, character of the patient, and the probability of relapse are still doubtful, a recovered lunatic should be detained under skilled observation and treatment in a lunatic asylum. Examples of the danger of departing from this salutary rule are not wanting. An instance is on record of an apparently recovered lunatic having been transferred to a jail within a year of his recovery, and there within a few months, suddenly, without provocation or apparent warning, slaying a fellow-prisoner with a log of wood. Had he been detained longer in an asylum, some peculiarity would have been noted, and he would have been removed from an occupation where danger was possible, and the impending attack of mania possibly perhaps staved off.

Danger of permature transfer to jail.

The period for detention in asylum will vary.

42. The period which should be spent in an asylum in this early stage of observation will vary with the nature of the case, but experience justifies the following recommendations. When ganja or other intoxicants enter as a cause, a period of three years of freedom from excitement or relapse is sufficient to remove, as before stated, the likelihood of relapses in the absence of the exciting drug, to one of remote probability. If therefore during six consecutive half-yearly reports the patient remains free from excitement or abnormal irritability of temper, the propriety of transferring him to a jail may be brought up for consideration. If, however, the case were one due to causes other than intoxicants, such a period would not be sufficient to test the liability to relapse. Experience shows that these relapses are not impossible up to six or even more years, and we think that, while relapses are not improbable, such a criminal lunatic should be detained for observation in an asylum, say four years after apparent recovery.

May be promoted to grade of unpaid overseers.

43. This brings us to the consideration whether the whole period of probation contemplated might not best be spent in an asylum. We see no reason why, as suggested in the Resolution of the 21st of October, recovered criminal lunatics should not be promoted to the position of unpaid asylum overseers. The system has already been tried in at least one of the asylums of Bengal with satisfactory results. Selected recovered criminals are there placed in charge of special gangs of other lunatics working in different parts of the asylum, in the garden, the cook-shed, the carpenter-shop, the cow-house, the oil-mills and with the sweepers, and they have taken the positions of former paid servants. They are found to do the work better and more punctually than formerly, and it has been found possible to effect a considerable economy in the establishment which, thus relieved to an appreciable extent of the duty of looking after harmless inmates, can devote more care to the dangerous and untrustworthy. We would, however, leave the Superintendents unhampered by any regulations as to the selection of lunatics for these posts In a well-managed asylum it is not even essential that they should all be recovered lunatics in the sense in which the word is used throughout this discussion. Some of the most useful men will always be those who have been long in the asylum, subject to periodic relapses which can always be foreseen, and as such they are obviously unfit for transfer to a jail.

Difficulty of promoting to paid keepers.

44. We do not think, however, that promotion to the post of paid keeper in an asylum can be utilised so easily, and with so good a guarantee of testing permanent recovery, as that to the post of paid warder in a jail. The warders in a jail are provided with quarters outside, and the recovered lunatic would live with them and be under the observation of a head-warder to whom his habits both by day and night would no doubt be known. His falling to the temptation of ganja or other intoxicants would thus probably be soon detected and reported. The keepers of asylums are not provided with quarters; they live in their own houses in the town. The recovered lunatic, if placed on the same footing with them, would also have to live as they do, and thus practically become removed from observation during a great part of every day and night. If, however, quarters were provided for asylum keepers, promoted lunatics could live with them, and be under just as good observation as they would be when promoted to paid warders in a jail; but this would entail an expense which seems hardly called for.

Would not constitute perfect test.

45. In the meantime, and in the absence of quarters for asylum keepers, we are of opinion that promotion to the post of paid overseer in a lunatic asylum, where the lunatic would be detained within the asylum every night, or be able entirely to elude observation in the town, would not be so complete a test of his trustworthiness under temptation as promotion to the post of paid warder in a jail, and it might, even sometimes be very dangerous.

Advisable in certain cases.

46. When from any reason, such as the nature of the case, or the economical and efficient management of an asylum, it may be thought expedient to detain a recovered lunatic for a long period in an asylum, and perhaps ultimately to discharge him direct from the asylum (as, for instance, when he has learned a handicraft and there is no one in the asylum to replace him), some special liberties might in the last year of his contemplated detention be awarded him, such as liberty to leave the asylum during non-working hours up to 10 P.M., with pay proportionate to his requirements after deducting the cost of his food in the asylum.

Under certain regulations suggested.

Suitable for melancholia.

47. As we have said, we think that, when the disease has been melancholia, this should be the rule and not the exception. There is, as a matter of fact, very little that is unpleasant in the life of a recovered criminal lunatic in a well-managed asylum, bar deprivation of liberty. Recovered criminal lunatics form a community apart from the others; they have their own dormitory, where they are undisturbed by troublesome or noisy and dirty inmates. They can, if they choose, cook and eat by themselves, and they have other indulgences such as tobacco and pán; a small library is provided for their use where they may sit up to 10 P.M., before being locked up for the night; they have their own quilts; they have musical instruments, and in some asylums fortnightly entertainments; and their various pujas are celebrated under the auspices of one of their own number. To remove a man from the enjoyment of these innocent indulgences, and submit him to the rigour of jail discipline where all of these amenities are strictly forbidden, is not in itself conducive to assure the permanency of his recovery. It can only be excused on the ground that it is necessary to do so in order to protect public safety. Recovered lunatics now choose to forego the indulgences of an asylum for the discipline of a jail because they think that by doing so they accelerate their ultimate release from custody; but if under a new system they were assured that their discharge would be equally speedy, there is not one who would voluntarily exchange the mild restraints of an asylum for the worrying details of jail life. On the other hand, to the morose disposition of a recovered melancholic, the latter might assume the appearance of unmerited punishment, and it is in such a case that the discipline of a jail might possibly act as an incitement to a fresh attack characterised by a sudden onslaught on some unsuspecting companion These cases, which form a comparatively small percentage of recovered lunatics, we therefore think might with advantage be excepted from the rule of passing all recovered criminal lunatics through a jail before final release. Experience shows them to be also liable to relapses at longer intervals than are any other class of lunatics.

Possible difficulties in transferring recovered lunatics to jails.

48 Again, there is no doubt that the presence of recovered lunatics is a weakening element in the paid establishment of a jail. There could not fail to be a feeling of distrust with regard to them, which would prevent their being employed indiscriminately in every kind of duty, more especially such as necessitate a knowledge of drill, acting in concert for the prevention of escapes. outbreaks, &c. On that account the suitability of jails for the reception of recovered lunatics as paid warders is limited. This might, from time to time, prevent the system of passing all recovered lunatics through jails being uniformly carried out. Sometimes it might happen that the plan could not be fully adopted without exceeding the number that could, with a due regard to the efficiency of the jail guard, be so employed.

49. For these reasons we think that, though this should be the regular procedure, there should be an alternative one by which melancholics and other lunatics may from time to time be liberated direct from asylums under precautions such as we have hinted at above.

Procedure on transferring lunatic to jail.

50. Whenever it is thought advisable to remove a recovered lunatic from an asylum to a jail, the Superintendent of the jail should be furnished with a complete medical history of the lunatic, similar to that which we think should accompany his papers on all occasions when his case is about to enter on another phase; and the Superintendent should there clearly show in what way he has been employed while under probation in the asylum. This would serve to prevent the irritation or depression likely to follow his being placed unnecessarily on more degrading work in the jail than he has been accustomed to be entrusted with in the asylum. A man, possibly of good social position, who while in the asylum, acted as godown-keeper or oil-seller, or was in charge of the cook-house or vegetable garden, would naturally feel aggrieved if put to sweep a surface drain on his admission to jail, and such work might sometimes have a prejudicial influence on his mental health. Such a man might at once be made a hospital attendant or keeper of an inside gate. But if the Jail Superintendent knew nothing of his previous history, he would not be justified in putting him to responsible work of this kind without some period of probation.

Retransfer to asylum.

51. Facilities should also be given for the immediate retransfer of a recovered lunatic to an asylum should he have a relapse of insanity. We have already shown that there are no facilities for treating a lunatic properly in a jail. and his detention there, except as a test of the permanency of his recovery, is unwarrantable. A relapse shows that his recovery was only temporary, and he should at once be returned to the asylum from which he came. This could be done under Rule 20 of the rules for the management of lunatic asylums, which empowers the Inspector-General of Jails and officers in charge of jails to transfer insane prisoners to asylums in anticipation of orders of Government in urgent and special cases.

Should be transferred to Central Jails.

52. To facilitate this being done, it is desirable that the custom of transferring recovered lunatics in the first instance to Hooghly Jail should be discontinued They should instead be sent to the nearest central jail, consistently always with the ability of that jail to receive them. Retransfer, if necessary, could then take place under rule 20 with less delay and with great advantage to the relapsed lunatic.

The number now in asylums fit for transfer.

53 From information received from the several asylums in Bengal, the Committee has reason to believe that there are not at present more than twenty individuals who would, under the rules we submit for approval, be immediately eligible for transfer to jails. This number the seven central jails could easily provide for as overseers or on light work, according to their fitness. If in future no larger number were available annually, the central jails could continue to absorb them; for although it would not be advisable to appoint more than two paid warders of this class in each central jail, it is possible that only two-thirds of the entire number would, by reason of their intelligence and steadiness under probation, be found competent to undertake the duties required of them in that grade. If larger numbers were forthcoming in future years than the central jails could with due regard to the efficiency of the warder establishment provide for, the more important of the district jails could each entertain one recovered lunatic as a paid warder, those district jails situated close to asylums being first utilised for the purpose.

Could be absorbed by Central Jails,

or large District Jails,

Duties suitable for recovered lunatics in jails.

54. The Committee is of opinion that it is important, while utilising the jail department for this purpose, that care should be taken that the occupation of each individual should be such as would have a tendency to develop rather than cramp his mental faculties and enlarge his sense of responsibility and usefulness. To this end his asylum history should be supplied to the jail, so that his capacity might be gauged by the Jail Superintendent, and the work allotted to him be in accord with his capabilities. The duties on which this class could most advantageously be employed previous to promotion to the grade of paid warder are, in the opinion of the Committee, the following:—Messengers; inside gate-keepers; passmen, taking charge of parties or of individual prisoners proceeding to latrines, &c.; ration-weighers and hospital attendants, for which last duty the more intelligent would be specially suitable. After a period of employment in such capacities, they could, at the discretion of the Superintendents of the jails, be promoted to the grade of unpaid overseers, and subsequently to that of unpaid convict warders, putting in their final probation as paid warders for prescribed periods of two or three years.

The period of detention in jail contemplated in Government Resolution not sufficient.

55. From the records before us we are convinced that the period of detention in jail suggested in the Government Resolution is insufficient. Three years, of which one would be in the grade of paid warder, would not be an adequate test of the permanency of recovery in cases of acute and chronic mania, especially with a ganja habit. Unless the recovered lunatic had spent a longer period than we propose in an asylum, such a period of detention in jail would not cover the time which we think necessary to protect the public against the risk of premature release. Our proposals, while they ensure greater safeguards, do not increase the cost to Government, because, during the extra time we would prescribe for final proof of their trustworthiness, recovered lunatics would take the place of paid servants, and the warder establishment and its cost would not undergo any increment.

Great caution necessary in disposal of criminal lunatics.

56. The evidence which we have of the liability to relapse in the early period of apparent recovery, rendering detention for three years in an asylum a wise precaution, may give rise to a feeling of disappointment as regards the small number which can immediately be brought under the action of our proposed rules and transferred to jails. But we feel that great caution is required in dealing with this notoriously untrustworthy class of criminals, and we do not think that this period can, in the case of violent and homicidal lunatics, be safely curtailed.

57. But although much immediate reduction will not be effected by our proposals in these classes under the rules which we suggest, the asylums will be relieved of a large number of harmless criminal lunatics now detained indefinitely in the absence of any safe guide for their disposal; and in other respects, especially as regards the manner in which criminal lunatics will be dealt with by executive and judicial officers and their cases sent up for the orders of Government, a marked and necessary improvement will, we hope, follow their adoption.

58. The Committee would venture to remark that, in their opinion, the time at the disposal of a Secretary to Government, and the unlikelihood of his possessing special knowledge, render it desirable that he should be assisted in framing the recommendations which it is his duty to submit for the orders of Government. We therefore beg to suggest that a Standing Committee, consisting of the Secretary to Government as President, the Inspector-General of Jails or a Jail Superintendent, and a Presidency Surgeon, meet at stated intervals to dispose of the cases of criminal lunatics under these rules.

E. A. BIRCH, M.D.,
Surgeon-Superintendent of the Presidency General Hospital.
A. CROMBIE, M.D.,
Superintendent of the Dacca Lunatic Asylum.
A. D. LARYMORE,
Superintendent of the Alipore Jail.

Rules for the guidance of Executive and Judicial Officers in dealing with criminal lunatics.

WHENEVER the papers of a criminal lunatic are sent up to Government for orders, they should be accompanied by a medical history sheet (Appendix I) containing the following particulars, without which a safe decision cannot be arrived at:—

1. Name and sex.
2. Crime.
3. Present age.
4. Physical state.
5. Probable cause of insanity.
6. Type of insanity.
7. Duration of insanity and has it been continuous, giving dates?
8. Has he at any time shown aggressive symptoms?
9. If so, when and of what kind?
10. If reported sane, how long since last manifestation of insanity?
11. Is he subject to relapses? If so, give dates.
12. Is he capable (a) of taking care of himself; (b) of earning a livelihood?
13. How has he been employed while in asylum?
14. If security is obtainable, its nature and the social position and character of the sureties.

I.—When the lunatic has been confined in a Lunatic Asylum under Act V of 1871 (Prisoners' Act) (as amended by Act X of 1886).

1. In every case the medical history sheet should be accompanied by an abstract from the asylum case-book, detailing the chief events in his history, recorded opinions, with dates, regarding his mental attitude while under observation in the asylum, together with the opinion of the Superintendent of the Asylum on the safety of the proposed procedure.

2. When a remand to jail under section 31 of this Act is recommended, the Superintendent of the Asylum will give specific reasons for thinking that this procedure is a safe one, having due regard to the medical history and length of unexpired sentence to run before final release from jail.

3. When further detained under Act XXXVI of 1858, and the case is brought before the Visitors under section IX or the Magistrate under section X of that Act, it will be the duty of the Superintendent of the Asylum to furnish in writing all the details required in Appendix I for the information of the said Visitors or Magistrate, together with his own opinion of the safety of releasing the lunatic.

4. In the event of the lunatic having at any time exhibited a tendency to violence, it will be the duty of the Visitors or Magistrate, as the case may be, to satisfy themselves that a sufficient length of time has elapsed since such manifestation to render a recurrence improbable, and that the sureties are in a position to control the actions of the lunatic should it recur.

II.—Release of an accused lunatic pending investigation or trial under section 466 of Act X of 1882.

5. If the crime of which such person is accused be an offence against the person, or if there is reason to believe that he has at any time been aggressive, the Magistrate or Court of Sessions should consult the Civil Surgeon under whose observation the lunatic has been detained, and he should have before him the information detailed in Appendix I, as far as possible, before accepting bail.

III.—Procedure when lunatic prisoner is reported capable of making his defence under section 473 of Act X of 1882.

6. The Magistrate or Court of Sessions should keep in mind that, unless the opinion of the Visitors of an Asylum that the accused is capable of making his defence, is accompanied by a medical history of the lunatic, detailing especially the type and cause of insanity, his mental attitude while under observation, and his liability to relapses, there is generally not sufficient ground before them for making any recommendation to the Local Government for the disposal of such person under section 471. It shall therefore be the duty of the Superintendent of the Asylum to forward with every lunatic sent to stand his trial his medical history sheet carefully filled in, together with an abstract from the case-book, detailing the chief events of his history with recorded opinions of his case, for the information of the Magistrate or Court, and for transmission to the Local Government.

IV.—Procedure under section 474 when a criminal lunatic is harmless and his crime not an offence against the person, or if so, of a trivial nature.

7. When a criminal lunatic has never exhibited any tendency to violence, and his crime has not been an offence against the person, or, if so, if it was of a trivial nature and not evincing a decided homicidal tendency, the Local Government will be mainly guided in passing orders under section 474 by the recommendations of the Visitors and of the Superintendent of the Asylum, with whom therefore the responsibility of releasing or detaining the lunatic will practically rest.

V.—Procedure when a recovered lunatic is transferred to a jail.

8. When a recovered criminal lunatic is transferred from an asylum to a jail, the Superintendent of the Asylum will forward to the Superintendent of the Jail a copy of the lunatic's medical history sheet, together with a statement showing the manner in which he has been employed in the asylum up to the time of his transfer.

9. Recovered criminal lunatics shall, in the first instance, be transferred to the jail of the district in which the asylum is situated. For this purpose the Alipore and Presidency Jails shall both be receiving jails for the Dullunda Asylum. The Patna, Cuttack, Berhampore and Dacca Jails shall be the receiving jails for the asylums in those cities. In these receiving jails the recovered lunatic shall serve the probationary period to be passed in the grade of convict overseer, after which he may be transferred to serve as convict and paid warder in the jail nearest his home.

VI.—Procedure when a lunatic, who is undergoing probation in jail, relapses.

10. When a recovered criminal lunatic undergoing probation in a jail has a relapse of insanity, he should be immediately returned to the asylum from which he came, under Rule 20 of the Rules for the management of Lunatic Asylums, in anticipation of the orders of Government.

VII.—Miscellaneous provisions.

11. In those cases in which it is impossible, for reasons of physical or mental infirmity, to promote a recovered criminal lunatic confined in a jail to the higher grades of the Jail service, the Inspector-General of Jails is authorised to sanction a monthly allowance of Rs. 2 in addition to the jail scale of diet, which allowance the recovered lunatic may spend in the bazaar for his private use.

12. Recovered female criminal lunatics will not in any case be transferred to jails, but may be promoted at the discretion of the Superintendent of the Lunatic Asylum to the post of keeper, receiving, after a period of probation of at least two years, a monthly allowance of Rs. 2, and may be eventually released on conditions similar to those laid down for recovered male lunatics transferred to jails.

APPENDIX I.

2. Crime.
3. Present age.
4. Physical health.
5. Probable cause of insanity.
6. Type of insanity.
7. Duration of insanity, and has it been continuous, giving dates?
8. Has he at any time shown aggressive symptoms?
9. If so, when and of what kind?
10. If reported safe, how long since last manifestation of insanity?
11. Is he subject to relapses? If so, give dates.
12. Is he capable (a) of taking care of himself; (b) of earning a livelihood?

Principles on which the Local Government will act in disposing of the cases of criminal lunatics sent up for orders under sections 466, 471, 474, and 475 of Act X of 1882.

I.—Medical history sheet to be called for in every case.

1. Final orders should not be issued unless the lunatic's papers are accompanied by the medical history sheet as suggested in Appendix I.

A.—Recovered criminal lunatics.

II.—Crime. Offence against person.
Cause. Ganja, &c.
Type. Acute or chronic mania.
(a) Age under 40 years.

2. If the crime be against the person, the cause ganja or other intoxicant, and the type of insanity acute or chronic mania, a period of three years should be spent in an asylum free from all signs of insanity before any action is taken.

(a) At the end of that time, if under 40 years of age and in good physical health, he should be transferred to the nearest central or other jail, there to undergo a period of probation of six years, of which three had better be in the grade of paid warder.

(b) Age over 40 years.

(b) If over 40 years of age, or in poor physical health, the period of probation in jail may be shortened according to circumstances of crime and nature of security offered.

In any case security should, if possible, be taken on the expiry of his period of probation in jail.

III.—Crime. Offence against person.
Cause. Not ganja, &c.
Type. Acute or chronic mania.

3. If the crime be an offence against the person, the type of insanity acute or chronic mania, and the alleged cause not ganja or other intoxicant, a period of at least four years of complete freedom from insanity should be spent in an asylum before action is taken.

(a) Age under 40 years.

(a) At the end of that time, if under 40 years of age and in good physical health, he may be transferred to a jail, there to undergo a probation of four years, of which two should be in the grade of paid warder.

(b) Age over 40 years.

(b) If over 40 years of age, the period of probation in jail might be shortened, according to circumstances of health and surety. Security should, if possible, be taken before his final release from jail supervision.

IV.—Crime. Not offence against person, but mental attitude aggressive.
Type. Acute or chronic mania.

4. If the crime be not an offence against the person, but the lunatic have at any time exhibited dangerous or violent tendencies, and the type of insanity is acute or chronic mania, he should be treated exactly as above, except that the period of probation in jail may be shortened in accordance with the kind and degree of violence exhibited; always provided that in ganja cases the period spent as paid warder should be three years, and in non-ganja cases two years. In all, security should, if possible, be taken on final release.

V.—Crime. Not offence against the person, or, if so, trivial in its nature; mental attitude not aggressive.

5. If the crime be not an offence against the person and there be no history that the lunatic was at any time aggressive, he may generally be treated much as if he were a non-criminal lunatic. As has been stated in rule 7 for the guidance of executive officers, the Local Government will generally be guided in such cases by the recommendations of the Visitors and of the Superintendent of the Asylum in which the lunatic has been confined.

VI.—Crime. Murder.
Type. Melancholia.

6. If the type of insanity be melancholia, a period of at least six years' complete freedom from insanity should be passed in an asylum before action is taken. During the last year of this period the recovered criminal may be allowed access to the bazar under certain regulations.

(a) Age under 40 years.

(a) If at the end of that period he is still under 40 years of age, he should not be released except on excellent security.

(b) Age over 40 years.

(b) If over 40 years of age, security should, if possible, be obtained.

VII.—Crime. Attempted suicide. Type. Melancholia.

7. If the crime be attempt to commit suicide, and not murder, the type melancholia, and if he has not exhibited any violent tendencies while under observation, some relaxations of the rules may be permitted according to circumstances of age, period of detention, &c.

Cases of melancholia should not be sent to pass a period of probation in jail.

B.—Unrecovered criminal lunatics.

VIII.—Crime. Offence against person.

(a).—Type. Irritable chronic mania.

8. If the crime be an offence against the person, the type chronic mania of the irritable aggressive kind, it will seldom be possible to release the lunatic during the continuance of insanity, except in advanced age and on exceptional security.

(b).—Type. Chæromania.

If the crime be an offence against the person, the type of insanity chronic mania of the amiable kind, a lunatic may be released after passing six to ten years in that condition, but only on security.

If below 40 years of age, detention should generally be ten years; if over 40 years of age, six years may suffice

IX.—Crime. Not offence against the person, or, if so, trivial in its nature; mental attitude not aggressive.

9. If the crime be not an offence against the person, or if an offence against the person of a trivial nature, and the lunatic has never exhibited aggressive symptoms, he may generally be treated much as if he were a non-criminal lunatic, and the Local Government, when dealing with his case under section 474, will be guided chiefly by the recorded opinion of the Superintendent of the Asylum as to the propriety of releasing him, and by the recommendations of the Visitors.

(a)—Type. Chæromania.

(a)—If his mental attitude be chronic mania, characterised by good humour, cheerfulness, and amiability, and he is able to earn a livelihood, he may generally be released with or without security.

(b)—Type. Slight chronic dementia.

(b)—If it be chronic dementia or imbecility of slight degree, he may be released on similar conditions.

(c).—Type. Irritable chronic mania or pronounced dementia

(c.)—If he be suffering from chronic mania of the irritable mischievous type or chronic dementia of a more pronounced character, he may still be released, but only on satisfactory security that he will be properly cared for and prevented from doing injury to himself or others.

(d).—Type. Worst degrees of chronic mania, dementia or imbecility.

(d).—If the chronic mania be of inveterate type, or the dementia or imbecility of the last degree, the lunatic can only be safely and humanely treated in an asylum.

RESOLUTION ON THE ADMINISTRATION REPORT OF THE COMMISSIONERS FOR MAKING IMPROVEMENTS IN THE PORT OF CALCUTTA FOR THE YEAR 1887-88.

No. 1252Marine.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

RESOLUTION.

Dated Calcutta, the 17th August 1888.

READ—

The Administration Report of the Commissioners for making Improvements in the Port of Calcutta for the year 1887-88.

The Commissioners have deemed it advisable to separate all financial re-returns in connection with the Kidderpore Dock works from those of other and completed works already bringing in revenue. The arrangement is approved, and the accounts of the dock works are therefore excluded in the following remarks on the general debts. The consolidated debt due to Government was reduced during the year under review by Rs. 1,18,504, and a sum of Rs. 1,09,800 was invested on account of the Sinking Fund for the debenture loans. The total debt of the Trust at the close of the year, exclusive of the advances received from the Government for the dock works at Kidderpore, was as follows:—

	Rs.
Consolidated repayable debt due to Government ...	45,24,831
Port Book debt not repayable	17,65,000

Ditto ditto 1886	30,00,000
Total ...	1,22,89,831

2. Against the above debt the assets of the Trust on the 31st March 1888, exclusive of the value of the river frontage lands, which were made over to the Commissioners free of cost, amounted to Rs. 2,13,60,352, thus—

Total ...		2,13,60,352

4. The total income in 1887-88 under Revenue accounts amounted to Rs. 35,65,361 against Rs. 31,67,804 in the year before. The total expenditure, including contributions and sinking fund charges, amounted to Rs. 32,99,415 against Rs. 27,80,763, the expenditure of 1886-87. The year under review therefore closed with a net revenue balance of Rs. 2,65,946. The contributions to Part VII [Port approaches] make the income and expenditure shown against Revenue Rs. 5,85,000 in excess of the actuals, this amount representing those contributions being shown twice on both sides of the account. After making allowance for this, the actual income and expenditure against Revenue was as follows:—

			Rs.
Opening Revenue balance			3,87,040
Income of the year			25,93,321
Total ...			29,80,361
	Rs.
Expenditure—Ordinary	23,36,133
New works	1,64,531
Redemption of debt	2,13,751
		27,14,415
Closing Revenue balance ...			2,65,946

5. Under Capital account the expenditure amounted to Rs. 6,03,251. This expenditure included a sum of Rs 50,365 paid by the Commissioners as a contribution towards removing the municipal pumping station from Chandpal Ghât, thus rendering the frontage at that place available for passenger traffic. It was stated in paragraph 3 of the Resolution on the Administration Report of the Commissioners for 1886-87 that the new Tea Warehouse had been completed. This was, however, not the case, and during the year under review a further expenditure of Rs. 2,06,661 was incurred in completing the work. At the Petroleum Wharf at Budge-Budge a sum of Rs. 46,701 was spent for providing better protection for the oil cargoes stored there. A sum of Rs. 2,37,121 was expended on a new light-vessel.

6. The advances which the Commissioners received from the Public Treasury for the dock works at Kidderpore amounted to Rs 84,00,000, and the total expenditure incurred on these works up to the 31st March 1888 amounted to Rs. 84,58,536. The works have been inspected quarterly by two Engineers appointed by the Government, whose reports show that they have progressed satisfactorily. The inspecting officers have on each occasion reported that the quality of the work is all that can be desired.

7. The income from Jetties was Rs. 10,52,440 against Rs. 9,18,855 in 1886-87. The excess revenue was mainly derived from the loading and unloading of vessels at the Petroleum Wharf at Budge-Budge, which was worked throughout the whole of the year, against only eight months in the year before, and from the Tea Warehouse which was worked during eight months of the year. The expenditure was Rs. 48,319 in excess of that of the previous year. The increase was principally due to working expenses and to increased provision on account of interest and sinking fund on the borrowed capital to complete the Tea Warehouse and the Petroleum Wharf, the whole of which was taken up in the year before. The net revenue of the year amounted to Rs. 3,76,641 against Rs. 2,91,375 in 1886-87.

8. The Inland Vessels' Wharves yielded an income of Rs 40,720 over that of the previous year. The tolls and the rent and other charges for the use of the wharves contributed mainly to the increase. The full amount of the last Debenture Loan having been taken up, the charges on account of interest and sinking fund raised the expenditure by Rs. 11,803, but notwithstanding this increase the year closed with a net revenue of Rs. 1,87,263 against Rs. 1,55,098 in the previous year.

9. The receipts and charges on account of the Strand Bank lands amounted, respectively, to Rs 1,83,931 and Rs. 94,959 against Rs. 1,71,450 and Rs. 1,05,778 in the year before. The amount of rent collected was larger than that of any previous year, and the net revenue exceeded that of 1886-87 by Rs. 23,300.

10. The earnings of the Harbour Masters' Department fell off by Rs. 23,536 compared with the figures of the previous year. The decrease, which was chiefly under the head of mooring fees, was nominal, inasmuch as the revenue derived from this source in 1886-87 was considerably enhanced by the adjustment during that year of the accounts of a large number of vessels which had entered the port in the year before. The expenditure amounted to Rs. 5,00,743, or Rs. 1,608 less than that of the previous year. The net revenue was Rs. 72,958.

11. The statistical returns relating to the shipping of the port show that the tonnage was larger than in any preceding year. The tendency to transfer the trade from sailing vessels to steamers, and to employ vessels of larger tonnage, still continues. It is observed that the statistics are sufficient for the purpose of watching the development of the trade of Calcutta, but they cannot be used for drawing comparisons between the shipping of Calcutta and that of any other port, or between their relative trade. At Calcutta the statistics take account only of seagoing vessels taken up or down by pilots. They take no account of the immense trade which is carried on in other vessels both steam and sailing, and the Lieutenant-Governor agrees with the Commissioners in thinking that if comparisons are to be drawn between the trade of different ports, it is necessary to make a careful analysis of the returns in order to arrive at the true results.

12. Ten casualties happened to vessels in charge of Assistant Harbour Masters, one only of which resulted in damage to the vessel. Three cases of fire occurred on board of vessels, and in one of these the cargo was damaged.

13. The moorings were all examined during the year, and the parts found defective were replaced. Three new moorings were laid. Owing to the increased length of the vessels visiting the Port, and the increased space required for landing stages and hauling-out spaces, 16 of the smaller berths had to be abandoned and the moorings weighed: three of them have been relaid in greater lengths. Three other fixed, and three swinging moorings have also been relaid in greater lengths. The total number of moorings at the close of the year was 225, of which 175 were fixed and 50 swinging. The dredger was at work for 153 days and excavated 2,752,500 cubic feet at a net cost of Rs. 22,908.

14. The number of vessels of all description surveyed was 355, and the total number of visits paid to them was 883. In the course of the enquiry into the loss of the S. S. Sir John Lawrence during the cyclone of the 25th May 1887, the method in which the surveys were conducted was alleged to be "unsatisfactory and in need of speedy reform." A Committee was thereupon appointed by the Commissioners to make a thorough investigation into the matter, and they reported that the charge was not only untenable, but that the surveys executed were thorough and satisfactory. The Lieutenant-Governor is glad to be able to accept this report.

15. The provisions of Acts VI and VII of 1884, which require the express sanction of Government to the issue of certificates of survey under these Acts, are said to be productive of inconvenience. The question of amending the procedure is now under consideration, and the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that it will be possible to find a satisfactory solution of the difficulties.

16. The number of passenger and cargo-boats surveyed during the year was 1,628 and 6,138, respectively, against 1,661 and 5,861 in 1886-87, and the number of manjees licensed was 9,204 against 8,986 in the preceding year.

17. The management of the Port Commissioners' tramway line, which was taken over by that body on the 1st April 1887, from the Eastern Bengal State Railway, was very satisfactory. The income, which amounted to Rs. 2,85,912, exceeded that of 1886-87 by Rs. 1,15,761, and was higher than that of any previous year. There was a corresponding increase in the expenditure, which amounted to Rs. 1,77,885, or Rs. 51,236 in excess of the expenditure of the preceding year. This advance was due to the salaries of the station staff, to additional expenditure on account of working expenses, and to the haulage of the additional traffic brought to the line by the opening of the Jubilee Bridge.

18. The income on account of the Port approaches, which consisted principally of a contribution of Rs. 5,85,000 from other parts of the Port Trust accounts, amounted to Rs. 6,00,512, and the expenditure to Rs. 5,92,186, or

Rs. 1,26,905 above that of the previous year. The increase is attributed to extensive repairs to vessels, to a special contribution to the depreciation fund, to meet the cost of the new light vessel referred to in paragraph 12 of the Resolution on the Administration Report of the Commissioners for 1886-87, and to the replacement of anchors, cables, hawsers, buoys and moorings lost in the cyclone of the 25th May 1887, an interesting account of which is given in the report.

19. The Saugor Sands and the Eastern Sea Reef have extended one mile to the southward since the survey of 1880, but there has been no alteration in the general features of the Eastern Channel. The Gaspar channel has improved, there being 21 feet now on the bar against 20 feet last year. The Eden Channel continued unaltered until November 1887, when, on account of the extension of the Eastern Sands and of a small lump, the former tracks had to be given up and more westerly ones adopted. The junction of the Eastern and the Western Sands at the middle of March made matters worse, and since then the channel has had to be kept under observation daily, the buoys being moved as required. The bar to the eastward of the Eastern Auckland and Eden buoys is expected to be cut through, and a new channel will then be opened out. The state of the bar is such as to cause anxiety, but the Lieutenant-Governor is confident that the Commissioners will do all that is possible to cope with the difficulties as they arise.

20. The navigable channels between Saugor and Diamond Harbour, the Eastern Channel, Channel Creek and the Brace Head Channel, were surveyed during the year, and several minor surveys were also made. The light-houses were kept in good condition. The Long Sand Light-ship, which broke adrift in the cyclone of the 25th May 1887, was replaced by the pilot brig Coleroon and later on by the Foam, and the Eastern Channel Light-ship, which was blown off the station, was towed back and placed in position. The refuge-houses were repaired and re-provisioned during the year.

21. The obstruction caused to navigation by the James and Mary shoal continues unabated. Three vessels of the British India Steam Navigation Company grounded on it. Two of them were lost, but the other was successfully floated off. There is a feeling among agents of steam-ships and others interested in the trade of the port, that the obstruction may to a certain extent be diminished by dredging or raking the shoal. With this object experiments were made some years ago, and information as to their nature and the results obtained has recently been placed at the disposal of the Conference of representatives of steam-ship owners. Those results were not such as to encourage hope of improvement being effected by such means, but the Lieutenant-Governor will be glad to learn whether the Commissioners propose to take any further steps in this matter.

22. The question of providing increased telegraphic facilities for the shipping was considered, but the Government of India was unable to entertain the scheme. The number of issues of the Telegraph Gazette has been increased since the beginning of the past year.

23. The question of railway communication between Calcutta and the Petroleum Wharf at Budge-Budge has now advanced to its final stage, and the Lieutenant-Governor in sending the estimates to the Government of India has urged upon that Government the expediency of putting the works in hand at once.

24. The working of the Port Trust is now regulated by nine different Acts. This has been productive of much inconvenience, and a Bill consolidating them has been prepared for introduction in the next session of the Bengal Council.

25. An admirable chart of the river Hooghly from Calcutta to Saugor Roads has been compiled by Lieutenant Petley, R.N., Deputy Conservator of the Port, from the latest surveys made up to the 31st March 1888. It shows on an enlarged scale the various anchorages, the new Docks at Kidderpore, and the Petroleum Wharf at Budge-Budge.

26. The thanks of Government are due to the Commissioners for their successful management of the affairs of the Trust during the year.

RESOLUTION ON THE REPORT ON THE ADMINISTRATION OF THE PORT OF CHITTAGONG FOR 1887-88.

No. 1261 Marine.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL—PUBLIC WORKS DEPARTMENT.

RESOLUTION.

Dated Calcutta, the 17th August 1888.

READ—

The Report on the Administration of the Port of Chittagong for 1887-88.

The trade of the Port of Chittagong has improved, and the Lieutenant-Governor notices with satisfaction that the rice trade, a somewhat fluctuating one, which fell off considerably in 1886-87, had again increased during the year under review, and in quantity nearly reached the figures of 1885-86, though the value was nearly 9 lakhs less. The jute trade has increased largely both in quantity and value, and appears now to be firmly established.

2. The following statement shows the number and tonnage of vessels which visited the port during the past two years:—

	1886-87.		1887-88.		Increase.		Decrease.
	Number.	Tonnage.	Number.	Tonnage.	Number.	Tonnage.	Number.	Tonnage.

Total	2,416	259,148	2,610	275,761	194	16,613

3. The rise in the number and tonnage of vessels trading with Foreign ports was due to the increased exportation of jute and grain. Increased importation of jute accounts for the rise in the trade with Naraingunge.

4. The following statement gives the statistics of the principal articles of export and import during the past two years:—

	1886-87.		1887-88.		Increase in 1887-88.		Decrease in 1887-88.

Mineral oil	727,277	2,70,980	1,193,724	5,26,543	390,447	35,563

5. As already mentioned, there was a satisfactory increase in the rice trade. The exports, however, are not equal to those of 1885-86, but a very large quantity of rice has been exported since the close of the year, and it was anticipated that the season's exports would equal if they did not exceed those of that year.

6. The jute trade, which had declined both in quantity and value between 1882-83 and 1885-86, took a great spring forward in 1886-87 from 979,020 cwt. to 1,302,443 cwt., the value advancing from Rs. 54,70,413 to Rs. 81,71,095; the increments being 33 and 49 per cent. respectively. In 1887-88 there was a further satisfactory advance of nearly 9 per cent. in quantity and more than 20 per cent. in value.

7. The increase in the quantity of mineral oil is very large, and exceeds even the imports of 1884-85, the largest in any year up to date, though the increase in the value is comparatively small: the Commissioner of Chittagong ascribes this to the inferiority in quality; it is probably, however, due in a great measure to reduction in price.

8. The receipts of the Port and Pilotage Funds amounted, respectively, to Rs. 56,469 and Rs. 16,235, against Rs. 51,363 and Rs. 13,327 in the previous year. Port dues, mooring fees, and receipts on account of water-supply, mainly contributed to the increase in the receipts of the Port Fund.

9. The Port Fund and the pilotage charges amounted, respectively, to Rs. 52,147 and Rs. 15,514, against Rs. 28,110 and Rs. 16,333 in 1886-87. The Port Fund charges thus exceeded those of the previous year by Rs. 24,037. The rise was mainly under the head of Dockyard, Miscellaneous, and Public Works charges. The first was owing to the adjustment during the year of the cost of swinging moorings supplied to the Port in 1886: the second to the expenses of laying them being similarly adjusted in the current year; and the last to the excavation of the Moheskhally canal, which was transferred to the Port in January 1888. The decreases were chiefly on account of contingencies for vessels and boats, light-house stores, and repairs.

10. The Port and the Pilotage Funds were expected to close on the 31st March 1888 with a credit balance of Rs. 71,406 and Rs. 1,487, respectively, against Rs. 71,086 and Rs. 994, the closing balances of the previous year. These figures, however, are liable to correction, as the accounts of the year have not yet been adjusted with the Accountant-General, Bengal.

11. Two vessels aggregating 221·5 tons were built during the year, against two of 217 tons in the year before. Jute-shippers have raised the freight from Naraingunge to Chittagong from 12 annas to Re. 1 a bale. It remains to be seen whether the higher rate will bring about an increase of the number of vessels engaged in the trade.

12. The jetty was kept in good order, and arrangements have been made for lighting the staircases. The depth of water at the head of the jetty at low tide, which increased in 1886-87 from 14 to 16 feet, was only 15 feet during the year under review. The moorings and buoys were kept in good condition.

13. The Kutubdia Light-house and the Norman's Point beacons were in good order. The question of improving the lighting of the approaches to the port is still under consideration.

14. There were five wrecks during the year. The ship Earl of Jersey was lost shortly after leaving the port through the incompetency of her master. The barque Haddington was lost by fire, the cause of which could not be discovered. The other three vessels were lost in the Megna, two being stranded and one taking fire. They were of small tonnage.

15. A Port Trust was, as stated in paragraph 11 of the Resolution on the Administration Report of the Port for 1886-87, constituted during the year, but the Act not having been brought into operation, the Trust had no legal status, and the appointments and elections were subsequently cancelled. The law came into force from the 25th of April 1888, and since the close of the year a Trust has been lawfully established.

16. The health of the Port was good, and there was no epidemic disease throughout the year.

REPORT ON THE STATE OF THE SALT MARKET FOR THE FIRST QUARTER OF 1888-89.

No. 649B, dated Calcutta, the 15th August 1888.

From—K. G. GUPTA, Esq., Offg Secy. to the Board of Revenue, L.P.,
To—The Secretary to the Government of Bengal, Financial Department.

SALT.

F. M. HALLIDAY, ESQ.

I AM directed by the Board of Revenue to submit the following report on the state of the salt market for the first quarter of 1888-89, comprising the months of April, May, and June 1888.

2. The quantity of salt of every description cleared during the quarter under report amounted to 27,71,718 maunds 22 seers 4 chittacks, against 22,01,094 maunds 7 chittacks in the previous quarter, and 25,84,676 maunds 8 seers 12 chittacks in the corresponding quarter of the previous year; and the net amount of duty levied thereon was Rs. 60,81,419-2, against Rs. 42,45,508-4-0 in the previous quarter, and Rs. 49,02,270 in the corresponding quarter of the previous year.

3. The quantity of excise salt sold in Orissa during the quarter under review and the quantity which remained in store at the close of the quarter are shown in table I. The form of this table has been altered, as the returns submitted to the Board by the Commissioner of Salt Revenue, Madras, do not give details of each year's manufacture. The opening balance shown in the table below will not agree with the closing balance shown in table I of the last quarter's report. The difference is under reconciliation:—

TABLE I.

	Cuttack.	Pooree.	Balasore.

Total ...	629 30 0	25,129 25 0	.....
Balance at close of the quarter	3,041 5 0	35,876 35 0	.....

4. The above statement shows that the total sale of excise salt during the quarter under review amounted to 24,998 maunds 10 seers, against 41,745 maunds 15 seers in the previous quarter, and 54,509 maunds 10 seers in the corresponding quarter of the previous year.

5. The subjoined table shows in comparison the importations into the port of Calcutta and the total clearances of sea-imported salt during the quarter under review and the corresponding quarters of the previous two years:—

Explanation.—Summary.—The normal means of air pressure and temperature are the arithmetical average or means of the reading during the same period for the last ten years. The humidity of the atmosphere is expressed as percentage, saturated air being represented by 100. A clear sky is denoted by 0 and an overcast sky by 10. The number in the numerical means or average of the rainfall in that district determined from the returns sent in by the sub-divisional station for the period in question during the past 13 stations in the district schedu g in returns divided by the number of stations. A rainy day is one on which at least hundredth of an inch fell.

* Means for six days.

CALCUTTA, the 21st August 1888.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE WEEK ENDING FRIDAY, THE 17TH OF AUGUST 1888.

At the close of the previous week a feeble depression, which had for some days existed in the north-west angle of the Bay, had passed through South-West Bengal into Chutia Nagpur, and was rapidly passing away from the province. On Friday, the 10th, therefore ordinary monsoon conditions obtained in Bengal, and conditions were favourable for general rainfall. On the 11th, or the first day of the week under review, a very rapid fall of pressure took place in South-West Bengal, and another small depression was formed, the centre of which was between Saugor Island and Calcutta, the small storm being accompanied by a very distinct cyclonic circulation of winds. On the 12th the small storm had disappeared, though there was on this day a tendency to the formation of a low-pressure area, accompanied by slight circulation of winds, over the eastern part of South Behar. Conditions remained practically unaltered on the 13th, but on the 14th a rapid increase took place in the strength of the westerly component in the wind directions, and the easterly and south-easterly winds which were previously blowing were replaced by westerly and south-westerly winds in all districts except the extreme east and north of the province. A very rapid increase of pressure also took place in the western and south-western districts, and the area of minimum pressure was transferred to the southern districts of North Bengal, where also there existed a marked tendency to the setting up of a cyclonic circulation of winds By the morning of the 15th a distinct barometric depression had formed, accompanied by a fairly complete cyclonic circulation of winds, the centre of the depression being to the south-east of Bhagulpore. On the 16th the depression had moved slowly in a westerly direction, and the centre was to the south or south-south-west of Bhagulpore, and on the 17th it had again moved in a westerly direction, and was lying over the western part of Behar and part of Chutia Nagpur, the centre being not very far from Gya and Hazaribagh, and slightly to the north or north-north-east of the latter station. Later on the depression passed out of the province in a westerly direction, but its further history will be described in the meteorology of the succeeding week.

Conditions, it will therefore be seen, have been particularly favourable for general and heavy rainfall throughout the week. With the formation of the first depression in South-West Bengal on the 11th, very heavy rain was brought to the stations in this area, and thus on this day Diamond Harbour received 4·38 inches, Kukrahaty (Midnapore district) 3·41 inches, Palamow 2·47 inches, and Tumlook (Midnapore district) 2·30 inches; while falls of from one to two inches were very general. For the following few days fairly general and moderately heavy rain continued to fall, but with the setting in of westerly winds, and the consequent interaction with the easterly winds previously blowing, and with the formation of the depression on the 15th, conditions again became particularly favourable for heavy rainfall. Thus on the 15th the following excessive falls were reported:—Rampore Haut 9·88 inches, Lalgola 7·52 inches, Meherpur 6·30 inches, Nya Doomka 6·07 inches, Beerbhoom Soory 5·64 inches, Moheereka 5·50 inches Alipore 5·15 inches, and Jungipore 5·04 inches; while falls in excess of two, three and four inches were very common. On the 14th also Kishnaghur reported 6·78 inches, Rungamati 7·05 inches, and Chittagong 5·96 inches. With the gradual movement of the depression in a westerly direction, the area of heavy rainfall also shifted in the same manner, and on the 17th particularly heavy rain was received in South Behar and Chutia Nagpur; and thus on this day Gya reported 6·29 inches, Dehree 4·83 inches, Daudnagar 4·50 inches, Bhubooah 3·65 inches, Aurungabad 3·63 inches, Arwal 3·48 inches, and Nowadah 3·46 inches; while in other districts Patuakhally received 5·18 inches, Cox's Bazar 3·75 inches, and Kishnaghur 3·69 inches, and falls exceeding two inches were numerous. For the whole week, therefore, rainfall has been particularly heavy, and the falls have been largely in excess of the normal in all districts except Orissa and North Behar.

Pressure.—The variations of pressure during the week have already been alluded to in the description of the formation of the two depressions. For the whole week the mean pressure has been below the normal by 0·056 inch, but the largest defects have been shown at the central and western stations, and thus Berhampore reports a defect of 0·078 inch, Burdwan one of 0·071 inch, and Gya one of 0·084 inch In Assam pressure has been below the normal by an average amount of 0·066 inch, though the largest defect is at Dhubri, where it equals 0·092 inch Temperature.—The variations from normal temperature, as a rule, have not been very large; the mean temperature has been in excess by a few tenths of a degree in Behar, North Bengal and Orissa; while it has been in defect by amounts varying up to about one degree in East and South-West Bengal and Chutia Nagpur. For the whole province for the week the mean temperature has been in defect of the normal by 0·2°. In Assam, on the other hand, there has been a general excess of 0·3°.

Rainfall.—As previously stated, rainfall has been very heavy during the week. East Bengal has received an average fall of between eight and nine inches, or nearly five inches in excess of the normal. South-West Bengal has received an average fall of 6·28 inches, or nearly three and-a-half inches in excess of the usual quantity. In Chutia Nagpur an average fall of 7·30 inches has been reported, or nearly five inches in excess of the normal. South Behar has averaged 5·91 inches, or more than three and a-half inches in excess of the normal; while in North Bengal the falls have averaged nearly five inches, or about two inches more than usual. In North Behar an average fall of 2·55 inches is reported, which is almost the normal amount, but in Orissa the fall has only averaged 1·80 inches, which is about 30 per cent. less than the normal.

As instances of the very large falls which have been recorded in the week, it may be stated that Rungamati has received 18·98 inches, Rampore Haut 17·78 inches, Cox's Bazar 16·71 inches, Patuakhally 16·01 inches, Fenny 15·4 inches, Comillah 13·19 inches, Kishnaghur 13·17 inches, and Gya 12·86 inches; while falls in excess of ten inches have been reported at Diamond Harbour, Canning Town, Kukrahaty, Chooadanga, Bagirhat, Bhola, and Nya Doomka.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the week ending Friday, the 17th of August 1888:—

The mean pressure, temperature, &c., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified, and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected approximately to those of the standard Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV, and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground.

* A special census of the Europeans in the Darjiling Municipality was recently taken, as the census of this section of the community, taken in February 1881, was not reliable owing to the Europeans being at a minimum in that month. The number of the natives remains as before, as it was not necessary to re-census these. The ratios have consequently been calculated on the revised population under all heads in the above table, except "Age," the ratios under which have been omitted, inasmuch as the census of the Europeans above alluded to cannot be employed as a basis of calculation owing to the results of the census under this head not having been recorded under the authorized form of age classification.

J. WARE EDGAR,

NOTIFICATION.

The 27th August 1888.—The following rules regarding the procedure to be adopted in cases of criminal prosecutions brought against officers for acts arising out of the performance of their public duties are issued in supersession of those contained in Government orders Nos. 5112-22 of 1st September 1869, and Circulars No 38 of 7th July 1879, and No. 43 of 14th August 1879:—

1. When a prosecution against an officer of Government is instituted by a public servant, the officer charged will be left to defend himself, but Government will defray his reasonable costs in the event of his being acquitted and it being shown that his conduct throughout had been free from all blame. If, though acquitted of the offence charged, his conduct should appear not to be free from blame, he will receive only such portion, if any, of the cost incurred by him as may seem fitting to the Government.

2. When an action or prosecution is instituted by a private person against a public servant for acts done in the discharge of his public duty, the officer concerned should communicate the facts to his official superior, reporting all circumstances which may be necessary to enable such superior officer and the Government to arrive at a decision on the merits of the case. In cases of importance where a reference will not involve serious delay, such facts should be reported immediately to Government for orders. Should the Government decide to undertake the defence of the case, the Government Pleader will be instructed to appear, otherwise the officer charged will be left to make his own arrangements. In (a) unimportant cases, and (b) cases of urgency where reference to Government would involve serious delay, District Officers and Heads of Departments should use their own discretion regarding the measures to be taken.

3. Where no appearance is entered on behalf of Government and the action is dismissed, or the accused discharged or acquitted, the case will be dealt with as is provided under rule 1, allowance being made for the expenses (if any) realizable under the order of Court.

4. It is to be distinctly understood that charges, the payment of which may be applied for under these rules, must be moderate, and that the Government does not bind itself to pay unnecessary expenses which the officer concerned may choose to incur. In petty cases an appearance in person will be often quite sufficient, and where this is so the employment of a pleader is superfluous. In the same way requests for the payment of Counsel will be entertained only under very exceptional circumstances.

Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

Signals for the Port of Chittagong.—The following storm-signals will be used within the limits of the Port of Chittagong to give notice to the shipping and general public of the early approach of a cyclone with its attendant storm-wave. They will be hoisted on the flagstaff at the Sudder ghât and on the yardarm of the flagstaff at Jooldia on the receipt of instructions from the Meteorological Office :—

1. Day warning signal.

A ball indicates that a cyclone, of which the centre is in the north-east of the Bay, is advancing towards the mouth of the river Karnafuli, and will probably advance towards Chittagong.

2. Day danger signal.

A drum indicates that a cyclone, which may or may not be accompanied by a destructive storm-wave, is approaching Chittagong. (It should be remembered that the force and destructive effect of a storm-wave will depend very considerably upon the state of the tides at the time when the storm centre strikes the Chittagong coast)

Three lights in a vertical line indicate that a cyclone, of which the centre is in the north-east angle of the Bay, is advancing towards the mouth of the river, and will probably advance towards Chittagong.

Two lights in a vertical line indicate the early approach of a cyclonic storm to the Port of Chittagong.

No. 2252.—The Governor-General in Council is pleased to publish the following Rules under which certificates of age and nationality will be issued to Natives of India who are candidates for the examinations for the Indian Civil Service held in England.

General Rules applicable to all Candidates.

I.—A candidate for admission to compete in England for the Indian Civil Service is required before leaving India to obtain a certificate of age and nationality, signed, should he be a resident in British India, by the Secretary to Government of the Province or the Commissioner of the Division within which his family resides: or, should he reside in a Native State, by the highest Political Officer accredited to the State in which his family resides.

Note.—In the case of a candidate who has proceeded to England without obtaining a certificate, the certificate may be granted to his father or guardian, provided that the latter produces the requisite evidence, and, when making the application, states when the candidate went to England, and where he has been residing during his stay in that country.

II.—In order to obtain a certificate a candidate is required, if resident in British India, to prove the date and place of his birth before the Magistrate of the district in which his family resides, or, if resident in a Native State, before the Political Officer of the State in which his family resides.

III.—A candidate must, if resident in British India, signify to the Secretary to Government of the Province or the Commissioner of the Division in which his family resides his desire to compete not less than three months before the date on which he proposes to go to England. If resident within a Native State, he must signify his desire in like manner to the highest Political Officer accredited to the State within which his family resides. The Officer to whom the application is made shall forward it for the purpose of enquiry to the Magistrate of the District or Political Officer of the State in which the applicant's family resides.

IV.—The Magistrate or Political Officer to whom such application has been forwarded shall call upon the candidate to appear and give evidence of the date and place of his birth and of his nationality within one month. He will carefully examine into the value of the evidence given, and forward a summary of it, with certified copies of all documents tendered and his comments and opinion, to the officer who forwarded the application to him for enquiry.

V.—The documentary evidence which a candidate may be expected to produce comprises—

(a) The horoscope.
(b) Family books.
(c) Tradesmen's account books showing entries relating to the birth.
(d) The record of admission in the registers of the school in which the candidate was educated, and the record of the candidate's age at various periodical school examinations.

Oral testimony of persons acquainted with the candidate's family, or otherwise able to give relevant evidence, will also be taken; and the candidate is required to comply, to the best of his power, with any requisition the Magistrate or Political Officer, as the case may be, may make in order to clear up any doubt as to the purport of the documentary proof.

VI.—Any declaration of age made after the application of these rules on the occasion of seeking admission to any university examination, educational institution, or Government office or otherwise recorded in a formal and deliberate manner, will be taken as conclusive evidence in disproof of the subsequent assertion by the same person that he is of different age to that so declared or recorded.

Rules to apply to Candidates born in Her Majesty's Dominions.

VII.—If the Secretary to Government, Commissioner of a Division, or the highest Political Officer accredited to the State, as the case may be, shall be satisfied by the papers submitted that the candidate has stated the date and place of his birth correctly, he will issue a certificate declaring that the candidate has submitted the proofs of his birth to the Magistrate of the district or the Political Officer of the State, as the case may be, and has satisfied him that he was actually born on or about the date stated by him, viz., the day of 18 , at , a place within Her Majesty's Dominions. I hereby certify that , who is a candidate for the Indian Civil Service has submitted the proofs of his birth, and has satisfactorily shown that he was actually born on or about the date stated, viz., the day of 18 , at , a place within Her Majesty's Dominions.

VIII.—In the Secretary to Government, Commissioner of a Division, or the highest Political Officer accredited to the State, as the case may be, finds reason to disbelieve that the candidate was born on the day or at the place asserted by him, the certificate will be refused, and the candidate will be unable to obtain admission to the competitive examination for the Indian Civil Service.

IX.—Where the date and place of birth have been formally registered in a register kept by any public officer in British India, an extract from the register, duly certified by the proper official, shall be accepted as sufficient proof of the date and place of the birth.

X.—In addition to the particulars required by Rule II, a candidate not born in Her Majesty's Dominions must also prove that he is the son or grandson of a person born in those dominions.

XI.—If the Secretary to Government, Commissioner of a Division, or the highest Political Officer accredited to the State, as the case may be, shall be satisfied by the papers submitted that the candidate has stated the date and place of his birth correctly, and has established the fact that, though born without the limits of Her Majesty's Dominions, he is the son or grandson of a person born in those dominions, he will issue a certficate in the following form :—
